Late Georgian and Regency England, 1760-1837 Robert A. Smith, 2004-07-08 A guide to historical literature on England between 1760 and 1837 emphasising more recent work The Architecture of the French Enlightenment Allan Braham, 1989-01-01 Allan Braham's comprehensive treatment of this brilliant and complex period introduces the reader to the major buildings architects and architectural patrons of the day At the same time it explores the broader determinants of architectural production the rapid economic expansion of Paris and the main provincial centers and the increasing demand for improved public amenities theaters schools markets and hospitals This generously illustrated book provides a vivid commentary on society and manners in pre Revolutionary France Passion and Control: Dutch Architectural Culture of the Eighteenth Century Freek Schmidt, 2017-07-28 Passion and Control explores Dutch architectural culture of the eighteenth century revealing the central importance of architecture to society in this period and redefining long established paradigms of early modern architectural history Architecture was a passion for many of the men and women in this book wealthy patrons burgomasters princes and scientists were all in turn infected with architectural mania It was a passion shared with artists architects and builders and a vast cast of Dutch society who contributed to a complex web of architectural discourse and who influenced building practice The author presents a rich tapestry of sources to reconstruct the cultural context and meaning of these buildings as they were perceived by contemporaries including representations in texts drawings and prints and builds on recent research by cultural historians on consumerism material culture and luxury print culture and the public sphere and the history of ideas and mentalities A Space of Their Own: The Archaeology of Nineteenth Century Lunatic Asylums in Britain, South Australia and Tasmania Susan Piddock, 2007-12-18 Employing the considerable archaeological and historical skills in her armory Susan Piddock tries to lift the lid on the lunatic asylums of years gone by Films and television programs have portrayed them as places of horror where the patients are restrained and left to listen to the cries of their fellow inmates in despair But what was the world of nineteenth century lunatic asylums really like Are these images true or are we laboring under a misunderstanding Planning Paris Before Haussmann Nicholas Papayanis, 2004-10-13 Publisher Description The Making of Home Judith Flanders, 2015-09-08 The idea that home is a special place a separate place a place where we can be our true selves is so obvious to us today that we barely pause to think about it But as Judith Flanders shows in her best and most ambitious work to date home is a relatively new idea In The Making of Home Flanders traces the evolution of the house from the sixteenth to the early twentieth century across northern Europe and America showing how the homes we know today bear only a faint resemblance to homes through history What turned a house into the concept of home Why did northwestern Europe a politically unimportant sociologically underdeveloped region of the world suddenly become the powerhouse of the Industrial Revolution the capitalist crucible that created modernity While investigating these important questions Flanders uncovers the fascinating development of ordinary household items from cutlery chairs and curtains to the fitted kitchen plumbing and windows while also dismantling many domestic myths In this prodigiously researched and engagingly written book Flanders brilliantly and elegantly draws together the threads of religion history economics technology and the arts to show not merely what happened but why it happened how we ended up in a world where we can all say like Dorothy in Oz There s no place like home
