The Conflict Of European And Eastern Algonkian Cultures 1504 17:

The Conflict of European and Eastern Algonkian Cultures, 1504-1700 Alfred Goldsworthy Bailey, 1969-12-15 The movement of one cultural group into the territory of another has always produced conflict a conflict which is resolved at times by the obliteration of one group but more often by a gradual fusion of elements drawn from both This study examines the conflict between the Europeans and the Indians precipitated by the arrival of the French in the New World The Indians were necessarily affected by the fur trade and the religious and social development of New France and the meeting of contrary cultures resulted in most cases in the obliteration of that of the Indian However a fusion of Indian and European elements sometimes occurred resulting in the birth of a Canadian culture The process has been repeated with the immigration of every new cultural group to Canada This study analyses the conflict and traces the fusion of Canadian culture in its initial stage First published in 1937 the book has proved an importance contribution to an area of early Canadian history which has been receiving renewed attention This edition contains the original text with the addition of an index and a new chapter appraising some of the leading developments of the past few years The Conflict of European and Eastern Algonkian Cultures, 1504-1700 Alfred Goldsworthy Bailey, 1934 History of the Native People of Canada, Volume III (A.D. 500 - European Contact) James Vallière Wright, 1996-01-01 Part 1 of the final volume of A History of the Native People of Canada treats eastern Canada and the southern Subarctic regions of the Prairies from A D 500 to European contact It examines the association of archaeological sites with the Native peoples recorded in European documents and particularly the agricultural revolution of the Iroquoian people of the Lower Great Lakes and Upper St Lawrence River Part 2 was never completed as the author passed away Published in English Culture and Experience A. Irving Hallowell, 2017-01-31 This volume of selected papers celebrates the sixtieth birthday of Dr A Irving Hallowell Countering Colonization Carol Devens, 2023-04-28 Countering Colonization Native American Women and Great Lakes Missions 1630 1900 delves into the complex interplay of gender colonization and resistance in Native American communities This groundbreaking study seeks to shift Native American women from the margins of history to their rightful place as active participants in the narrative Focusing on the missions in the Great Lakes region the book explores how indigenous gender dynamics influenced responses to missionary endeavors and colonization By examining Jesuit and Protestant missions over several centuries it uncovers patterns of community unity grudging accommodation and gender based division that highlight the nuanced effects of colonization Through meticulous analysis of historical records and missionary accounts the book reveals how colonial systems disrupted Native American gender relations particularly as missionaries introduced European patriarchal norms These disruptions often caused deep rifts within communities with men and women taking divergent paths toward either assimilation or resistance The study argues that tensions between genders in Native communities were not inherent but were instead a direct consequence of colonization This nuanced perspective reshapes our understanding of Native American social dynamics and provides critical insights into the enduring impact of colonial forces on indigenous cultures This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1992

Reflections on Native-Newcomer Relations J.R. Miller,2004-12-15 The twelve essays that make up Reflections on Native Newcomer Relations illustrate the development in thought by one of Canada s leading scholars in the field of Native history J R Miller The collection comprising pieces that were written over a period spanning nearly two decades deals with the evolution of historical writing on First Nations and M tis methodological issues in the writing of Native newcomer history policy matters including residential schools and linkages between the study of Native newcomer relations and academic governance and curricular matters Half of the essays appear here in print for the first time and all use archival published and oral history evidence to throw light on Native Newcomer relations Miller argues that the nature of the relationship between Native peoples and newcomers in Canada has varied over time based on the reasons the two parties have had for interacting The relationship deteriorates into attempts to control and coerce Natives during periods in which newcomers do not perceive them as directly useful and it improves when the two parties have positive reasons for cooperation Reflections on Native Newcomer Relations opens up for discussion a series of issues in Native newcomer history It addresses all the trends in the discipline of the past two decades and never shies from showing their contradictions as well as those in the author s own thinking as he matured as a scholar

Applied Anthropology in Canada Edward J. Hedican,2008-07-05 Anthropologists are often reluctant to present their work relating to matters of a broad social context to the wider public even though many have much to say about a range of contemporary issues In this second edition of a classic work in the field Edward J Hedican takes stock of Anthropology s research on current indigenous affairs and offers an up to date assessment of Aboriginal issues in Canada from the perspective of applied Anthropology In his central thesis Hedican underlines Anthropology s opportunity to make a significant impact on the way Aboriginal issues are studied perceived and interpreted in Canada He contends that anthropologists must quit lingering on the periphery of debates concerning land claims and race relations and become more actively committed to the public good His study ranges over such challenging topics as advocacy roles in Aboriginal studies the ethics of applied research policy issues in community development the political context of the self government debate and the dilemma of Aboriginal status and identity in Canada Applied Anthropology in Canada is an impassioned call for a revitalized Anthropology one more directly attuned to the practical problems faced by First Nations peoples Hedican s focus on Aboriginal issues gives his work a strong contemporary relevance that bridges the gap between scholarly and public spheres

Women, 'Race' and Writing in the Early Modern Period Margo Hendricks,Patricia Parker,2013-08-21 Women Race and Writing in the Early Modern Period is an extraordinarily comprehensive interdisciplinary examination of one of the most neglected areas in current scholarship The contributors use literary historical anthropological and medical materials to explore an important intersection within the major era of European imperial expansion The volume looks at the conditions of women s writing and the problems of female authorship in the period the tensions between recent feminist criticism and the questions of race empire and colonialism the relationship between the early modern period and post colonial theory and recent African writing Women Race and Writing in the Early Modern Period contains ground breaking work by some of the most exciting scholars in contemporary criticism and theory It will be vital reading for anyone working or studying in the field

A Pest in the Land Suzanne Austin Alchon, 2003-03 In this timely study of all the reasons for extreme declines in native populations in the New World after colonization by Europeans the author questions prevalent theories that exposure to Old World diseases was the sole cause of the devastation      Literary History of Canada William H. New, Carl Berger, Alan Cairns, Frances G. Halpenny, Henry Kreisel, Douglas Lochhead, Philip Stratford, Clara Thomas, 1990-12-15 This new volume of the Literary History of Canada covers the continuing development of English Canadian writing from 1972 to 1984 As with the three earlier volumes this book is an invaluable guide to recent developments in English Canadian literature and a resource for both the general reader and the specialist researcher The contributors to this volume are Laurie Ricou David Jackel Linda Hutcheon Philip Stratford Barry Cameron Balachandra Rajan Robert Fothergill Brian Parker Cynthia Zimmerman Frances Frazer Edith Fowke Bruce G Trigger Alan C Cairns Douglas Williams Carl Berger Shirley Neuman Raymond S Corteen and Frances G Halpenny      Children of Aataentsic Bruce G. Trigger, 1988-09-01 Trigger's work integrates insights from archaeology history ethnology linguistics and geography This wide knowledge allows him to show that far from being a static prehistoric society quickly torn apart by European contact and the fur trade almost every facet of Iroquoian culture had undergone significant change in the centuries preceding European contact He argues convincingly that the European impact upon native cultures cannot be correctly assessed unless the nature and extent of precontact change is understood His study not only stands Euro American stereotypes and fictions on their heads but forcefully and consistently interprets European and Indian actions thoughts and motives from the perspective of the Huron culture The Children of Aataentsic revises widely accepted interpretations of Indian behaviour and challenges cherished myths about the actions of some celebrated Europeans during the heroic age of Canadian history In a new preface Trigger describes and evaluates contemporary controversies over the ethnohistory of eastern Canada

American Encounters Peter C. Mancall, James Hart Merrell, 2000 A collection of articles that describe the relationships and encounters between Native Americans and Europeans throughout American history      Best Left as Indians Kenneth Coates, 1993 Barely a hundred and fifty years have passed since the first white people arrived at the upper Yukon River basin During this time many non Natives have come and gone and some have stayed Ken Coates examines the interaction between Native people and white      Canada and Arctic North America Graeme Wynn, 2006-11-10 This comprehensive treatment of the environmental history of northern North America offers a compelling account of the complex encounters of people technology culture and ecology that shaped modern day Canada and Alaska From the arrival of the earliest humans to the very latest scientific controversies the environmental history of Canada and Arctic North America is dramatic diverse and crucial for the very survival of the human race Packed with key facts and analysis this expert guide explores the complex interplay between human societies and the environment from the Aleutian Islands to the Grand Banks and from the Great Lakes to the Arctic Islands How has the challenging environment of America's most northerly regions with some areas still dominated by native peoples helped shape politics and trade What have been the consequences of European contact with this region and its indigenous inhabitants How did natives and newcomers cope with and change this vast and forbidding territory Can a perspective on the past help us in grappling with the conflict between oil exploration and wilderness preservation on the North Slope of Alaska Part of ABC CLIO s Nature and Human Societies series this unique work charts the region s environmental history from prehistory to modern times and is essential reading for students and experts alike

Great Peace of Montreal of 1701 Gilles Havard,2001-05-25 The last decades of the seventeenth century were marked by persistent bloody conflicts between the French and their Native allies on the one side and the Iroquois confederacy on the other In the summer of 1701 1 300 representatives of forty First Nations from the Maritimes to the Great Lakes and from James Bay to southern Illinois met with the French at Montreal Elaborate month long ceremonies culminated in the signing of The Great Peace of Montreal which effectively put an end to the Iroquois wars In The Great Peace of Montreal of 1701 Gilles Havard brings to life the European and Native players who brought about this major feat of international diplomacy He highlights the differing interests and strategies of the numerous First Nations involved while giving a dramatic account of the colourful conference The treaty Havard argues was the culmination of the French colonial strategy of Native alliances and adaptation to Native political customs It illustrates the extent of cultural interchange between the French and their Native allies and the crucial role the latter played in French conflicts with the Iroquois and the British As we approach the 300th anniversary of the treaty s signing in August 1701 Gilles Havard emphasizes its contemporary significance in signing a treaty with forty separate parties the French recognized the independent sovereignty of every First Nation This translation is significantly revised and updated from the original French publication of 1992      Roots of Entanglement Myra Rutherforddale,Kerry Abel,P. Whitney Lackenbauer,2018-01-31 Roots of Entanglement offers an historical exploration of the relationships between Indigenous peoples and European newcomers in the territory that would become Canada Various engagements between Indigenous peoples and the state are emphasized and questions are raised about the ways in which the past has been perceived and how those perceptions have shaped identity and in turn interaction both past and present Specific topics such as land resources treaties laws policies and cultural politics are explored through a range of perspectives that reflect state of the art research in the field of Indigenous history Editors Myra Rutherforddale Whitney Lackenbauer and Kerry Abel have assembled an array of top scholars including luminaries such as Keith Carlson Bill Waiser Skip Ray and Ken Coates Roots of Entanglement is a direct response to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission s call for a better appreciation of the complexities of history in the relationship between Indigenous and non Indigenous peoples in Canada      The New Peoples Jacqueline Peterson,Jennifer S.
