Smith of Warwick Andor Gomme,Austin Harvey Gomme,2000 The Oxford Dictionary of Architecture James Stevens Curl,Susan Wilson,2015 With over 6 000 entries this is the most authoritative dictionary of architectural history available

The Gentleman's House in the British Atlantic World 1680-1780 S. Hague,2015-06-23 The Gentleman s House analyses the architecture decoration and furnishings of small classical houses in the eighteenth century By examining nearly two hundred houses it offers a new interpretation of social mobility in the British Atlantic World characterized by incremental social change

Warwick A Short History and Guide Christine M. Cluley,2011-05-15 A beautifully illustrated clear and concise guide to historic Warwick The Buildings of Peter Harrison John Fitzhugh Millar,2014-10-02 Perhaps the most important architect ever to have worked in America Peter Harrison s renown suffers from the destruction of most of his papers when he died in 1775 He was born in Yorkshire England in 1716 and trained to be an architect as a teenager He also became a ship captain and soon sailed to ports in America where he began designing some of the most iconic buildings of the continent In a clandestine operation he procured the plans for the French Canadian fortress of Louisbourg enabling Massachusetts Governor William Shirley to capture it in 1745 This setback forced the French to halt their operation to capture all of British America and to give up British territory they had captured in India As a result he was rewarded with commissions to design important buildings in Britain and in nearly all British colonies around the world and he became the first person ever to have designed buildings on six continents He designed mostly in a neo Palladian style and invented a way of building wooden structures so as to look like carved stone wooden rustication He also designed some of America s most valuable furniture including inventing the coveted block front and introducing the bombe motif In America he lived in Newport Rhode Island and in New Haven Connecticut where he died at the beginning of the War of Independence

Coventry: Medieval Art, Architecture and Archaeology in the City and its Vicinity Linda Monckton,2017-07-05 The British Archaeological Association s 2007 conference celebrated the material culture of medieval Coventry the fourth wealthiest English city of the later middle ages The nineteen papers collected in this volume set out to remedy the relative neglect in modern scholarship of the city s art architecture and archaeology as well as to encompass recent research on monuments in the vicinity The scene is set by two papers on archaeological excavations in the historic city centre especially since the 1970s and a paper investigating the relationships between Coventry s building boom and economic conditions in the city in the later middle ages Three papers on the Cathedral Priory of St Mary bring together new insights into the Romanesque cathedral church the monastic buildings and the post Dissolution history of the precinct derived mainly from the results of the Phoenix Initiative excavations 19992003 Three more papers provide new architectural histories of the spectacular former parish church of St Michael the fine Guildhall of St Mary and the remarkable surviving west range of the Coventry Charterhouse The high quality monumental art of the later medieval city is represented by papers on wall painting featuring the recently conserved Doom in Holy Trinity church on the little known Crucifixion mural at the Charterhouse and on a reassessment of the working practices of the famous master glazier John Thornton Two papers on a guild seal and on the glazing at Stanford on Avon parish church consider the evidence for Coventry as a regional workshop centre for high quality metalwork and glass painting Beyond the city three papers deal with the development of Combe Abbey from Cistercian monastery to country house with the Beauchamp family's hermitage at Guy's Cliffe and with a newly identified stonemasons workshop in the barn at Kenilworth Abbey Two further papers concern the architectural patronage of the earls and dukes of Lancaster in the 14th century at Kenilworth Castle and in the Newarke at Leicester Castle

The English Urban Renaissance Revisited John Hinks, 2018-12-04 A quarter of a century ago Professor Peter Borsay identified a specifically urban phenomenon of cultural revival that took root in the late seventeenth century leading to the flowering of a wide range of cultural forms and the extensive remodelling of the townscape along classically inspired lines Borsay called this the English Urban Renaissance These essays including Borsay's reflective and thought provoking revisiting of his concept offer a wide ranging exploration of the continuing and still developing impact of the English Urban Renaissance and investigate the wider impact of the concept beyond England The essays reiterate the importance of provincial towns as hubs of economic cultural and political activity and the strength and vitality of urban culture beyond the metropolis They trace the development of urban culture over time in the light of the concept of urban renaissance showing how urban townscapes and cultural life were transformed throughout the long eighteenth century Together they establish the continuing impact and importance of Borsay's concept demonstrate the breadth of its influence in the UK and beyond and point to possible areas of research for the future

Enriching Architecture Christine Casey, Melanie Hayes, 2023-01-26 Refinement and enrichment of surfaces in stone wood and plaster is a fundamental aspect of early modern architecture which has been marginalised by architectural history Enriching Architecture aims to retrieve and rehabilitate surface achievement as a vital element of early modern buildings in Britain and Ireland Rejected by modernism demeaned by the conceptual turn and too often reduced to its representative or social functions we argue for the historical legitimacy of creative craft skill as a primary agent in architectural production However in contrast to the connoisseurial and developmental perspectives of the past this book is concerned with how surfaces were designed achieved and experienced The contributors draw upon the major rethinking of craft and materials within the wider cultural sphere in recent years to deconstruct traditional oppositional ways of thinking about architectural production This is not a craft for craft's sake argument but an effort to embed the tangible findings of conservation and curatorial research within an evidence led architectural history that illuminates the processes of early modern craftsmanship The book explores broad themes of surface treatment such as wainscot rustication plasterwork and staircase embellishment together with chapters focused on virtuoso buildings and set pieces which illuminate these themes

was the creation of the English Landscape Garden Accounts of its genesis the surprising structural change from the formal to a seeming informal are numerous But none has ever been quite convincing and none satisfactorily placed the contributions of Stephen Switzer Unlike his contemporaries Switzer an 18th century author of books on gardening and agricultural improvement grasped a quite new principle that the fashionable pursuit of great gardens should be rural and extensive rather than merely the ornamentation of a particular part of an estate Switzer saw that a whole estate could be enjoyed as an aesthetic experience and by the process of improving its value could increase wealth By encouraging improvers to see the garden in his enlarged sense he opened up the adjoining countryside the landscape and made the whole a subject of unified design Some few followed his advice immediately such as Bathurst at Cirencester But it took some time for his ideas to become generally accepted Could this vision and its working out in practice between 1710 and 1740 be the very reason for such changes 300 years after the first volume of his writings began to be published this book offers a timely critical examination of lessons learned and Switzer's roles In major influential early works at Castle Howard and Blenheim and later the more minor works such as Spy Park Leeswood or Rhual the relationships between these designs and his writings is demonstrated In doing so it makes possible major reassessment of the developments and thus our attitudes to well known works It provides an explanation of how he and his colleagues and contemporaries first made what he had called Ichnographia Rustica or more familiarly Modern Gardening from the mid 1740s and later landscape gardens It reveals an exceptional innovator who by transforming the philosophical way in which nature was viewed integrated good design with good farming and horticultural practice for the first time It raises the issue of the cleavage in thought of the later 18th century essentially whether the ferme ornée as the mixture of utile and dulce was the perfect designed landscape or whether this was the enlarged garden with features of unadorned nature The book discusses these considerable and continuing contrary influences on later work and suggests Switzer has many lessons for how contemporary landscape and garden design ought to be perceived and practised

The Silent Rhetoric of the Body Matthew Craske, 2007 Matthew Craske looks closely at tomb sculptures in their social context He discusses a large number of monuments by many different sculptors all with a knowledge of the person commemorated and the circumstances behind the commission
