The Song Of The Dodo David Quammen, 2012-03-31 Why have island ecosystems always suffered such high rates of extinction In our age with all the world's landscapes from Tasmania to the Amazon to Yellowstone now being carved into island like fragments by human activity the implications of this question are more urgent than ever Over the past eight years David Quammen has followed the threads of island biogeography on a globe encircling journey of discovery The Land of Little Rain Mary Hunter Austin, 2005 Large Format for easy reading A beautifully written study of the natural history of the Californian desert an exploration of its landscape and peoples and the necessary adaptations needed to survive in its harsh environment Lost Land of the Dodo Anthony Cheke, Julian P. Hume, 2009-01-01 The Mascarene islands in the southern Indian Ocean Mauritius Reunion and Rodrigues were once home to an extraordinary range of birds and reptiles Evolving on these isolated volcanic islands in the absence of mammalian predators or competitors the land was dominated by giant tortoises parrots skinks and geckos burrowing boas flightless rails the birds and tortoises were slaughtered indiscriminately while introduced rats cats pigs and monkeys destroyed their eggs the once extensive forests logged and invasive introduced plants from all over the tropics devastated the ecosystem The now familiar icon of extinction the Dodo was gone from Mauritius within 50 years of human settlement and over the next 150 years many of the Mascarenes other native vertebrates followed suit The product of over 30 years research by Anthony Cheke Lost Land of the Dodo provides a comprehensive yet hugely enjoyable account of the story of the islands changing ecology interspersed with human stories the islands biogeographical anomalies and much else Many French publications old and new especially for Reunion are discussed and referenced in English for the first time The book is richly illustrated with maps and contemporary illustrations of the animals and their environment many of which have rarely been reprinted before Illustrated box texts look in detail at each extinct vertebrate species while Julian Hume's superb colour plates bring many of the extinct birds to life Lost Land of the Dodo provides the definitive account of this tragic yet remarkable fauna and is a must read for anyone interested in islands their ecology and the history of our relationship with the world around us Life John Ames Mitchell, 1914 Dodo,

Adaptive Markets Andrew W. Lo, 2019-05-14 A new evolutionary explanation of markets and investor behavior Half of all Americans have money in the stock market yet economists can't agree on whether investors and markets are rational and efficient as modern financial theory assumes or irrational and inefficient as behavioral economists believe The debate is one of the biggest in economics and the value or futility of investment management and financial regulation hangs on the answer In this groundbreaking book Andrew Lo transforms the debate with a powerful new framework in which rationality and irrationality coexist the Adaptive Markets Hypothesis Drawing on psychology evolutionary biology neuroscience artificial intelligence and other fields Adaptive Markets shows that the theory of market efficiency is incomplete When markets are unstable investors react instinctively creating inefficiencies for others to exploit Lo's new paradigm explains how financial evolution shapes behavior and markets at the speed of thought a fact revealed by swings between stability and crisis profit and loss and innovation and regulation An ambitious new answer to fundamental questions about economics and investing Adaptive Markets is essential reading for anyone who wants to understand how markets really work

To modern sensibilities nineteenth century zoos often seem to be unnatural places where animals led miserable lives in cramped wrought iron cages Today zoo animals in at least the better zoos wander in open spaces that resemble natural habitats and are enclosed not by bars but by moats cliffs and other landscape features In Savages and Beasts Nigel Rothfels traces the origins of the modern zoo to the efforts of the German animal entrepreneur Carl Hagenbeck By the late nineteenth century Hagenbeck had emerged as the world s undisputed leader in the capture and transport of exotic animals His business included procuring and exhibiting indigenous peoples in highly profitable spectacles throughout Europe and training exotic animals humanely Hagenbeck advertised for circuses around the world When in 1907 the Hagenbeck Animal Park opened in a village near Hamburg Germany Hagenbeck brought together all his business interests in a revolutionary zoological park He moved wild animals out of their cages and into natural landscapes alongside primitive peoples from Africa Asia the Americas and the islands of the Pacific Hagenbeck had invented a new way of imagining captivity the animals and people on exhibit appeared to be living in the wilds of their native lands By looking at Hagenbeck s multiple enterprises Savages and Beasts demonstrates how seemingly enlightened ideas about the role of zoos and the nature of animal captivity developed within the essentially tawdry business of placing exotic creatures on public display Rothfels provides both fascinating reading and much needed historical perspective on the nature of our relationship with the animal kingdom
