The Merchant of Havana Stephen Silverstein, 2021-04-30 LAJSA Book Award Winner 2017 Latin American Jewish Studies Association As Cuba industrialized in the nineteenth century an epochal realignment of the social order occurred In this period of change two seemingly disparate yet nevertheless intertwined ideological forces appeared anti-Semitism and abolitionism As the antislavery movement became organized in Cuba the argument grew that Jews participated in the African slave trade and in New World slavery and that this participation gave Jews extraordinary influence in the new Cuban economy and culture What was remarkable about this anti-Semitism was the decidedly small Jewish population on the island in this era This form of anti-Semitism Silverstein reveals sprang almost exclusively from mythological beliefs

Antisemitism, Misogyny, & the Logic of Cultural Difference Nancy Anne Harrowitz, 1994-01-01 Are there connections between misogyny and antisemitism If so what would these connections be and to what degree are these prejudices reinforced or even generated by nineteenth century science This book explores these compelling questions by discussing two Italian authors of the late nineteenth century a period when both antisemitism and misogyny were crucial concerns to society as they still are today One author Cesare Lombroso was a famous criminologist whose ideas about juvenile court indeterminate sentencing and parole still influence the American justice system He was Jewish himself yet wrote a book about antisemitism which blamed the Jews for their condition and proposed assimilation as an answer to the problem of prejudice He also wrote highly derogatory work on women The other author Matilde Serao a well known journalist and novelist built a brilliant career for herself but in her newspaper editorials advised other women to stay home In her novels she often demonstrated ambivalence and hostility towards women's condition and she used antisemitic stereotypes in some of her work Antisemitism Misogyny and the Logic of Cultural Difference demonstrates how similar is the logic of these two authors' prejudice towards women and Jews as they both depend on the science of their day such as Darwinism to justify their views It raises as well the issues of why their prejudice focuses on women and Jews since one author is Jewish and the other a woman how prejudice towards different groups can intersect and the role of the difficult and complex concept of self-hatred Finitude's Score Avital Ronell, 1994-01-01 Suspending the distinction between headline news and high theory Avital Ronell examines the diverse figures of finitude in our modernity war guerrilla video trauma TV AIDS music divorce sadism electronic tagging rumor Her essays address such questions as How do rumors kill How has video become the conscience of TV How have the police come to be everywhere even where they are not Is peace possible Writing to the community of those who have no community to those who have known the infiniteness of abandonment her work explores the possibility one possibility among many that this time we have gone too far One last word It is possible that we have gone too far This possibility has to be considered if we as a species as a history are going to get anywhere at all

Budapest Diary Susan Rubin Suleiman, 1999-04-01 In 1993 after the fall of communism and the death of her mother Suleiman returned to Budapest for a six month stay She recounts her ongoing quest for personal history interweaving it with the stories of present day Hungarians struggling to make sense of the changes in their individual and collective lives Suleiman's search for documents relating to her childhood the lives of her parents and their families and the Jewish communities of Hungary and Poland takes her on a series of fascinating journeys within and outside Budapest Jesus Christ as the Son of David in the Gospel of Mark Max Botner, 2019-05-30 Addresses the issue of the precarious nature of Davidic sonship in the Gospel of Mark
