Doing History Mark Donnelly, Dr. Claire Norton, Claire Norton, 2011 History as an academic discipline has dramatically changed over the last few decades and has become much more exciting and varied as a result of ideas from other disciplines the influence of postmodernism and historians incorporation of their own theoretical reflections into their work The way history is studied at university level can vary greatly from history at school or as represented in the media and Doing History bridges that gap Aimed at students of history in their final year of secondary education or beginning degrees this is the ideal introduction to studying history as an academic subject at university Doing History presents the ideas and debates that shape how we do history today covering arguments about nature of historical knowledge and the function of historical writing whether we can really ever know what happened in the past what sources historians depend on and whether the historians version of history has more value than popular histories This practical and accessible introduction to the discipline introduces students to these key discussions familiarises them with the important terms and issues equips them with the necessary vocabulary and encourages them to think about and engage with these questions Clearly structured and accessibly written it is an essential volume for all students embarking on the study of history

A Short History of Disruptive Journalism Technologies Will Mari, 2019-02-07 A Short History of Disruptive Journalism Technologies provides a swift analysis of the computerization of the newsroom from the mid 1960s through to the early 1990s It focuses on how word processing and a number of related affordances including mobile reporting tools impacted the daily work routines of American news workers The narrative opens with the development of mainframes and their attendant use as databases in large daily newspapers It moves on to the minicomputer era and explores initial news worker experiences with computers for editing and publication Following this the book examines the microprocessor era and the rise of smart terminals microcomputers and off the shelf hardware software along with the increasing use of computers in smaller news organizations Mari then turns to the use of pre internet networks wire services and bulletin boards deployed for user interaction He looks at the integration of decentralized computer networks in newsrooms with a mix of content management systems and PCs and the increasing use of pagers and cellphones for news gathering including the shift from portable to mobile conceptualizations for these technologies A Short History of Disruptive Journalism Technologies is an illuminating survey for students and instructors of journalism studies It represents an important acknowledgement of the impact of pre internet technological disruptions which led to the even more disruptive internet and related computing technologies in the latter 1990s and through the present Annals of Natural History ,1839 The History of England from the Commencement of the XIXth Century to the Crimean War Harriet Martineau,1864 Linguistics of History Roy Harris,2019-07-30 This book is the first comprehensive attempt to trace the relationship between Western philosophy of history and Western philosophy of language History of the Earth and Animated Nature Oliver Goldsmith,1859 *A short history of the Methodists in the United States.
