Committee on Resources of American Libraries. National Union Catalog Subcommittee, 1971 The Romance of Reunion Nina Silber, 2000-11-09 The reconciliation of North and South following the Civil War depended as much on cultural imagination as on the politics of Reconstruction Drawing on a wide range of sources Nina Silber documents the transformation from hostile sectionalism to sentimental reunion rhetoric Northern culture created a notion of reconciliation that romanticized and feminized southern society In tourist accounts novels minstrel shows and popular magazines northerners contributed to a mythic and nostalgic picture of the South that served to counter their anxieties regarding the breakdown of class and gender roles in Gilded Age America Indeed for many Yankees the ultimate symbol of the reunion process and one that served to reinforce Victorian values as well as northern hegemony was the marriage of a northern man and a southern woman Southern men also were represented as affirming traditional gender roles As northern men wrestled with their nation's increasingly global and aggressive foreign policy the military virtues extolled in Confederate legend became more admired than reviled By the 1890s concludes Silber northern whites had accepted not only a newly resplendent image of Dixie but also a sentimentalized view of postwar reunion The Trail of the Lonesome Pine John Fox (jr.), 1908 The Rhetoric of Appalachian Identity Todd Snyder, 2014-06-04 In this work the various ways that social economic and cultural factors influence the identities and educational aspirations of rural working class Appalachian learners are explored The objectives are to highlight the cultural obstacles that impact the intellectual development of such students and to address how these cultural roadblocks make transitioning into college difficult Throughout the book the author draws upon his personal experiences as a first generation college student from a small coalmining town in rural West Virginia Both scholarly and personal the book blends critical theory ethnographic research and personal narrative to demonstrate how family work histories and community expectations both shape and limit the academic goals of potential Appalachian college students Frontier in American Literature
