1. INTRODUCTION

The distinguished editors of a 2021 collection of essays on the history of Transnational Criminal Law (to which I contributed) offer some definitions in their Introduction.^{1,2} They distinguish between a narrow group of ‘crimes under international law’ and a broader category which includes ‘transnational criminal law:’

Crimes under international law (core crimes) ‘are any crimes that involve direct responsibility under international law.’³ These so-called ‘core crimes’⁴ genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes and aggression, are the ‘most serious crimes of concern to the international community.’⁵ In contrast, the term ‘international crime’ is best reserved to include all crimes with an international element, no matter how peripheral.⁶

International Criminal Law (lato sensu) means all norms of criminal law that have some relationship with an international or foreign law norm whether direct or indirect
