Sociology for Music Teachers Richard Colwell, Hildegard Froehlich, 2015-07-02 For upper level undergraduate and introductory graduate and doctoral courses in music education Outlining the basic aspects constructs and concepts relevant to understanding music teaching and learning from a sociological perspective this volume introduces students to the discipline as a tool in understanding their own work The text shows how certain academics in music sociology and education have thought about the relationship of music to education schooling and society and examines the consequences of such thinking for making instructional choices in teaching methods and repertoire selection School music teaching is imbedded in two major societal traditions 1 the tradition of music making listening and responding and 2 the tradition of education as a societal mandate The first tradition holds firmly to music artistry and musicological scholarship the latter of which includes music sociology The second tradition that of education as a field of study relies mostly on pedagogical principles rooted equally in psychology and sociology Hildegard Froehlich bases the book upon the premise that a music teacher's work is equally shaped by both traditions The more music teachers become aware of how societal structures shape their own lives as well as the lives of their students colleagues and superiors the more reality based their teaching will become Society is a composite of communities in which different social classes groups and reference groups co exist to varying degrees of compatibility due to real or perceived differences in norms and values as well as hierarchies of power Informed or intuitive choices made by an individual indicate allegiances to particular groups how those groups are structured hierarchically and where and how each individual fits into those hierarchies This is true for the music world as it is true for the world of education Ready Reader One Megan Condis, Mike Sell, 2024-06-12 Videogames are a powerful storytelling medium but what are the stories we tell about videogames with videogames around videogames What can we learn from novels that describe the struggles of young people trapped in virtual reality from fanfiction that explores the private life of a popular Nintendo character or from a poem that compares Pac Man to Saint Augustine An extensive body of scholarship explores the ways videogames create worlds construct characters and tell emotionally compelling narratives But very little research has focused on representation of videogames videogame players and videogame culture in literary texts whether traditional genres like novels short stories memoirs and poems or non traditional and emergent forms like fanfiction how to guides hip hop lyrics or young adult fiction Ready Reader One is designed to fill that gap The texts that this book's contributors engage are interesting in their own right Thomas Pynchon's deployment of the tropes of retrogaming in Bleeding Edge evinces a fascinating inflection of his paranoid style Hanna Faith Notess's integration of videogame mechanics into her poetry enables a fascinating and poignant relationship of melancholy memory objects and the lyric form The exploration of videogame addiction in memoirs challenges stereotypes and suggests different ways to understand the entanglement of desire and pleasure in the twenty first century The stories of virtual reality in the novels of Ernest Cline Lauren Beuke and Liu Cixin map the ways videogames are transforming our bodies families and friendships Beyond their intrinsic value as works of literature videogame literature provides meaningful perspectives on what videogames are and what they might be Contributors to this collection demonstrate that videogame literature sheds light on how space time and identity are being reshaped by videogames helps us detect emergent forms of play media algorithmic systems surveillance culture and social media and increases our understanding of the larger stories that surround videogames and those who play them Toni Morrison and the Queer Pleasure of Ghosts Juda Bennett, 2014-11-13 Toni Morrison and the Queer Pleasure of Ghosts radically intervenes in one of the most established and sacred topics in Toni Morrison scholarship love Moving beyond Morrison's representation of ghosts as the forgotten or occluded past Juda Bennett uncovers how Morrison imagines the spectral sphere as always already queer

a provocation and challenge to heteronormativity with the ghost appearing as an active participant in disruptions of compulsory heterosexuality as a figure embodying closet desires or as a disembodied emanation that counterpoints homophobia From The Bluest Eye to Home Morrison's novels have included many queer ghosts that challenge our most cherished conceptions of love and speak to cultural anxieties about black sexualities gay marriage AIDS lesbian visibility and transgender identities Not surprisingly the scene stealing ghost Beloved appears at the very heart of this book but Bennett cautions against interpretative stasis inviting readers to break free of the stranglehold Beloved has had on imaginations so as not to miss the full force of Morrison's lifelong project to queer love

Deaf Side Story Mark Rigney, 2003 The 1957 classic American musical West Side Story has been staged by countless community and school theater groups but none more ambitious than the 2000 production by MacMurray College a small school in Jacksonville Illinois Diane Brewer the new drama head at the college determined to add an extra element to the usual demands of putting on a show by having deaf students perform half of the parts Deaf Side Story presents a fascinating narrative of Brewer and the cast's efforts to mount this challenging play Brewer turned to the Illinois School for the Deaf ISD to cast the Sharks the Puerto Rican gang at odds with the Anglo Jets in this musical version of Romeo and Juliet set in the slums of New York Hearing performers auditioned to be the Jets and once Brewer had cast her hearing Tony and deaf Maria then came the challenge of teaching them all to sing sign and dance the riveting show numbers for which the musical is renowned She also had to manage a series of sensitive issues from ensuring the seamless incorporation of American Sign Language into the play to reassuring ISD administrators and students that the production would not be symbolic of any conflict between Deaf and hearing people Author Mark Rigney portrays superbly the progress of the production including the frustrations and triumphs of the leads the labyrinthine campus and community politics and the inevitable clashes between the deaf high school cast members and their hearing college counterparts His representations of the many individuals involved are real and distinguished The ultimate success of the MacMurray production reverberates in Deaf Side Story as a keen depiction of how several distinct individuals from as many cultures could cooperate to perform a classic American art form brilliantly together

Schoenberg and Hollywood Kenneth H. Marcus, 2016-01-14 Schoenberg is often viewed as an isolated composer who was ill at ease in exile In this book Kenneth H. Marcus shows that in fact Schoenberg's connections to Hollywood ran deep and most of the composer's exile compositions had some connection to the cultural and intellectual environment in which he found himself He was friends with numerous successful film industry figures including George Gershwin Oscar Levant David Raksin and Alfred Newman and each contributed to the composer's life and work in different ways helping him to obtain students making recordings of his music and arranging commissions While teaching at both the University of Southern California and the University of California Los Angeles Schoenberg was able to bridge two utterly different worlds the film industry and the academy Marcus shows that alongside Schoenberg's vital impact upon Southern California Modernism through his pedagogy compositions and texts he also taught students who became central to American musical modernism including John Cage and Lou Harrison      Modernism and Opera Richard Begam, Matthew Wilson Smith, 2016-11 A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P Q R S T U V W X Y Z      Contemporary World Musicians Clifford Thompson, 2020-10-07 Music lovers researchers students librarians and teachers can trace the personal and artistic influences behind music makers from Elton John to Leontyne Price Individual entries on over 400 of the world's most renowned and accomplished living performers composers conductors and band leaders in musical genres from opera to hip hop Also includes an in depth Index covering musicians of all eras so that readers can learn which artists alive or dead influenced the work of today's most important figures in the music industry
