The Idea of Social Structure Lewis A. Coser, 2017-07-12

Written and compiled by friends and former students The Idea of Social Structure honors Robert K Merton considered one of the premier sociologists of the twentieth century Along with Talcott Parsons and Marion J Levy Merton was emphatic in his use of the term social structure however different they were in defining and refining the term The chapters in this volume address many of Merton s diverse sociological theories and in turn his theories impact upon a very large sociological territory The volume includes major statements on the context of working with Merton by Lewis A Coser Paul F Lazarsfeld Robert A Nisbet and Seymour Martin Lipset as well as memorable statements covering Merton s interests in the sociology of knowledge and science planning communities medical education relative deprivation everyday life political roles and communication media This is a powerful sourcebook for understanding the work of Merton and of his intellectual successors Nisbet called the decade of the 1930s among the most vital and creative periods in American history It was certainly a period of intense struggle political military and ideological But the formation of modern sociology was without question one of the crowning achievements in the scientific evolution of the century The volume is sharply focused on Merton s work and deeply appreciative of the nature of his contribution It is a landmark effort in the study of sociology as history      Science and the Sociology of Knowledge (RLE Social Theory) Michael Mulkay, 2014-08-07 How far is scientific knowledge a product of social life In addressing this question the major contributors to the sociology of knowledge have agreed that the conclusions of science are dependent on social action only in a very special and limited sense In Science and the Sociology of Knowledge Michael Mulkay s first aim is to identify the philosophical assumptions which have led to this view of science as special and to present a systematic critique of the standard philosophical account of science showing that there are no valid epistemological grounds for excluding scientific knowledge from the scope of sociological analysis The rest of the book is devoted to developing a preliminary interpretation of the social creation of scientific knowledge The processes of knowledge creation are delineated through a close examination of recent case studies of scientific developments Dr Mulkay argues that knowledge is produced by means of negotiation the outcome of which depends on the participants use of social as well as technical resources The analysis also shows how cultural resources are taken over from the broader social milieu and incorporated into the body of certified knowledge and how in the political context of society at large scientists technical as well as social claims are conditioned and affected by their social position      Research in Social Stratification and Mobility Kevin T Leicht, 2005-06-04 Research in Social Stratification and Mobility continues its tradition of publishing the best and most innovative research on the changing landscape of social inequality the world over This issue focuses on different dimensions of social closure and their relationship to social inequality processes including the changing role that education plays in sorting people into favorable and unfavorable labor market positions across a global diversity of cultural settings This issue also examines the fluid boundaries of race and ethnicity in contentious political settings relationships between attitudes and collective action and the role that technology and political context plays in promoting economic development and well being These topics and the research methodologies they represent display the vitality of social science research dealing with social stratification and the wide array of methods contexts and policies that directly affect the life chances of most of the world's peoples This issue also marks a continuation of the ties developed between RSSM and the Social Stratification and Mobility section of the International Sociological Association RC 28 This collaboration promises to promote and disseminate social inequality research throughout the world through an established network of distinguished international contributors and commentators

The Social Construction of the US Academic Elite Stephanie Beyer, 2021-09-06 This book explores the stark stratification and struggles over classifications in US academia from a relational perspective looking beyond material differences and tracing its roots to symbolic power relations Based on a mixed methods study drawing on both interview and quantitative data it offers an account of the workings of academia shedding light on the structures that permit elite departments to define categories and impose legitimate scientific definitions to which the non elite must adhere With a focus on two scientific disciplines the author shows how the translation of objective structures into mental structures establishes a relationship of power with regard to the definition of scientific categories thus determining access to resources and opportunities to participate and move within the academic field A study of the unequal intrusion of economic logics into the academic domain this volume will appeal to scholars policy makers and institutional leaders with interests in higher education inequality within science academic careers power relationships and competition in the academy
