On the Very Edge Ian Kinane, 2025-01-15 On the Very Edge Bidentities in Michelle Cliff's Fiction uses the life and work of bisexual biracial and bicultural author Michelle Cliff 1946-2016 to develop an entirely new approach to intersectional cultural race and gender sexuality studies that prioritizes bi-ness as a methodological tool The book focuses not simply on bisexuality biracialism or biculturalism as isolated identity concepts rather it explores the very nature of these intersectional identity categories as configured by Cliff The text therefore represents a reclamation of bi-identity in Cliff's work as a much broader cultural and not just sexual or racial category arguing that Cliff's spaces and/or stages of bi-ness are in themselves significant in understanding contemporary global identity politics as well as in navigating complex and often damaging identity constructs Michelle Cliff partnered with poet Adrienne Rich and passing as white had an often invisible sexuality and cultural identity Yet her acclaimed work Abeng No Telephone to Heaven Bodies of Water If I Could Write This in Fire Free Enterprise and others demonstrates the intersections between bisexuality biracialism and biculturalism in often profound ways Drawing on original research interviews diaries editorials and other correspondences On the Very Edge will have far reaching implications in the understanding of complex Caribbean identity politics and intersectional race gender and sexuality studies at large

Here Once is a luminous and penetrating portrait of a fascinatingly elusive artist #MeToo and Modernism Robin E. Field, Jerrica Jordan, 2023-01-16 MeToo and Modernism offers a blend of cultural historical literary and pedagogical responses applied to the themes behind today's ongoing MeToo Movement. This volume is organized into four sections: a three-part chronological response in which scholars analyze literary understandings of how ripples of the MeToo Movement began to emerge in Modernist literature; followed by a pedagogical section on how to incorporate such teachings in university classrooms. Editors Robin E. Field and Jerrica Jordan foreword the collection with an introduction answering the question of why such a volume is necessary in today's educational landscape. The introduction summarizes the current scholarship regarding MeToo and Modernism while also uncovering the omissions, particularly in approaching nonbinary or queer writers as well as writers of color that still exist. As a response, many of these essays attempt to approach these gaps. Furthermore, the introduction shows how more traditional Modernist writers including Woolf, Forster, Wells, and Joyce served as forerunners of early glimmers of the MeToo Movement in Modernist Literature. Race, Nation, Translation Zoë Wicomb, 2018-11-20 The first collection of nonfiction critical writings by one of the leading literary figures of post-apartheid South Africa. The most significant nonfiction writings of Zoë Wicomb, one of South Africa's leading authors and intellectuals, are collected here for the first time in a single volume. This compilation features critical essays on the works of such prominent South African writers as Bessie Head, Nadine Gordimer, Njabulo Ndebele, and J. M. Coetzee, as well as writings on gender, politics, race, identity, visual art, sexuality, and a wide range of other cultural and political topics. Also included are a reflection on Nelson Mandela and a revealing interview with Wicomb. In these essays written between 1990 and 2013, Wicomb offers insight on her nation's history, policies, and people. In a world in which nationalist rhetoric is on the rise and diversity and pluralism are the declared enemies of right-wing populist movements, her essays speak powerfully to a wide range of international issues.

Excursions into Modernism Joyce Kelley, 2017-05-15 Positioned at a crossroads between feminist geographies and modernist studies, Excursions into Modernism considers transnational modernist fiction in tandem with more rarely explored travel narratives by women of the period who felt increasingly free to journey abroad and redefine themselves through travel. In an era when Western artists, writers, and musicians sought primitive ideas for artistic renewal, Joyce E. Kelley locates a key similarity between fiction and travel writing in the way women authors use foreign experiences to inspire innovations with written expression and self-articulation. She focuses on the pairing of outward journeys with more inward, introspective ones made possible through reconceptualizing and mobilizing elements of women's traditional corporeal and domestic geographies: the skin, the ill body, the womb, and the piano. In texts ranging from Jean Rhys's Voyage in the Dark to Virginia Woolf's The Voyage Out and from Evelyn Scott's Escapade to Dorothy Richardson's Pilgrimage, Kelley explores how interactions between geographic movement, identity formation, and imaginative excursions produce modernist experimentation. Drawing on fascinating supplementary and archival materials such as letters, diaries, newspaper articles, photographs and unpublished drafts Kelley's book cuts across national and geographic borders to offer rich and often revisionary interpretations of both canonical and lesser known works
