I Will Scream to the World Jaha Marie Dukureh, 2024-12-24 This extraordinary memoir details the monumental journey of one young Gambian woman from survivor of FGM and forced child marriage to global activist and political leader who became UN Women's first Goodwill Ambassador for Africa one of Time Magazine's 100 Most Influential People and among the youngest people nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize On the wedding night of her first arranged marriage fifteen year old Jaha learned that she had undergone Female Genital Mutilation FGM as an infant That painful discovery coupled with her experiences with a second arranged marriage set Jaha on her path as an activist a courageous mission that would require her to brave hostility in her community and family and even attempts on her life Despite the challenges and with ever growing determination Jaha founded Safe Hands for Girls an organization that succeeded in having FGM banned in Gambia She is now working to eradicate FGM and forced child marriage worldwide by 2030 and running to be the next President of The Gambia I Will Scream to the World recounts Jaha's ongoing uphill journey to be seen as a survivor activist but most of all as a human. She dives into her childhood to show the root causes of her crusading, shares her personal and professional life and explores as only a survivor can a practice that while violent and troubling is often culturally misunderstood. Above all Jaha's unflinchingly honest memoir is a story of resilience and extraordinary fearlessness of the strength that comes with learning to love oneself and of the power within everyone to create meaningful and lasting change.

Sport in Latin America Gonzalo Bravo, Rosa Lopez de D'Amico, Charles Parrish, 2016-01-29 The forthcoming Olympics in Rio in 2016 and the FIFA World Cup in Brazil in 2014 highlight the profound importance of sport in Latin America. This book is the first to offer a broad survey of the way that sport is managed, governed and organized across the Latin American region, drawing on cutting edge contemporary scholarship in management, policy, sociology and history. The book explores key themes in Latin American sport including the role of public institutions, the relationship between sport policy and political regimes, the structure and significance of national governing bodies and professional leagues, the impact of sporting mega events including the Olympics and World Cup and the management and governance of football, the dominant sport in the region. Including contributions from Latin American scholars and practitioners, the book draws on important Spanish and Portuguese sources that are unknown to most English speaking researchers and therefore provides an unprecedented and authoritative insight into sport policy and management in the region. Including cases from sport in Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Costa Rica and Peru and examples from Venezuela, Bolivia and Ecuador, this book is essential reading for all scholars, practitioners and policy makers with an interest in Latin American sport, comparative sport policy, sport management or Latin American history, culture and society.
