

Sometimes I Feel Scared

Sometimes I feel scared.

Scared is how I feel when something is frightening.

When I am scared I might cry.

I might feel scared in the dark.

Different things make different people feel scared.

When feeling scared I could try reminding myself "I can do this".

I can do this!

Meaning in Life Joel Vos,2018-06-15 This inspiring insightful new text provides a practical guide to helping clients live a meaningful and satisfying life despite the challenges they may be facing Divided into three parts it starts by drawing on empirical research to demonstrate the effectiveness of meaning oriented practice and reviews a large body of literature on meaning in a wide range of psychological and philosophical approaches translating this into specific recommendations for practitioners It continues by exploring the basic skill set required for working effectively in this area from how to assess clients needs and address issues of meaning to specific existential phenomenological and mindfulness skills Finally it provides a step guide to applying the skills to clinical practice with the support of examples and case studies from a range of professions In what is still an emerging area of practice this text stands alone as a comprehensive source of reference for both students and practitioners across the full range of people professions Autobiographical Memory Charles P. Thompson,Douglas J. Herrmann,Darryl Bruce,J. Don Read,David G. Payne,2014-10-10 The organization of the first Society for

Applied Research in Memory and Cognition SARMAC conference centered around two specifically identifiable research topics autobiographical memory and eyewitness memory These two areas long time staples on the menu of investigators of memory in more natural settings differ on a variety of dimensions perhaps most notably in their specific goals for scientific inquiry and application For many questions about memory and cognition that are of interest to scientific psychology there have been historical as well as rather arbitrary reasons for their assignment to the autobiographical or eyewitness memory fields Perhaps as a result of differing historical orientations the first volume s seven autobiographical memory chapters focus upon the qualities or types of recall from research participants whereas the seven chapters in the eyewitness memory volume generally focus upon the quantity a concern for completeness and accuracy of recall This interest in the ultimate end product and its application within the legal process in general encourages eyewitness memory investigators to modify their testing procedures continually in an attempt to gain even more information from participants about an event Indeed several of the eyewitness memory chapters reflect such attempts Beyond the specific contributions of each chapter to the literature on autobiographical and eyewitness memory the editors hope that the reader will come away with some general observations the autobiographical and eyewitness memory fields are thriving these two fields are likely to remain center stage in the further investigation of memory in natural contexts although the autobiographical and eyewitness memory chapters have been segregated in these two volumes the separation is often more arbitrary than real and connections between the two areas abound the two research traditions are entirely mindful of fundamental laboratory methods research and theory sometimes drawing their research inspirations from that quarter and the two fields though driven largely by everyday memory concerns can contribute to a more basic understanding of memory at both an empirical and a theoretical level
