Eight discourses William LEE (D.D., Archdeacon of Dublin.), 1857 The Inspiration and Truth of Sacred Scripture, 2014 Formally approved by Pope Francis this present work is the contribution of the Pontifical Biblical Commission toward a more adequate understanding of the concepts of inspiration and truth that respects both the nature of the Bible and its significance for the life of the Church Drawing on a close reading of the Scriptures themselves the document focuses on three main aspects 1 The inspiration of Sacred Scripture and the exploration of its divine provenance 2 The truth of the Word of God emphasizing the message about God and his project of salvation 3 Challenges that arise from the Bible itself on account of certain aspects that seem inconsistent with its quality of being the Word of God

Visscher,2014-10-24 How should the Word of God be interpreted and applied today Does our modern culture affect how we read the Bible Can certain passages be interpreted in different contexts and in different ways all the while acknowledging that God speaks with a clear and consistent voice These are the enduring challenges of hermeneutics In this volume no less than sixteen Reformed scholars from four different countries join together to tackle the hard questions that often arise when we busy ourselves with the weighty responsibility of interpreting Holy Scripture As iron sharpens iron so also these Reformed scholars challenge each other and their readers to ask not only how hermeneutics can be done but ultimately how it should be done so that God s Word of Truth may be handled correctly 2 Tim 2 15 The Days of the Son of Man William Lee,1872 The Congregationalist ,1919 Describing the Hand of God Robert Brennan,2016-04-28 The question of divine agency in the world remains one important unresolved underlying obstacle in the dialogue between theology and science Modern notions of divine agency are shown to have developed out of the interaction of three factors in early modernity Two are well known late medieval perfect being theology and the early modern application of the notion of the two books of God s revelation to the understanding of the natural order It is argued the third is the early modern appropriation of the Augustinian doctrine of inspiration This assumes the soul s existence and a particular description of divine agency in humans which became more generally applied to divine agency in nature Whereas Newton explicitly draws the parallel between divine agency in humans and that in nature Darwin rejects its supposed perfection and Huxley raises serious questions regarding the traditional understanding of the soul This book offers an alternative incarnational description of divine agency freeing consideration of divine agency from being dependent on resolving the complex issues of perfect being theology and the existence of the soul In conversation with Barth s pneumatology this proposal is shown to remain theologically coherent and plausible while resolving or avoiding a range of known difficulties in the science theology dialogue
