Smooth Talkers The Linguistic Performance Of Auctioneers And Sportscasters:

Smooth Talkers Koenraad Kuiper, 1996 This book examines the contexts in which sportscasters and auctioneers speak and the characteristic techniques they employ in order to speak fluently These speakers were selected because they have the capacity to show what happens to speech when speakers are under memory and processing pressure from having to perform other tasks while they are speaking This volume offers a set of theories to explain how this speech comes into being and identifies the conditions which should be conducive to smooth talking It then tests the theories by recording transcribing and analyzing the speech which is produced in a variety of circumstances The major thematic contribution of the monograph is to suggest that the speech of fluent native speakers relies heavily on what might be termed the speaker's phrasal lexicon memorized phrases and clauses which are indexed for specific roles in speech Even in normal speech speakers are heavily reliant on formulae to speak in a native like manner rather than as foreigners might do who know the language perfectly but do not know the formulae appropriate to particular contexts Cross disciplinary in nature this volume provides a systematic linguistic treatment of formulaic speech offers a close analysis of the speech of sportscasters and auctioneers and explains why speakers resort to formulaic speech Of interest to scholars in communication linguistics popular culture and folklore

Automaticity and Control in Language Processing Antje Meyer, Linda Wheeldon, Andrea Krott, 2007-01-24 The use of language is a fundamental component of much of our day to day life Language often co occurs with other activities with which it must be coordinated This raises the question of whether the cognitive processes involved in planning spoken utterances and in understanding them are autonomous or whether they are affected by and perhaps affect non linguistic cognitive processes with which they might share processing resources This question is the central concern of Automaticity and Control in Language Processing The chapters address key issues concerning the relationship between linguistic and non linguistic processes including How can the degree of automaticity of a component be defined Which linguistic processes are truly automatic and which require processing capacity Through which mechanisms can control processes affect linguistic performance How might these mechanisms be represented in the brain How do limitations in working memory and executive control capacity affect linguistic performance and language re learning in persons with brain damage This important collection from leading international researchers will be of great interest to researchers and students in the area
