century Among the key issues explored is a peculiar dichotomy of American advertising that served as a conservative reflection of society and at the same time became an underlying force of progressive social change The study shows how advertisers of housekeeping products perpetuated the Happy Homemaker stereotype while tobacco and cosmetics marketers dismantled women's stereotypes to create an entirely new type of consumer

Oratorical Culture in Nineteenth-century America Gregory Clark, S. Michael Halloran, 1993 Gregory Clark and S Michael Halloran bring together nine essays that explore change in both the theory and the practice of rhetoric in the nineteenth century United States In their introductory essay Clark and Halloran argue that at the beginning of the nineteenth century rhetoric encompassed a neoclassical oratorical culture in which speakers articulated common values to establish consensual moral authority that directed community thought and action As the century progressed however moral authority shifted from the civic realm to the professional thus expanding participation in the community as it fragmented the community itself Clark and Halloran argue that this shift was a transformation in which rhetoric was reconceived to meet changing cultural needs Part I examines the theories and practices of rhetoric that dominated at the beginning of the century The essays in this section include Edward Everett and Neoclassical Oratory in Genteel America by Ronald F Reid The Oratorical Poetic of Timothy Dwight by Gregory Clark The Sermon as Public Discourse Austin Phelps and the Conservative Homiletic Tradition in Nineteenth Century America by Russel Hirst and A Rhetoric of Citizenship in Nineteenth Century America by P Joy Rouse Part 2 examines rhetorical changes in the culture that developed during that century The essays include The Popularization of Nineteenth Century Rhetoric Elocution and the Private Learner by Nan Johnson Rhetorical Power in the Victorian Parlor Godey's Lady's Book and the Gendering of Nineteenth Century Rhetoric by Nicole Tonkovich Jane Addams and the Social Rhetoric of Democracy by Catherine Peadar The Divergence of Purpose and Practice on the Chatauqua Keith Vawter's Self Defense by Frederick J Antczak and Edith Siemers and The Rhetoric of Picturesque Scenery A Nineteenth Century Epideictic by S Michael Halloran

Korinek,2000-12-15 Originally launched in 1928 by the 1950s and 1960s nearly two million readers every month sampled Chatelaine magazine s eclectic mixture of traditional and surprisingly unconventional articles and editorials At a time when the American women s magazine market began to flounder thanks to the advent of television Chatelaine s subscriptions expanded as did the lively debate between its pages Why In this exhilarating study of Canada s foremost women s publication in the 50s and 60s Valerie Korinek shows that while the magazine was certainly filled with advertisements that promoted domestic perfection through the endless expansion of consumer spending a number of its sections including fiction features letters and the editor s column began to contain material that subversively complicated the simple consumer recipes for affluent domesticity Articles on abortion spousal abuse and poverty proliferated alongside explicitly feminist editorials It was a potent mixture and the mail poured in both praising and criticizing the new directions at the magazine It was Chatelaine s highly interactive and participatory nature that encouraged what Korinek calls a community of readers readers that in their very response to the magazine led to its success Chatelaine did not cling to the stereotypical images of the era instead it forged ahead providing women with a variety of images ideas and critiques of women s role in society Chatelaine s dissemination of feminist ideas laid the foundation for feminism in Canada in the 1970s and after Comprehensive fascinating and full of lively debate and history Roughing it in the Suburbs provides a cultural study that weaves together a history of Chatelaine s producer s consumers and text It illustrates how the structure of the magazine s production and the composition of its editorial and business offices allowed for feminist material to infiltrate a mass market women s monthly In doing so it offers a detailed analysis of the times the issues and the national cross section of the women and sometimes men who participated in the success of a Canadian cultural landmark Winner of the Laura Jamieson Prize awarded by the Canadian Research Institute for the Advancement of Women Advertising the American Dream Roland Marchand,2023-09-01 It has become impossible to imagine our culture without advertising But how and why did advertising become a determiner of our self image Advertising the American Dream looks carefully at the two decades when advertising discovered striking new ways to play on our anxieties and to promise solace for the masses As American society became more urban more complex and more dominated by massive bureaucracies the old American Dream seemed threatened Advertisers may only have dimly perceived the profound transformations America was experiencing However the advertising they created is a wonderfully graphic

The Improbable First Century of Cosmopolitan Magazine James Landers,2010-11-01 Today monthly issues of Cosmopolitan magazine scream out to readers from checkout counters and newsstands With bright covers and bold sexy headlines this famous periodical targets young single women aspiring to become the quintessential Cosmo girl Cosmopolitan is known for its vivacious character and frank explicit attitude toward sex yet because of its reputation many people don t realize that the magazine has undergone many incarnations before its current one including family literary magazine and muckraking investigative journal and all are presented in The Improbable First Century of Cosmopolitan Magazine The book boasts one particularly impressive contributor Helen Gurley Brown herself who rarely grants interviews but spoke and corresponded with James Landers to aid in his research When launched in 1886 Cosmopolitan was a family literary magazine that published quality fiction children s stories and homemaking tips In 1889 it was rescued from bankruptcy by wealthy entrepreneur John Brisben Walker who introduced illustrations and attracted writers such as Mark Twain Willa Cather and H G Wells Then when newspaper magnate William Randolph Hearst purchased Cosmopolitan in 1905 he turned it into a purveyor of expos journalism to aid his personal political pursuits But when Hearst abandoned those ambitions he changed the magazine in the 1920s back to a fiction periodical featuring leading writers such as Theodore Dreiser Sinclair Lewis and William Somerset Maugham His approach garnered success by the 1930s but poor editing sunk Cosmo s readership as decades went on By the mid 1960s executives considered letting Cosmopolitan die but Helen Gurley Brown an ambitious and savvy businesswoman submitted a plan for a dramatic editorial makeover Gurley Brown took the helm and saved Cosmopolitan by publishing articles about topics other women's magazines avoided Twenty years later when the magazine ended its first century Cosmopolitan was the profit center of the Hearst Corporation and a culturally significant force in young women's lives The Improbable First Century of Cosmopolitan Magazine explores how Cosmopolitan survived three near death experiences to become one of the most dynamic and successful magazines of the twentieth century Landers uses a wealth of primary source materials to place this important magazine in the context of history and depict how it became the cultural touchstone it is today This book will be of interest not only to modern Cosmo aficionadas but also to journalism students news historians and anyone interested in publishing
