D. G. G. Bolich, 2007-09-28 The third in a landmark five volume study of transgender realities with a focus on crossdressing this fascinating volume offers a tour through history and around the world Within these pages are found the most famous crossdressers of history and information as to what it means to be a transgender person in the various countries of the world today The Kimono Inspiration Textile Museum (Washington, D.C.), 1996 The book explores the use and meaning of the kimono in America and traces the transformation of the garment from its ethnic origins through its many appearances in fine art costume and high fashion to its role in the contemporary Art to Wear Movement It explores the American use of the kimono as a garment as a symbol and as an art form The Fictional Minds of Modernism Ricardo Miguel-Alfonso, 2020-02-20 Challenging the notion that modernism is marked by an inward turn a configuration of the individual as distinct from the world this collection delineates the relationship between the mind and material and social systems rethinking our understanding of modernism's representation of cognitive and affective processes

Through analysis of a variety of international novels short stories and films all published roughly between 1890 and 1945 the contributors to this collection demonstrate that the so called inward turn of modernist narratives in fact reflects the necessary interaction between mind self and world that constitutes knowledge and therefore precludes any radical split between these categories The essays examine the cognitive value of modernist narrative showing how the perception of objects and of other people is a relational activity that requires an awareness of the constant flux of reality The Fictional Minds of Modernism explores how modernist narratives offer insights into the real historical world not as a mere object of contemplation but as an object of knowledge thus bridging the gap between classical narratology and modernist experimentation

Tokyoids Francois Blanciak,2022-09-13 A photographic survey of the robotic face of Tokyo buildings and an argument that robot aesthetics plays a central role in architectural history In Tokyoids architect Fran ois Blanciak surveys the robotic faces omnipresent in Tokyo buildings offering an architectural taxonomy based not on the usual variables size material historical style but on the observable expressions of buildings Are the eyes windows twinkling the mouth door laughing Is that balcony a howl of distress Investigating robot aesthetics through his photographs of fifty buildings Blanciak argues that the robot face originated in architecture before the birth of robotics and has played a central role in architectural history Blanciak first puts the robot face into historical perspective examining the importance of the face in architectural theory and demonstrating that the construction of architecture's emblematic portraits triggered the emergence of a robot aesthetics. He then explores the emotions conveyed by the photographed buildings' robot faces in chapters titled Awe, Wrath, Mirth, Pain, Angst, and Hunger. As he does so, he considers among other things the architectural relevance of Tokyo's ordinary buildings, the repression of the figural in contemporary architecture, an aesthetic of dismemberment linked to the structure of the Japanese language and local building design, and the influence of automation technology upon human interaction. Part photographic survey, part theoretical inquiry, Tokyoids upends the usual approach to robotics in architecture by considering not the automation of architectural output but the aesthetic properties of the robot.

Émigré Cultures in Design and Architecture Alison J. Clarke, Elana Shapira, 2017-11-02 This new volume addresses the lasting contribution made by Central European migré designers to twentieth-century American design and architecture. The contributors examine how oppositional stances in debates concerning consumption and modernism's social agendas taken by designers such as Felix Augenfeld, Joseph Binder, Josef Frank, Paul T. Frankl, Frederick Kiesler, Richard Neutra, and R. M. Schindler in Europe prefigured their later adoption or rejection by American culture. They argue that migrés and refugees from fascist Europe such as György Kepes, Paul László, Victor Papanek, Bernard Rudofsky, Xanti Schawinsky, and Eva Zeisel drew on the particular experiences of their home countries and networks of migré and exiled designers in the United States to develop a humanist, progressive, and socially inclusive design culture which continues to influence design practice today.
