Last Outpost on the Zulu Frontiers Graham Dominy, 2016-04-15 Small and isolated in the Colony of Natal Fort Napier was long treated like a temporary outpost of the expanding British Empire Yet British troops manned this South African garrison for over seventy years Tasked with protecting colonists the fort became even more significant as an influence on and reference point for settler society Graham Dominy's Last Outpost on the Zulu Frontier reveals the unexamined but pivotal role of Fort Napier in the peacetime public dramas of the colony Its triumphalist colonial themed pageantry belied colonists' worries about their own vulnerability As Dominy shows the cultural political and economic methods used by the garrison compensated for this perceived weakness Settler elites married their daughters to soldiers to create and preserve an English speaking oligarchy At the same time garrison troops formed the backbone of a consumer market that allowed colonists to form banking and property interests that consolidated their control

Visions for Racial Equality Harri Englund, 2022-02-17 A rich and innovative look at the rise and demise of a unique vision for racial equality in nineteenth century Africa

The Nightwatchman Hlonipha Mokoena, 2025-08 The Nightwatchman Essays on Portraiture and the Black Male Figure in Colonial South Africa brings into focus the African policeman as a subject of portraiture While colonial governments co-opted and conscripted Africans into military and policing services it was after the Zulu defeat of the English in the battle of Isandlwana that a genre of photography developed around images of the Zulu warrior and Zulu policeman In this illustrated book Hlonipha Mokoena extends the literature on colonial ethnographic photography by creating a narrative of nightwatchman portraiture from the rich archive of images Although the origins of this genre lay in the representation of Fingoes amaMfengu during the frontier wars she argues that an ethnological spectacle of the Zulu male body was inaugurated after the last Zulu king Cetshwayo was photographed as a posing subject While much research has focussed on the African man employed in emasculating labour or as a functionary of settler power this book shifts debates about how the body moves in history Placed in uniform the male subject becomes aestheticised and admired Mokoena focuses less on the idiosyncrasies of the uniform than on the sartorial selection processes and co-optation of colonial aesthetic culture that constructed the idea of the Nonqgqayi or nightwatchman as a fully formed photographic presence The beauty captured in these images upends conceptions of colonial photography as a tool of oppression In its focus on the figure of the black and brown fighting man The Nightwatchman offers an innovative work on the history of portraiture and dress in colonial South Africa Incorporating insights from African history art history anthropology and critical theory it offers new insights about the use of men of colour in colonial warfare and new avenues for the interpretation of visual representations of the black male figure Shaping Natural History and Settler Society Tanja Hammel,2019-08-23 This book explores the life and work of Mary Elizabeth Barber a British born settler scientist who lived in the Cape during the nineteenth century It provides a lens into a range of subjects within the history of knowledge and science gender and social history postcolonial critical heritage and archival studies The book examines the international importance of the life and works of a marginalized scientist the instrumentalisation of science to settlers political concerns and reveals the pivotal but largely silenced contribution of indigenous African experts Including a variety of material visual and textual sources this study explores how these artefacts are archived and displayed in museums and critically analyses their content and silences The book traces Barber s legacy across three continents in collections and archives offering insights into the politics of memory and history making At the same time it forges a nuanced argument incorporating study of the North and South the history of science and social history and the past and the present Leaving The Fold Edward T. Babinski,2003-06-30 This riveting new collection offers testimonies of former fundamentalists who became disillusioned with their churches and left Presenting more than two dozen personal journeys this book gives a clear picture of what attracts a person to the fundamentalist faith and what can drive believers away from their religion Photos throughout Race in a Godless World Nathan G. Alexander,2019-09-16 Is modern racism a product of secularisation and the decline of Christian universalism The debate has raged for decades but up to now the actual racial views of historical atheists and freethinkers have never been subjected to a systematic analysis Race in a Godless World sets out to correct the oversight It centres on Britain and the United States in the second half of the nineteenth century a time when popular atheist movements were emerging and scepticism about the truth of Christianity was becoming widespread Covering racial and evolutionary science imperialism slavery and racial prejudice in theory and practice it provides a much needed account of the complex and sometimes contradictory ideas espoused by the transatlantic community of atheists and freethinkers It also reflects on the social dimension of irreligiousness exploring how working class atheists experiences of exclusion could make them sympathetic to other marginalised groups The Making of a Battle Royal Jeffrey Paul Straub,2018-04-17 American Baptists emerged from the Civil War as a divided group Slavery landmarkism and other issues sundered Baptists into regional clusters who held more or less to the same larger doctrinal sentiments As the century progressed influences from Europe further altered the landscape A new way to view the Bible more human less divine began to shape Baptist thought Moreover Darwinian evolutionism altered the way religion was studied Religion like humanity itself was progressing Conservative Baptists proto fundamentalists objected to these alterations Baptist bodies had a new enemy theological liberalism The schools were at the center of the story in the earliest days as professors many of whom studied abroad returned to the United States with progressive ideas that were passed on to their students Soon these ideas were being presented at denominational gatherings or published in denomination papers and books Baptists agitated over the new views with some professors losing their jobs when they strayed too far from historic Baptists commitments By 1920 the Northern Baptists in particular broke out into an all out war over theology that came to be called The Fundamentalist Modernist controversy This is the fifty year history behind that controversy
