The Conservation Of Cities:

The Conservation of Cities ,1975 The Conservation of Cities UNESCO Staff,1975 Conservation for Cities Robert I. McDonald,2015-08-13 Offers a comprehensive framework for maintaining and strengthening the supporting bonds between cities and nature through innovative infrastructure projects After presenting a broad approach to incorporating natural infrastructure priorities into urban planning the author focuses each following chapter on a specific ecosystem service

The Conservation of Cities Unesco,1975 Historic Cities Jeff Cody,Francesco Siravo,2019-07-30 This new volume in the GCI s Readings in Conservation series brings together a selection of seminal writings on the conservation of historic cities This book the eighth in the Getty Conservation Institute s Readings in Conservation series fills a significant gap in the published literature on urban conservation This topic is distinct from both heritage conservation and urban planning despite the recent growth of urbanism worldwide no single volume has presented a comprehensive selection of these important writings until now This anthology profusely illustrated throughout is organized into eight parts covering such subjects as geographic diversity reactions to the transformation of traditional cities reading the historic city the search for contextual continuities the search for values and the challenges of sustainability With more than sixty five texts ranging from early polemics by Victor Hugo and John Ruskin to a generous selection of recent scholarship this book thoroughly addresses regions around the globe Each reading is introduced by short prefatory remarks explaining the rationale for its selection and the principal matters covered The book will serve as an easy reference for administrators professionals teachers and students faced with the day to day challenges confronting the historic city under siege by rampant development

Conservation and Sustainability in Historic Cities Dennis Rodwell,2008-04-15 Conservation and Sustainability in Historic Cities examines how the two key issues of urban conservation and sustainability relate to each other in the context of historic cities and how they can be brought together in a common philosophy and practice that is mutually supportive It sets out the theoretical and practical background to architectural conservation and how its perceived relevance and level of attainment can be extended when harnessed to wider agendas of sustainability and cultural identity It tests the achievement of urban conservation through examples from across Europe and further afield and relates them to the sustainability agenda

Building Resilient Cities in China: The Nexus between Planning and Science Xueming Chen,Qisheng Pan,2015-05-20 This book discusses a range of planning and management issues related to building urban resiliency It covers such topics as urban environmental and transportation planning historical preservation emergency relief and management geographic information systems GIS and other technological applications The book includes case studies of several cities and districts in China including Shanghai and a number of cities in the United States of America Urban resiliency in the face of uncertainty is a priority for planning and governance in communities worldwide In China which has suffered many of the world s most devastating floods earthquakes and typhoons preparing for the threat of disaster has long been an important planning objective Recent calamities such as the 2008 Winter Storms the 2008 Wenchuan Earthquake and the 2012 Beijing Floods have only made planning for resiliency more urgent As planners work to prepare for such events interdisciplinary collaboration becomes increasingly important Planners need the tools and insights offered by other fields including both the natural and social sciences At the same time these interdisciplinary relationships help shape the identity of urban rural planning in its new role as one of China s primary academic disciplines Thus the nexus between planning and science is critically important in building resilient cities in China and the Chinese planning experience can serve as an example to and benefit countries around the world Port Cities of the Atlantic World Jacob Steere-Williams,Blake C. Colten, Bruce Christopher Glavovic, Iris Borowy, Scott A. Hemmerling, 2022-05-26 A Health Survey of 86 Cities American Child Health Association, 1925 Urban Identity Explored: Architecture and Arts in Cities Rui Castanho, Gasim Hayder, Sherif Ahmed, 2024-10-25 This book systematically examines historical perspectives meticulously unveiling the nuanced narratives embedded within cityscapes across epochs providing a comprehensive chronicle of architectural evolution It conducts a thorough exploration of cultural heritage and transformation illuminating the dynamic interplay of diverse traditions that breathe vitality into urban landscapes shaping their unique character The discourse navigates the intricate terrain of urban sustainability and fragility meticulously analyzing the delicate equilibrium required to preserve historical integrity while embracing sustainable urban development imperatives Diverse perspectives on architectural heritage are thoughtfully presented amplifying the voices often marginalized and contributing to a more inclusive understanding of our shared history From Urban National Parks to Natured Cities in the Global South Frédéric Landy, 2018-07-20 This important volume focuses on the sensitive issue of interrelationships between national parks situated near or within urban areas and their urban environment It engages with both urban and conservation issues and compares four national parks located in four large cities in the global South Rio de Janeiro Cape Town Mumbai and Nairobi Though primarily undertaken as academic research the project has intensively collaborated with the institutions in charge of these parks The comparative structure of this volume is also original and unique each of the chapters incorporates insight from all four sites as far as possible The term naturbanity expresses the necessity for cities endowed with a national park to integrate it into their functioning Conversely such parks must take into account their location in an urban environment both as a source of heavy pressures on nature and as a nexus of incentives to support their conservation The principle of non exclusivity that is neither the city nor the park has a right nor even the possibility to negate the other s presence summarizes the main argument of this book Naturbanity thus blurs the old modern dichotomy of nature culture animals and human beings can often jump the physical and ideological walls separating many parks from the adjacent city The 13 chapters and substantive introduction of this volume discuss various aspects of naturbanity the histories of park creation interaction between people and parks urban governance and parks urban conservation models wildlife management environmental education and so on This is a must read for students and researchers interested in social ecology social geography conservation urban planning and ecological policy
