Social Logics Conversations Groups In Everyday Life:

Social Logics, Conversations and Groups in Everyday Life James Hill Parker, 1985-06-11 Health Care and Freedom James Hill Parker, 1994 Human Resources Abstracts, 1986 Cybernetica, 1993 Logics II James Hill Parker, 1992 The author attempts to link the social and biological sciences in a new way It appears that there are Social Logics which are cross cultural and seem to have a biological substrate This book shows how the biological baseline can be used for research into social cultural and other forms of organization It includes three case studies which use Logics Analysis to illustrate how this method can be successfully applied to group structure and process Parker discusses evidence for Social Logics through principles of language art myth literature and music Contents The Social Logics Paradigm Issues about Interpretation and Method Social Logics Analysis of Real Situations Conclusion The New England Book of the Dead James Hill Parker, 1995 This unique book is a study of northern New England and its culture s views of death The author James Hill Parker pieces together conversations funerals and other evidence of a latent Book of the Dead He also makes comparisons with the Mayan and various books of the dead The book discusses several methodological problems that were encountered in the author s search for the New England and other books of the dead Readers will benefit from the information that Parker has gathered due to his insider outside status His intriguing work will surely interest historians sociologists and the literate public who want to learn more about New England s cultural history A Handbook of Media and Communication Research Klaus Bruhn Jensen, 2013-03 This handbook covers perspectives from both the social sciences and the humanities It provides guidelines for how to think about plan and carry out studies of media in different social and cultural contexts The Logic of Intersubjectivity Darren M. Slade, 2020-08-27 To survey harsh criticisms against Brian Douglas McLaren 1956 readers gain the inaccurate impression that he is a heretical relativist who denies objective truth and logic While McLaren s inflammatory and provocative writing style is partly to blame this study also suspects that his critics base much of their analyses on only small portions of his overall corpus The result becomes a caricature of McLaren s actual philosophy of religion What is argued in this book is that McLaren s philosophy of religion suggests a faith based intersubjective relationship with the divine ought to result in an existential appropriation of Christ s religio ethical teachings When subjectively internalized this appropriation will lead to the assimilation of Jesus kingdom priorities thereby transforming the believer s identity into one that actualizes Jesus kingdom ideals The hope of this book is that by tracing McLaren s philosophy of Christian religion future researchers will not only be able to comprehend and perhaps empathize with McLaren s line of reasoning but they will also possess a more nuanced discernment of where they agree and disagree with his overall rationale Theory and Methods for Sociocultural Research in Science and Engineering Education Gregory J. Kelly, Judith L. Green, 2018-12-17 Introducing original methods for integrating sociocultural and discourse studies into science and engineering education this book provides a much needed framework for how to conduct qualitative research in this field The three dimensions of learning identified in the Next Generation Science Standards NGSS create a need for research methods that examine the sociocultural components of science education With cutting edge studies and examples consistent with the NGSS this book offers comprehensive research methods for integrating discourse and sociocultural practices in science and engineering education and provides key tools for applying this framework for students pre service teachers scholars and researchers

Heritage Traces in the Making Jean Davallon, 2024-07-23 The world is full of traces of the past ranging from things as different as monuments and factories to farms eco museums landscapes mountaineering and even woven grass bridges These traces must be protected and passed on to future generations Communicational analysis shows that these traces have acquired the status of heritage by becoming communicative beings imbued with a new social life Up until the 1970s and 1980s granting this status was the prerogative of the state New modes then emerged increasingly involving social actors and the publicization of knowledge Today the heritage recognition of these traces also depends on interpretative schemes that circulate in society notably through the media Heritage Traces in the Making is aimed at anyone researchers professionals and students who is interested in how heritage is created and how it evolves

Mediated Identity in the Emerging Digital Age Hubert J.M. Hermans, 2022-03-24 This book illustrates the process of mediated dialogue in a digital age It shows that culture and self like society and identity are conceived as mutually inclusive and shows how technology is able to create a new form of dialogue that is very personal and very public at the same time The first article shows that culture and self like society and identity are conceived as mutually inclusive Then looks at how technology is able to create a new form of dialogue that is very personal and very public at the same time The third paper looks at education Next SMS a medium of communication is covered The last two papers focus on television which is seen as a social space that offers a variety of possible self images through audience discussion programs its participants and the disclosure of private stories and historical changes in the notion of space Who Runs the Artworld Brad Buckley, John Conomos, 2017-09-01 Who Runs the Artworld: Money, Power, and Ethics examines the economics and mythologies of today's global artworld. It unmaskes the complex web of relationships that now exist among high profile curators, collectors, museum trustees and corporate sponsors and the historic and ongoing complicity between the art and money markets. The book examines alternative models being deployed by curators and artists influenced by the 2008 global financial crisis and the international socio-political Occupy movement with a particular focus on a renewed activism by artists. This activism is coupled with an institutional and social critique led by groups such as Liberate Tate, the Precarious Workers Brigade and Strike Debt. Who Runs the Artworld: Money, Power, and Ethics brings together a diverse range of thinkers who draw on the disciplines of art theory, social sciences and cultural economics and curatorship and the lived experience of artists. The contributors to this book are in their respective contexts working at the forefront of these compelling issues.
