Ukraine: The Land And Its People Stephen Rudnitsky,1904-01-01 There are few lands upon the whole globe so imperfectly known to geographic science as the one which we shall try to describe in this little work The geographic concept of the Ukraine does not exist in the geography of today Even the name has been almost forgotten in Europe in the course of the last century and a half Only occasionally on some maps of Eastern Europe the name Ukraine shows timidly along the middle of the Dnieper And yet it is an old name of the country originating in the 11th Century generally known thruout Europe from the 16th to the end of the 18th century and then after the abrogation of the autonomy of the second Ukrainian state gradually fallen into oblivion The Russian Government has determined to erase the old name of the land and the nation from the map of Europe Little Russia West Russia South Russia New Russia were officially introduced in place of the old name Ukraine the Austrian part of the Ukraine receiving the name of East Galicia The people were named Little Russians South Russians Ruthenians and all remembrance of the old name seemed to have been blotted out But in the speech of the people and in the magnificent unwritten popular literature of the nation the name of the land could not be destroyed and with the unexpected rise of Ukrainian literature culture and a feeling of national political independence in the 19th Century the name Ukraine came into its own again Today there is not an intelligent patriotic Ukrainian who would use another name for his country and nation than Ukraine and Ukrainian and slowly these designations are penetrating foreign lands as well The Ukraine is the land in which the Ukrainian nation dwells a great solid national territory embracing all the southern part of Russia in Europe besides East Galicia Northwest Bukowina and Northeast Hungary This district is a definite geographic unit A discussion of its exact boundaries shall be reserved for the anthropogeographical part of this book A division of Europe into natural regions almost invariably stops at Eastern Europe While all the other portions of our globe have long been the object of the most detailed classification Eastern Europe remains as before an undivided whole To be sure there have been many attempts at classification but they are all based upon a non geographical point of view Only the Baltic provinces and Poland are in their present political extent regarded as possible geographic units
