Son Of Laughter A Novel:

The Son of Laughter Frederick Buechner, 2009-10-13 Rich in family drama passion and human affinity critically acclaimed author Frederick Buechner's contemporary retelling of this captivating and timeless biblical saga revitalizes the ancient story of Jacob delighted our senses and modern sensibilities and gracing us with his exceptional eloquence and wit

The Book of Buechner W. Dale Brown, 2006-01-01 The most thorough and extensive investigation ever written on the much beloved writer The Book of Buechner explores the ways in which Frederick Buechner's writing particularly his fiction presents the possibilities of grace in the midst of the ambiguities of human existence and introduces themes of Christian faith Both long time readers and neophytes seeking a guide through his writings will delight in the illuminating analysis Dale Brown has to offer Intelligent and gratifying The Book of Buechner is a much overdue literary journey through one of the most significant American writers of the last fifty years

A Son's Return Sterling A. Brown, 1996 Essays on African American politics literature and music by Sterling A Brown 1901 1989 which point out the biases against black Americans in white cultural expression and argue for a recognition of the cultural contributions of African Americans

Monumental Space in the Post-Imperial Novel Rita Sakr, 2011-12-01 Establishes a two way interpretive methodology between theory history and geography and the novel that serves as the groundwork for innovative interdisciplinary readings of monumental space

Faith and Fiction Anita Gandolfo, 2007-08-30 In recent years there has been an explosion in the market for fiction on religious topics and themes most notably Dan Brown's The Da Vinci Code The variety of contemporary religious fiction and the publishing phenomenon surrounding it indicate that this literature transcends any overt religious meaning and is significant in its political and social implications it is emblematic of the contemporary American Zeitgeist Traditionally literature is both mirror and lamp reflecting the society that produces it and illuminating the values and interests of that society Recognizing both of those perspectives Gandolfo examines Christian literature's place in American culture today and explores the cultural meaning and significance of the wildly popular Christian fiction now available The phenomenon surrounding Dan Brown's The Da Vinci Code has led to a cottage industry of interpretations attacks and commentaries but one thing is certain the book has had an enormous impact on American society culture and religious understanding not to mention the publishing industry which scrambles to find similar religious books to feed to an eager public But The Da Vinci Code is not the only book of its type on the market today In recent years there has been an explosion in the market for fiction on religious topics and themes with an entire series devoted to the impending Rapture as described in the Left Behind series Some fiction does not take an explicitly religious theme as these books do Instead writers like Andre Dubus and Ron Hansen imbue their creative work with spiritual and religious themes embedded in the everyday lives and concerns of their characters Regardless of the specific approach what is not in doubt is that American readers have made the authors of these works wealthy as bookstores cannot stock their shelves with enough copies Why the recent surge of interest in Christian fiction How does it reflect trends in our culture and our lives How has it changed our society and our understanding of spirituality and religion How accurate are these books in terms of the theology they espouse The variety of contemporary religious fiction and the publishing phenomenon surrounding it indicate that this literature transcends any overt religious meaning and is significant in its political and social implications it is emblematic of the contemporary American Zeitgeist Traditionally literature is both mirror and lamp reflecting the society that produces it and illuminating the values and interests of that society Recognizing both of those perspectives Faith and Fiction examines Christian literature's place in American culture today and explores the cultural meaning and significance of the wildly popular Christian fiction now available

The Cathedral; A Novel Hugh Walpole, 2024-02-26 Reproduction of the original The publishing house Megali specialises in reproducing historical works in large print to make reading easier for people with impaired vision Laughter, Literature, Violence, 1840-1930 Jonathan Taylor, 2019-02-04 Laughter Literature Violence 1840 1930 investigates the strange complex even paradoxical relationship between laughter on the one hand and violence war horror death on the other It does so in relation to philosophy politics and key nineteenth and twentieth century literary texts by Edgar Allan Poe Edmund Gosse Wyndham Lewis and Katherine Mansfield texts which explore the far reaches of Schadenfreude and so called superiority theories of laughter pushing these theories to breaking point In these literary texts the violent superiority often ascribed to laughter is seen as radically unstable co existing with its opposite an anarchic sense of equality Laughter humour and comedy are slippery duplicitous ambivalent self contradictory hybrids fusing apparently discordant elements Now and then though literary and philosophical texts also dream of a different kind of laughter one which reaches beyond its alloys a transcendent perfect laughter which exists only in and for itself Consumption and Identity in Asian American

Coming-of-Age Novels Jennifer Ho, 2013-09-13 This interdisciplinary study examines the theme of consumption in Asian American literature connection representations of cooking and eating with ethnic identity formation Using four discrete modes of identification historic pride consumerism mourning and fusion Jennifer Ho examines how Asian American adolescents challenge and revise their cultural legacies and experiment with alternative ethnic affiliations through their relationships to food Black Fiction Roger Rosenblatt,1974 In this illuminating book Roger Rosenblatt offers both sensitive analyses of individual works and a provocative and compelling thesis He argues that black fiction has a unity deriving not from any chronological sequence or simply from its black authorship but from a particular cyclical conception of history on which practically every significant black American novel and short story is based Marked for oppression by an external physical characteristic black characters struggle constantly against and within a hostile world Rosenblatt s analysis of the way black protagonists try to break historical patterns provides an integrated and sustained interpretation of motives and methods in black fiction The black hero after starting on a circular track may try to change direction by means of his youth love education or humor or he may try to escape into his own elusive and vague history But as Rosenblatt demonstrates these attempts all fail And the black hero discovers in the failure of his attempts that the society which caused all this failure is not only unattainable but undesirable Neither a sociological study nor a routine survey this is distinctly a work of literary criticism which concentrates on black fiction as literature Modern Irish-American Fiction Daniel J. Casey,Robert E. Rhodes,1989-07-01 Reflected in these writings from twenty one Irish Americans are the themes common to all immigrant literature but from the authors own ethnic point of view The struggle for success forms the underlying structure in the stories by O Hara Curran and McCarthy and the changing values the New World imposes on the individual are seen in Edwin O Connor s Grand Day for Mr Garvey Irish wit and black humor pepper all the stories as represented by Dunn s bartender philosopher Dooley and Donleavy s Fairy Tale of New York Catholicism is omnipresent and is often characterized by the priest as in Fitzgerald s Benediction Power s Bill and Flaherty s Fogarty Themes that have an immense effect on the characters relationships are their difficulties in communicating with one another which Gill captures succinctly in The Cemetery and the repositioning of gender roles so evident in Cullinan s Life After Death and in Costello s Murphy s Xmas Finally there are the intense often contradictory feelings the characters have toward their homeland Hamill s Gift illustrates the desire to rid Ireland of British rule Gordon s neighborhood shows the immigrants embarrassment over their origins Editors Casey and Rhodes have organized these pieces chronologically beginning at the turn of the century Thus the selections illustrate the progression of Irish American literature and also fulfill the word of William Kennedy who said of his own writing those who came before helped to show me how to turn experience into literature A Study of the Modern Novel Annie Russell Marble,1928 Irish Novels 1890-1940 John Wilson Foster,2008-02-21 Studies of Irish fiction are still scanty in contrast to studies of Irish poetry and drama Attempting to fill a large critical vacancy Irish Novels 1890 1940 is a comprehensive survey of popular and minor fiction mainly novels published between 1890 and 1922 a crucial period in Irish cultural and political history Since the bulk of these sixty odd writers have never been written about certainly beyond brief mentions the book opens up for further exploration a literary landscape hitherto neglected perhaps even unsuspected This new landscape should alter the familiar perspectives on Irish literature of the period first of all by adding genre fiction science fiction detective novels ghost stories New Woman fiction and Great War novels to the Irish syllabus secondly by demonstrating the immense contribution of women writers to popular and mainstream Irish fiction Among the popular and prolific female writers discussed are Mrs J H Riddell B M Croker M E Francis Sarah Grand Katharine Tynan Ella MacMahon Katherine Cecil Thurston W M Letts and Hannah Lynch Indeed a critical inference of the survey is that if there is a discernible tradition of the Irish novel it is largely a female tradition A substantial postscript surveys novels by Irish women between 1922 and 1940 and relates them to the work of their female antecedents This ground breaking survey should also alter the familiar perspectives on the Ireland of 1890 1922 Many of the popular works were problem novels and hence throw light on contemporary thinking and debate on the Irish Question After the Irish Literary Revival and creation of the Free State much popular and mainstream fiction became a lost archive neglected evidence indeed of a lost Ireland

Flaubert and Sons is a study of the narrative processes at work in novels of three French authors Flaubert Zola and Proust The work focuses on the theories of representation posited by the authors and on the crises of representation in their novels Studies of Madame Bovary and Bouvard et Panchette show the strategies that Flaubert uses to establish verisimilitude As one of Flaubert's heirs Zola creates a textual machine in Les Rougon-Macquart a paradigm seen in embryonic form in Thérèse Raquin this mechanization of the text is a means of dealing with the problematics of verisimilar representation As Flaubert's other son Proust develops theories of the textual subject throughout the Recherche as his means of dealing with and overcoming the legacies of realism Flaubert and Sons follows a line of development of the French novel from realism through the beginning of the twentieth century A Bibliography of the Negro in Africa and America, 1928
