The Language Of Websites:

Introduction to Google Translate Gilad James, PhD, Google Translate is a multilingual translation service provided by Google. It allows users to translate words, phrases, and entire documents between multiple languages. The service was launched in April 2006 and has since been constantly updated to provide more accurate translations. Initially offering translations in only two languages, Google Translate now supports over 100 languages. The translation process works by analyzing the text or document input by the user, breaking it up into smaller segments, and then using statistical algorithms to match these segments with translations from its database. Google Translate has been a helpful tool for people to communicate across different languages, whether it be for business or personal use. However, it must be noted that automated translations often carry a high risk of inaccuracies due to the complexities inherent in language and the nuances of different cultures and contexts. It is always recommended to use translations as a starting point and then have a native speaker review and refine the language to ensure accuracy.

Official Tourism Websites Richard W. Hallett, Judith Kaplan-Weinger, 2010-03-24. Official Tourism Websites: A Discourse Analysis Perspective investigates the construction and promotion of identity of tourist locales by the designers of the official websites for destinations such as Santiago de Compostela, Spain; the Baltic states of Latvia and Estonia; New Orleans, Louisiana; and Gary, Indiana, USA. Myanmar, Burma, US Sports Halls of Fame, and in recognizing the influence and popularity of such sites, three websites parodying the imaginary nations of Phaic, Tan Molvania, and San Sombrero. Analysis addresses how tourism websites foster social action and therefore contribute to the reconstruction of nations and other communities by variably fostering re-imagination, rebirth, renaissance, promotion, and caution and patriotism. Recognizing that tourism texts can function to both construct and embody identity for their respective locales, this investigation employs critical discourse analysis, multimodal discourse analysis, and visual semiotic analysis in the investigation of web texts and images.

S. Lee,2010-03-24 The Second International Conference on Hybrid Learning was organized by the School of Continuing and Professional Studies of The Chinese University of Hong Kong and University of Macau in August 2009 ICHL

2009 was an inventive experience for the Hong Kong and Macau tertiary higher education. The conference aims to provide a good platform for knowledge exchange on hybrid learning by focusing on student centered education. The technique is to supplement traditional classroom learning with eLearning. The slogan is Education leads eLearning not vice versa. The methodology is that at least 30% of learning activities are done by eLearning. The outcome is for students to learn at any time at any place. eLearning can increase students learning productivity and reduce teachers administration workload alike. It is a new culture for students teachers and school administrators to adopt in the twenty first century. The conference obtained sponsorship from Pei Hua Education Foundation Limited City University of Hong Kong ACM Hong Kong Section and Hong Kong Computer Society. Hybrid learning originated from North America in 2000 and is an ongoing trend. It is not merely a simple combination of direct teaching and eLearning. It encompasses different learning strategies and important elements for teaching and learning. It emphasizes outcome based teaching and learning and provides an environment for knowledge learning. Students are given more opportunities to be active learners and practice practical skills such as communication collaboration critical thinking creativity self management self study problem solving analysis and numeracy.
