The Construction and Representation of Race and Ethnicity in the Caribbean and the World Mervyn C.

Alleyne,2002 The Construction and Representation of Race and Ethnicity in the Caribbean and the World Mervyn C.

Alleyne,2005 Race, Ethnicity, Crime and Criminal Justice in the Americas A. Kalunta-Crumpton,2012-01-25 This book examines race ethnicity crime and criminal justice in the Americas and moves beyond the traditional focus on North America to incorporate societies in Central America South America and the Caribbean Language, Race and the Global Jamaican

Hubert Devonish,Karen Carpenter,2020-06-23 This book examines the racial and socio linguistic dynamics of Jamaica a majority black nation where the dominant ideology continues to look to white countries as models yet which continues to defy the odds The authors trace the history of how a nation of less than three million people has come to be at the centre of cultural racial and linguistic influence globally producing a culture than has transformed the way that the world listens to music and a dialect that has formed the lingua franca for a generation of young people The book will be of particular interest to students and scholars of Caribbean linguistics Africana studies diaspora studies sociology of language and sociolinguistics more broadly The Creolisation of London Kinship Elaine Bauer,2010 In the last 50 years the United Kingdom has witnessed a growing proportion of mixed African Caribbean and white British families With rich new primary evidence of mixed race in the capital city The Creolisation of London Kinship thoughtfully explores this population Making an indelible contribution to both kinship research and wider social debates the book emphasises a long term evolution of family relationships across generations Individuals are followed through changing social and historical contexts seeking to understand in how far many of these transformations may be interpreted as creolisation Examined too are strategies and innovations in relationship construction the social constraints put upon them the special significance of women and children in kinship work and the importance of non biological as well as biological notions of family relatedness P 4 of cover

Education and Cultural Politics Ivan Hugh Walters,2010-02-26 Education and Cultural Politics Interrogating Idiotic Education is a conceptualization of protest and resistance against the cultural politics of oppression and domination of people of African descent in the Caribbean and North America It is also a theorization of their redemption from being victims of racism classism sexism and heterosexism The book combines the theoretical models of discrimination and oppression through the use of the axis of the social evils to critically analyze the cultural politics of education in relation to black people in the African Diaspora It does this through the lens of critical redemptive education which is seen through an Afrocentric philosophy The book illustrates how the lives of black people are constructed by slavery and colonialism which have etched their mores into the black psyche The book advocates the view that slavocracy the colonial construction of black psyche is not indelible It can be deconstructed through conscience and reconstructed through a non idiotic liberatory education using the philosophy of critical redemptive education which fosters a genuine koinonia among black communities serving as the antidote for the current black nihilism in black communities which is the legacy of our oppressive existence Hallmarks: The Cultural Politics and Public Pedagogies of Stuart Hall Leslie Roman, 2018-02-02 This provocative interdisciplinary and transnational collection delves deeply into the educational and public intellectual hallmarks of Stuart M Hall a core figure in the development of the post War British New Left of Cultural Studies at the Centre for Contemporary Cultural Studies and later of the Open University It opens new vistas on both critical educational studies and cultural studies through interviews with and essays by leading writers shedding light on the under appreciated public pedagogical and cultural politics of the New Left of Thatcherism and of Rightist neo colonial diasporic and neo liberal formations in Jamaica the UK Australia North America and Brazil Intimate and moving the contributors describe Hall s diasporic formation as a courageous artist and educator of cultural politics and social movements showing both the reach and the relevance of his public pedagogies in the construction of alternatives to essentialist racial politics and the despairing cynicism of neo liberalism With contributors and interviewees including Leslie G Roman Michael W Apple Avtar Brah John Clarke Annette Henry Lawrence Grossberg Luis Gandin and Fazal Rizvi Hallmarks The Cultural Politics and Public Pedagogies of Stuart Hall reveals that neither cultural politics nor public pedagogies are stable or self evident constructs Each legitimates and requires the other as part of a longer radical democratic project for social justice This book was originally published as a special issue of Discourse Studies in the Cultural Politics of Education

Jamaican Folk Medicine Arvilla Payne-Jackson, Mervyn C. Alleyne, 2004 This pioneering work is multi disciplinary in approach as it examines the rich folk medicine of Jamaica Payne Jackson and Alleyne analyse the historical and linguistic aspects of folk medicine based on their research which included extensive fieldwork and interviews They explore the sociological and ethnological dimensions of common healing and health preserving practices which rely on Jamaica s rich biodiversity in medicinal and nutritional flora As is the case with other aspects of Jamaican traditional culture Jamaican folk medicine is largely misunderstood and subject to negative pejorative attitudes This comprehensively study challenges some of the myths and misinformation Particular attention is paid to cultural transference from Africa and the use of herbs in African Jamaican religions The work has an appendix and a glossary as well as a detailed bibliography

St. Lucian Kwéyòl on St. Croix Edward Mitchell, 2010-04-16 This new work brings together both reviews and critiques of current theories of creolization and provides new data from a sociolinguistic case study of speakers of St Lucian French lexifier Creole Kwéyòl on the island of St Croix US Virgin Islands St Lucian Kwéyòl has its origins in the 17th century after the French settled there in 1651 from Martinique with their slaves In the following years thousands more African slaves were imported A rugged volcanic island with a roadless interior St Lucia provided a haven for runaway slaves n gres marrons or maroons from other islands Buffeted by the forces of globalization and the continued impact of English Kwéyòl continues to be widely spoken on St Lucia today The crux of the book is the case study that examines Kwéyòl speaking St Lucians as a minority community on St Croix where Kwéyòl is but one of numerous languages spoken including Caribbean English Crucian Creole several other

Caribbean Creole languages Spanish and Arabic The collection of data and analytical attention are centered on questions of language choice language attitudes ethnolinguistic identity and bilingualism This book will be welcomed by students and researchers in linguistics sociolinguistics ethnolinguistics and anthropology with a special interest in Creole languages and linguistic minorities in multilingual speech communities

Continuing Perspectives on the Black Diaspora Aubrey W. Bonnett, Calvin B. Holder, 2009-07-16 Continuing Perspectives on the Black Diaspora is a response to a 1990 publication that studied the persistence and resilience of black African diasporic populations in the Caribbean Latin America North America and the United Kingdom In that book the authors used the themes of persistence and resilience to interrogate the social processes and the coping repertoire of these diasporic populations This volume investigates the often overlooked African presence in Asia Researchers sought to determine how many of these diasporic populations have fared in the context of political independence globalization economic marginalization and the presence of ethnic conflict and institutional racism even with positive class formations and declining significance of race in other geographical areas Prescriptions for the continued viability of these diasporic populations are provided India and China are undergoing a global renaissance emerging as potentially significant economic political and cultural actors on the world scene Meanwhile ancestral Africa is still socially politically and economically fragmented thereby causing a new migratory push to North America and Europe

Racism Albert J. Wheeler, 2005 Of all mankind's vices racism is one of the most pervasive and stubborn Success in overcoming racism has been achieved from time to time but victories have been limited thus far because mankind has focused on personal economic gain or power grabs ignoring generosity of the soul This bibliography brings together the literature

Fight for Freedom Moussa Traore, Tony Talburt, 2017-10-04 Although there have been a number of studies on Black resistance very few of these have focused exclusively on such a wide range of resistance campaigns and strategies within a single volume One of the central arguments of this study is that from as early as the sixteenth century when Europeans attempted to systematically exploit Africans Black people have engaged in a variety of organised and sustained resistance campaigns to assert their independence and identity This book examines some of the different strategies employed by Black people in Africa and the Diaspora in response to European domination and exploitation Drawing upon research from scholars based at the University of Cape Coast in Ghana and the University of the West Indies Jamaica this collection of original essays covers the academic disciplines of African and Caribbean history literature politics and psychology Despite these different approaches the consistent theme throughout centres on the strategies employed by Black people to resist European domination and oppression by fighting for their freedom at every possible opportunity whether they were in Africa Britain or the Caribbean

An Immigrant Neighborhood Shirley Yee, 2012 Examining race and ethnic relations through an intersectional lens Shirley Yee's An Immigrant Neighborhood investigates the ways that race class and gender together shaped concepts of integration and assimilation as well as whiteness and citizenship in lower Manhattan during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries In contrast to accounts of insulated neighborhoods and ethnic enclaves Yee unearths the story of working class urban dwellers of various ethnic groups Chinese Jews Italians and Irish routinely interacting in social and economic settings Yee s numerous fascinating anecdotes such as one about an Irishman who served as the only funeral director for Chinese for many years recount the lived experiences of these neighborhoods detailing friendships business relationships and sexual relationships that vividly counter the prevailing idea that different ethnic groups did not mix except in ways marked by violence and hostility

Ethnic Stratification and Structural Pluralism in Guyana Duane Edwards, 2024-07-08 Through a case study of Guyana a society in which structural pluralism and ethnic racial divisions coincide to a large extent this book explores the specific way in which social structures interact with and affect social institutions ethnic stratification social actions and both group based and purportedly universalist ideologies The book examines how a system of differentiation and stratification inherited from colonial times persists in its essential form in the current time despite attempts to dislodge it While not falling prey to a structural determinism the book argues based on the evidence provided through both a historical sociological review of historical evidence and a presentist analysis of cross sectional data on business ownership that actions which coincide with the logic of social structures tend to prevail over actions which take that logic for granted It is for this reason that political and social players with grand ideals have been less successful in their attempts to bridge the social and economic divides in the country than those players whose interests coincided with the structural divides

Mapping Diversity in Latin America Mabel Moraña, Miguel A. Valerio, 2025-02-28 Mapping Diversity in Latin America offers ample critical coverage of recent approaches to the historical study of race and ethnicity in Latin America since the arrival of Spanish and Portuguese colonizers to the present Bringing together the work of leading scholars this volume presents readers with a thorough and updated examination of the formation and evolution of ideas surrounding race and ethnicity social movements and political processes in Latin America that provides multiple routes for future research on the topic The book's nineteen chapters establish the basis for a productive comparative analysis of racial developments in the whole continent to allow for a combination of diachronic and synchronic study of regional processes Both the scope of the book and the historical and geocultural coverage on these topics are unique in the field of Latin American Studies Taking an interdisciplinary approach to understanding issues of collective identity otherness alterity and the like Mapping Diversity in Latin America sheds light on histories that have been traditionally overlooked in texts on race in Latin America such as the rich history of diasporic Asian Syrian Lebanese and Jewish communities and the more recent emergence of Latinx populations in the United States The book includes a critical examination of fundamental concepts such as mestizaje mulataje creolization negritud and blanquitud as well as critical and theoretical approaches to the study of these issues in postcolonial societies

Slavery, Childhood, and Abolition in Jamaica, 1788-1838 Colleen A. Vasconcellos, 2015-05-15 This study examines childhood and slavery in Jamaica from the onset of improved conditions for the island's slaves to the end of all forced or coerced labor throughout the British Caribbean As Colleen A Vasconcellos discusses the nature of child development in the plantation complex she looks at how both colonial Jamaican society and the slave community conceived childhood and how those ideas changed as the abolitionist movement gained power the fortunes of planters rose and fell and the nature of work on Jamaica's estates evolved from slavery to apprenticeship to free labor Vasconcellos explores the experiences of enslaved children through the lenses of family resistance race status culture education and freedom In the half century covered by her study Jamaican planters alternately saw enslaved children as burdens or investments At the same time the childhood experience was shaped by the ethnically linguistically and culturally diverse slave community Vasconcellos adds detail and meaning to these tensions by looking for instance at enslaved children of color legally termed mulattos who had unique ties to both slave and planter families In addition she shows how traditions beliefs and practices within the slave community undermined planters efforts to ensure a compliant workforce by instilling Christian values in enslaved children These are just a few of the ways that Vasconcellos reveals an overlooked childhood one that was often defined by Jamaican planters but always contested and redefined by the slaves themselves Unity in Diversity, Volume 1 Julitta Rydlewska, 2014-09-18 Who am I The answer to this question is one of the most important issues a human being has to address in life This is a question about possessing the continuous self about the internal concept of oneself as an individual The self defining process the discovery of the self takes place in the context of culture and society The impact of social experience is felt across the whole life span Socialization exerted by parents family and friends acculturation to stereotypes and limited and limiting roles inheritance of local identity and cultural myths acknowledgement of the legacy of history contribute to the formation of poly identity comprised of personal racial national group or gender identities Unity in Diversity Cultural Paradigm and Personal Identity is a collection of essays by scholars of multicultural experience who by employing different interpretative strategies indicative of their different backgrounds and interests explore the issues of difference and otherness inclusion exclusion and of multiple ethnic cultural gender and national identities Offering literary cultural social and historical perspectives the collection will be of interest to readers studying contemporary literature popular culture gender studies sociology and history
