The Interaction Of Cancer And Host Its Therapeutic Significance:

The Interaction of Cancer and Host Sir Michael F. A. Woodruff, 1980 Cancer Microenvironment and Therapeutic Implications Gianfranco Baronzio, Giammaria Fiorentini, Christopher R. Cogle, 2009-04-10 In the post genomic era cancer is a genetic disease However cancer genotype does not always equal cancer phenotype Cancers with the same genetic abnormalities don t always behave the same Understanding and eradicating cancers will require an appreciation for cancer s ecology This book is the first to comprehensively explore and critically appraise cancer microenvironments and host interactions with an eye towards exploiting our understanding for new treatments The team of contributors share amongst them impressive experiences at the laboratory bench and in the clinic These physician scientists have dedicated themselves to the tension between the urgency for cures and the technical challenges of discovery The target audience includes clinical oncologists clinical hematologists research oncologists research hematologists immunologists stem cell researchers oncology and hematology fellows trainees oncology educators graduate and undergraduate levels and course book for graduate students and undergraduate students Advances in Immunity and Cancer Therapy P. K. Ray, 2012-12-06 The rapid and continuous upsurge of interesting data in the subject of tumor immunology necessitates the publication of an annual series to furnish the updated materials to the students researchers and clinicians in this rapidly advancing field Concepts and methodologies are ever changing Also current research in tumor immunology promises to offer breakthroughs in the future Important is the need to communicate to the right people the exact role of immunodiagnostic methods and immunological intervention in cancer prevention and treatment The role of immuno therapy in combination with conventional modalities of treatment needs in its proper perspective Oncogene interferon lympho to be understood kines monoclonal antibodies natural killer cells platelet mediated cyto toxicity of antibody coated target cells suppressor cells platelet derived factors plasma blocking factors control of suppressor cell function ab rogation of plasma blocking factors etc are some of the areas that are continually advancing Progress in these areas will have implication in cancer therapy Further it is already understood that if immunocompe tence of the host can be maintained at a reasonably good level there exists the potential to increase the therapeutic indexes of conventional modalities of treatment This series will attempt to present updated infor mation in all these areas based on contributed and solicited articles P K Basic and Clinical Tumor Immunology Ronald B. Herberman, 2012-12-06 Where do you begin to look for a recent authoritative article on the diagnosis or management of a particular malignancy The few general onco logy textbooks are generally out of date Single papers in specialized journals are informative but seldom comprehensive these are more often prelimi nary reports on a very limited number of patients Certain general journals frequently publish good indepth reviews of cancer topics and published symposium lectures are often the best overviews available Unfortunately these reviews and supplements appear sporadically and the reader can never be sure when a topic of special interest will be covered Cancer Treatment and Research is a series of authoritative volumes which aim to meet this need It is an attempt to establish a critical mass of oncology literature covering virtually all oncology topics revised frequently to keep the coverage up to date easily available on a single library shelf or by a single personal subscription We have approached the problem in the following fashion First by dividing the oncology literature into specific subdivisions such as lung cancer genitourinary cancer pediatric oncology etc Second by asking eminent authorities in each of these areas to edit a volume on the specific topic on an annual or biannual basis Each topic and tumor type is covered in a volume appearing frequently and predictably discussing current diagnosis staging markers all forms of treatment modalities basic biology and more

Cancer Treatment Reports ,1987 Molecular Biology of Membranes

H.R. Petty,2013-06-29 This text attempts to introduce the molecular biology of cell membranes to students and professionals of diverse backgrounds Although several membrane biology books are available they do not integrate recent knowledge gained using modern molecular tools with more traditional membrane topics Molecular techniques such as cDNA cloning and x ray diffraction have provided fresh insights into cell membrane structure and function The great excitement today which I attempt to convey in this book is that molecular details are beginning to merge with physiological responses In other words we are beginning to understand precisely how membranes work This textbook is appropriate for upper level undergraduate or beginning graduate students Readers should have previous or concurrent coursework in biochemistry prior studies in elementary physiology would be helpful I have found that the presentation of topics in this book is appropriate for students of biology biochemistry biophysics and physiology chemistry and medicine This book will be useful in courses focusing on membranes and as a supplementary text in biochemistry courses Professionals will also find this to be a useful resource book for their personal libraries

Cambridge Medical Reviews: Haematological Oncology: Volume 2 Armand Keating,James Armitage,Adrian Newland,Alan Burnett,1992-12-03 Antitumor Drug Resistance Brian W. Fox,M. Fox,2012-12-06 The study of tumour resistance to anticancer drugs has been the subject of many publications since the initial discovery of the phenomenon by J H Burchenal and colleagues in 1950 Many papers have been published since then reporting development of resistance to most of the well known anticancer agents in many different animal tumour systems both in vivo and in vitro Many different mechanisms of resistance have been described and it is clear that the tumour cell has a wide diversity of options in overcoming the cell killing activity of these agents Definition of the magnitude of the phenomenon in the clinic is however much more problematical and it is with this in mind that the initial chapter seeks to outline the problem as the clinicians see it It appears that the phenomenon of true resistance to a drug as the biochemist would recognise it is an important cause of the failure which clinicians experience in treating the disease The extent of the contribution of this phenomenon to the failure of treatment cannot easily be evaluated at the present time but it is hoped that the development and application of new and more sophisticated techniques for the analysis of cellular sub populations may help to give a more exact estimate and to shed some light on the causes of failure of many of the present therapeutic techniques

Interactions Joseph I. Boullata,Vincent T. Armenti,2004-04-17 Although there is a great deal of literature regarding drug nutrient interactions DNIs there are limited sources of up to date comprehensive information The Handbook of Drug Nutrient Interactions admirably fills this gap The editors Dr Joseph I Boullata and Dr Vincent T Armenti have a wealth of experience in this therapeutic area and have assembled a fine cadre of chapter authors who have individually contributed their high level of expertise As treatment for many diseases becomes increasingly complex with multiple drug therapies scheduled at varying times the need to identify clinically significant DNIs is an essential part of medication management This is a shared responsibility between health care professionals to interpret available data and individualize an approach to therapy that is compatible with the patient's disease state life stage and dietary intake Awareness of the significance of drug food interactions is generally lacking Although many texts contain lengthy lists of possible interactions few data are provided for the clinician to gain an understanding of the mechanism of action of the interaction and subsequently apply the information to a particular patient or group of patients For example in the management of patients with HIV/AIDS who are taking complex prescribed drug regimens herbal products and nutritional supplements many of which are affected by dietary intake careful attention to DNIs is a critical component of therapy Clinicians need to take account of not only the well documented interactions between drugs and nutrients but also the less obvious effects on drug nutrient disposition and metabolism

Understanding Cancer David Tarin,2023-02-02 This book provides a unique wide ranging description of the phenomenon of cancer and its pathological effects in diverse species including humans domesticated and wild animals invertebrates and plants The broad scope of information presented is used to construct radical new insights into biological self regulation and explain their relevance to its disruption by cancerous growth and spread within the human body
