An American Provence Thomas P. Huber,2011-12-01 I have talked about luscious wines and succulent fruit and exquisite dinners But there may be no more evocative experience of the two valleys than the smell of new mown hay in the fields at dusk If a person were to close their eyes they could not tell if they were in Provence or the North Fork Valley That sweet earthy odor is part of the beauty of these places From An American Provence In this poetic personal narrative Thomas P Huber reflects on two seemingly unrelated places the North Fork Valley in western Colorado and the Coulon River Valley in Provence France and finds a shared landscape and sense of place What began as a simple comparison of two like places in distant locations turned into a more complex interesting and personal task Much is similar the light the valleys the climate the agriculture And much is less so the history the geology the physical makeup of villages Using a geographer s eye and passion for the land and people Huber examines the regions similarities and differences to explore the common emotional impact of each region Part intimate travelogue and part case study of geography in the real world An American Provence illuminates the importance sense of place plays in who we are
