Modern Cultures Adrian Franklin,1999-03-30 The dramatic transformation of relationships between humans and animals in the 20th century are investigated in this fascinating and accessible book At the beginning of this century these relationships were dominated by human needs and interests modernization was a project which was attached to the goal of progress and animals were merely resources to be used on the path towards human fulfilment These relationships are increasingly being subjected to criticism and a new field of interest in human animal relationships has opened up We are now urged to be more sensitive and compassionate to animal needs and interests to understand their mindedness and how their lives and ours are entangled This book focuses on social change and animals it is concerned with how humans relate to animals and how this has changed and why Moreover it highlights through chapters on companion animals hunting and fishing animal leisure such as birdwatching and wildlife parks and the meat and livestock industries how attitudes and practices towards animals vary widely according to social class ethnicity gender region and nation Draft Marine Bill Bernan,Great Britain.
Parliament. Joint Committee on the Draft Marine Bill,2008 The Marine Bill was designed to establish a new UK wide strategic system of marine planning to balance conservation energy and resource needs based on the principle of sustainable development and working with the devolved administrations The Committee reports here reservations about the framework nature of the draft Bill It was felt that too much of its policy is contained in secondary legislation or guidance That there are significant areas of confusion of responsibility between UK and international especially EU obligations between devolved administrations the many agencies and other bodies who will be involved in delivering the proposals in the Bill
