African Cultural Personalities in a World of Change Ikechukwu Anthony Kanu, Ejikemeuwa J. O. Ndubisi, Kanayo Nwadiakor, 2018-08-16 This notwithstanding over the years the African culture in all its manifestations became the bulls eye for attack especially during the Atlantic Slave Trade Colonialism Racism During these periods Europe dealt coup de grace to the African personality to his is ness by destroying the African cultural values They disrespected African peculiarities languages enriched with traditions of centuries parables many of them the quintessence of family and national histories modes of thought influenced more or less by local circumstances local poetry which reveals the profundity of African literary wizardry A lot of these were altered against the background that the African in all his susceptibilities is an inferior race and that it is needful to give him a foreign model beacon to emulate and follow In our time of globalization bringing about a new sweep of changes on the African cultural values a more careful historically grounded interpretation of the cultural changes occurring on the continent is therefore needed and for it to be useful it should enable us to transcend the narrow and narrowing parameters that currently dominate the discourse on the processes and structures of change occurring in contemporary Africa This piece is a great accomplishment by African scholars to do a grounded hermeneutics of the structures of changes taking place in Africa The different chapters are the fruits of the 2018 International Conference of the Association for the Promotion of African Studies APAS The authors like artists combine originality with insightful imagination They have carefully treated the historical conceptual basic and substantive issues in cultural change in Africa Their coherent systematic and encyclopedic approaches have the capacity to expand the intellectual and professional horizon of its readers

Carpenter, Anna Marie Prentiss, 2021-11-25 Archaeology of Households Kinship and Social Change offers new perspectives on the processes of social change from the standpoint of household archaeology This volume develops new theoretical and methodological approaches to the archaeology of households pursuing three critical themes household diversity in human residential communities with and without archaeologically identifiable houses interactions within and between households that explicitly considers impacts of kin and non kin relationships and lastly change as a process that involves the choices made by members of households in the context of larger societal constraints Encompassing these themes authors explore the role of social ties and their material manifestations within the house dwelling or other constructed space how the household relates to other social units how households consolidate power and control over resources and how these changes manifest at multiple scales The case studies presented in this volume have broader implications for understanding the drivers of change the ways households create the contexts for change and how households serve as spaces for invention reaction and or resistance Understanding the nature of relationships within households is necessary for a more complete understanding of communities and regions as these ties are vital to explaining how and why societies change Taking a comparative outlook with case studies from around the world this volume will inform students and professionals researching household archaeology and be of interest to other disciplines concerned with the relationship between social networks and societal change Social Change Alicia Swords, 2024-08-21 Social Change Movements Politics and Technology is a groundbreaking exploration of social transformation from a conflict theory perspective offering a deep dive into the historical and sociological analysis of leaders within contemporary social movements This text reader is an essential guide for those seeking to understand the dynamics of social change and the role of social actors in shaping the future Foundation Course in Social Sciences and Humanities Mr. Rohit Manglik, 2023-05-23 Introduces core concepts from sociology history and humanities Unfinished Agenda Manning Nash, 2019-03-18 Based on comprehensive anthropological field work and uniting ethnographic material with broader generalizations about the processes of modernization this book presents an analysis of social change since decolonization in Latin America the Middle East and particularly in Southeast Asia Professor Nash focuses on societies that are attempting to Social Science Perspectives on Climate Change David Canter, 2017-10-02 Although it is generally accepted that the climate is changing for the worse and that human activities are a major contributing factor in that change there is still only marginal response to the challenge posed by climate change The reasons behind this limited response are becoming clearer through the recognition that climate change is not just a set of physical science facts but it is also part of a series of complex social processes Consequently this book is important in providing social science perspectives on a range of attempts to adjust human activity to reduce its environmental impact These attempts vary from the changing of the dress code in Japanese offices to the creation of zero carbon gated communities in Bangalore India Taken together the contributions to this book provide timely insights into the complexities of saving the planet through human endeavour This book was originally published as a special issue of Contemporary Social Science International Research in Social, Human and Administrative Sciences IX Assist. Prof. Dr. Salim Sercan Sari, 2023-01-28 nternational Research in Social Human and Administrative Sciences IX How Does a Society Change? Ingerid S. Straume, 2023-05-08 One of the most challenging questions of today concerns how human activities threaten the conditions for our very own existence With one crisis leading into the next the need for socio political change is necessary and desirable yet so hard to imagine in practice At the heart of the matter is a deeper crisis of the socio political imagination To understand how a society produces and changes itself Ingerid S Straume points to historical and contemporary institutions and the imaginaries they embody and argues that the key to social creativity is found in the reflexive potential of institutions especially politics and education Neoliberal rationality on its part has become dominant in many parts of the world precisely by occulting the socio political capacity for self reflection This occultation takes place in academic theories policy reforms technologies and in individuals self understanding In response to the planetary eco crises and the weakening of democratic ideals a new approach is needed where collectives not individuals in isolation become the mode for living well within existing natural limits Inspired by important political thinkers such as Cornelius Castoriadis and Hannah Arendt How Does a Society Change develops a theoretical framework to elucidate how politics and education are two interrelated domains wherein a society may openly reflect upon itself In short a society that recognizes its capacity to change itself also recognizes the transformative instituting potential of politics and education
