Bridgeport, Conn United States. Congress. House. Committee on Banking, Finance, and Urban Affairs. Subcommittee on the City,1978 Building a Market Richard Harris,2020-03-04 A unique study of how the American Dream came to be and came to be constantly updated and renovated A pleasure to read American Historical Review Each year North Americans spend as much money fixing up their homes as they do buying new ones This obsession with improving our dwellings has given rise to a multibillion dollar industry that includes countless books magazines cable shows and home improvement stores Building a Market charts the rise of the home improvement industry in the United States and Canada from the end of World War I into the late 1950s Drawing on the insights of business social and urban historians and making use of a wide range of documentary sources Richard Harris shows how the middle class preference for home ownership first emerged in the 1920s and how manufacturers retailers and the federal government combined to establish the massive home improvement market and a pervasive culture of Do It Yourself Deeply insightful Building a Market is the carefully crafted history of the emergence and evolution of a home improvement revolution that changed not just American culture but the American landscape as well An important topic that deserves to be widely read by scholars of business history urban history and social history Journal of American History Persuasion in the Media Age Timothy Borchers,2012-11-21 Persuasion is omnipresent in today's media saturated society. From politicians to advertisers to friends and colleagues, persuaders are using increasingly sophisticated strategies to influence our attitudes, beliefs, and behaviors. Fortunately, this updated edition of Persuasion in the Media Age provides a timely, solid understanding of the methods used by contemporary persuaders and offers strategies to help readers become critical consumers of persuasion. Borchers begins with the premise that contemporary culture has been forever changed by electronic media and explores the way media technologies have influenced the study and practice of persuasion. He draws from a wide variety of scholars, bringing together the latest perspectives and research as well as foundational concepts. The Third Edition spotlights the influence of social media, presents storytelling as a key driver for persuasion, and incorporates updated examples that reflect recent political campaigns and developments in popular culture. This pedagogically rich, illustrated volume includes learning objectives, key terms, discussion questions, and activities that encourage students to apply chapter content to their everyday experiences. Internet-based exercises provide practical, relevant opportunities for students to evaluate Web-based persuasion, while ethics cases explore compelling issues that have emerged in today's media-dominated environment.

Homebuyer's Information Package Antony A. Phipps, 1979 Seven Steps to Sold Donna Freeman, Shannon Freeman, 2009-01-21 Real estate experts Donna and Shannon Freeman don't pull any punches.
