Meditating Death in Medieval and Early Modern Devotional Writing Mark Chinca, 2020-06-11 The monograph series Oxford Studies in Medieval Literature and Culture showcases the plurilingual and multicultural quality of medieval literature and actively seeks to promote research that not only focuses on the array of subjects medievalists now pursue in literature theology and philosophy in social political jurisprudential and intellectual history the history of art and the history of science but also that combines these subjects productively It offers innovative studies on topics that may include but are not limited to manuscript and book history languages and literatures of the global Middle Ages race and the post colonial the digital humanities media and performance music medicine the history of affect and the emotions the literature and practices of devotion the theory and history of gender and sexuality ecocriticism and the environment theories of aesthetics medievalism Meditating about death and the afterlife was one of the most important techniques that Christian societies in medieval and early modern Europe had at their disposal for developing a sense of individual selfhood Believers who regularly and systematically reflected on the inevitability of death and the certainty of eternal punishment in hell or reward in heaven would acquire an understanding of themselves as unique persons defined by their moral actions they would also learn to discipline themselves by feeling remorse for their sins doing penance and cultivating a permanent vigilance over their future thoughts and deeds This book covers a crucial period in the formation and transformation of the technique of meditating on death from the thirteenth century when a practice that had mainly been the preserve of a monastic elite began to be more widely disseminated among all segments of Christian society to the sixteenth when the Protestant Reformation transformed the technique of spiritual exercise into a bible based mindfulness that avoided the stigma of works piety It discusses the textual instructions for meditation as well as the theories and beliefs and doctrines that lay behind them the sources are Latin and vernacular and enjoyed widespread circulation in Roman Christian and Protestant Europe during the period under consideration

An Alchemical Quest for Universal Knowledge Georgiana D. Hedesan,2016-04-20 History of science credits the Flemish physician alchemist and philosopher Jan Baptist Van Helmont 1579 1644 for his contributions to the development of chemistry and medicine Yet as this book makes clear focussing on Van Helmont s impact on modern science does not do justice to the complexity of his thought or to his influence on successive generations of intellectuals like Robert Boyle or Gottfried Leibniz Revealing Van Helmont as an original thinker who sought to produce a post Scholastic synthesis of religion and natural philosophy Georgiana Hedesan reconstructs his ambitious quest for universal knowledge as it emerges from the text of the Ortus medicinae 1648 Published after Van Helmont s death by his son the work can best be understood as a compilation of finished and unfinished treatises the historical product of a life unsettled by religious persecution and personal misfortune The present book provides a coherent account of Van Helmont s philosophy by analysing its main tenets Divided into two parts the study opens with a background to Van Helmont s concept of an alchemical Christian philosophy demonstrating that his outlook was deeply grounded in the tradition of medical alchemy as reformed by Theophrastus von Hohenheim called Paracelsus 1493 1541 It then reconstitutes Van Helmont s biography while giving a historical dimension to his intellectual output The second part reconstructs Van Helmont s Christian philosophy investigating his views on God nature and man as well as his applied philosophy Hedesan also provides an account of the development of Van Helmont s thought throughout his life The conclusion sums up Van Helmont s intellectual achievement and highlights avenues of future research

Preparing for Death, Remembering the Dead Tarald Rasmussen,Jon Øygarden Flæten,2015-04-22 Death and dying were not in the main focus of the denominational conflicts of the 16th century However pious literature covered these topics again and again not only before the Reformation but after it as well Here certain denominational differences are clearly visible. Partly these differences consist in the use of genres. For example, funeral sermons are an often used genre among Lutherans while they are much rarer in the Reformed tradition. Similar differences can be observed concerning epitaphs. In Roman Catholic areas, funeral sermons and epitaphs are common in the 16th century too, but their religious function is often different from the one in Lutheranism. Beyond such interdenominational differences, there are also interesting continuities and connections which the contributors of the volume analyze. For example, there is a certain continuity between 16th century Lutheran funeral sermons and the late medieval tradition of ars moriendi. The volume contains papers presented at the Second RefoRC Conference in Oslo in 2012 and is characterized by a multiconfessional and multidisciplinary approach with contributions from Church History, Art History, Archaeology, History of Literature and Cultural History. Within a field of research dominated by specialized contributions, e.g. on ars moriendi traditions or on specific traditions of funeral monuments and funeral sermons, the broad approach of this volume may further stimulate comparative and cross-confessional reflection.

Martin Luther As Comforter Neil R LeRoux, 2007. Using meticulous rhetorical analysis of several important Luther texts, this book examines how he offers comfort to those who are facing their own death or who are coming to terms with the death of loved ones.

A Literary History of the Low Countries Theo Hermans, 2009. What was the written culture behind visual artists like Vermeer, Rembrandt and Rubens? What made the historical novel in nineteenth century Flanders so different from its counterpart in Holland? What was the literary impact of the huge colonial empires run by the Netherlands and Belgium? What role did Latin, French and Frisian play in the literary culture of the Low Countries through the ages? Why is experimental writing so prevalent in modern Dutch literature? What has made Cees Nooteboom an internationally acclaimed author? And how does Flemish relate to Dutch anyway? This first literary history of the Netherlands and Flanders in English since the 1970s answers these and many other questions. Written by a team of Dutch and Flemish subject specialists, it offers a comprehensive and authoritative account of the literature of the Dutch speaking area from the medieval period up to the present day. While it focuses on literature written in Dutch, it also assesses the significance of writings in French, Latin and Frisian.

A Companion to Pastoral Care in the Late Middle Ages \(1200-1500\) Ronald Stansbury, 2010-05-31. The study of pastoral care in the middle ages has seen a resurgence in recent years. Scholars are now approaching this subject less from their respective ecclesiastical or parochial biases and more out of an effort to understand the significant role pastors, secular and religious, had in the shaping of medieval society at large. This book explores some of the new ways scholars are approaching this topic. Using a variety of sources and disciplinary angles, theology, preaching, catechesis, confessional literature, visitation records, monastic cartularies and the like, these studies show the many and varied ways in which pastoral care came to play such an important role in the day to day lives of medieval people. Contributors include C. Colt Anderson, Michelle Armstrong Partida, Beth Allison Barr, Sabrina Corbellini, Alexandra da Costa, Laura Michele Diener, William Dohar, James Ginther, Joe Goering, Ann M. Hutchison, Greg Peters, C. Matthew Phillips.

Andrew Reeves Ronald J Stansbury Susan M B Steuer Mathilde van Dijk and Anne T Thayer Devotional Portraiture and Spiritual Experience in Early Netherlandish Painting Ingrid Falque, 2019-09-16 In Devotional Portraiture and Spiritual Experience Ingrid Falque analyses the meditative functions of early Netherlandish paintings including devotional portraits that is portraits of people kneeling in prayer Such paintings have been mainly studied in the context of commemorative and social practices but as Ingrid Falque shows they also served as devotional instruments By drawing parallels between the visual strategies of these paintings and texts of the major spiritual writers of the medieval Low Countries she demonstrates that paintings with devotional portraits functioned as a visualisation of the spiritual process of the sitters The book is accompanied by the first exhaustive catalogue of paintings with devotional portraits produced in the Low Countries between c 1400 and 1550 This catalogue is available at no costs in e format HERE and can also be purchased as a printed hardcover book HERE

Promissory Notes on the Treasury of Merits Robert Swanson, 2018-11-12 Promissory Notes on the Treasury of Merits is a volume of 12 essays by a distinguished team of international scholars dealing with the place of indulgences in the religious life of Europe between roughly 1250 and the outbreak of the Reformation Some of the articles offer regional analyses stretching from Spain to the Netherlands from England to Bohemia and Italy Others deal with the theology and theological and practical controversies provoked by indulgences or with thematic issues like the place of indulgences in fifteenth century crusades in pilgrimage and the early exploitation of print in their distribution The complementary nature of the articles builds into a fuller picture of the central but hitherto neglected role which indulgences had in late medieval European religious life
