Makers of the Modern Mind: Hans Kung John Kiwiet, 2017-01-01 Acclaimed as one of the most influential contemporary Christian thinkers Hans Kung is considered a modern day Luther because of his struggle to reform the Roman Catholic Church especially in seeking to overturn the doctrine of the infallibility of the pope and bishops In this masterful profile John J Kiwiet sheds light on Kung s life his significance as a shaper of modern theology and his call to prioritize Scripture and the Jesus of history

The Contemporary Review, 1876 Speculation, Heresy, and Gnosis in Contemporary Philosophy of Religion Joshua Ramey, Matthew S. Haar Farris, 2016-10-12 Many in continental philosophy of religion aver that we are in a new moment one where the intellectually marginalized and religiously bastardized traditions of mystical intuitive and esoteric apprehensions must be re articulated and appreciated anew In an era marked by catastrophic events and atrophied cultural institutions what seems to be needed is an affirmation of the human potential to truck with non human or even inhuman forces and intentions at scales of speed slowness or intensity that break with consensual conceptions of human limitations The essays in this volume outline patterns of mind and mortality existence and ecstasy creativity and expression political possibility and religious matrix from a position that takes quite seriously possible relations with the absolute however enigmatic that modernity has denied and postmodernity has obscured in the name of academic skepticism and humanist reservations Beyond post modernist pastiche and post secular nostalgia these essays explore the potencies of archaic spiritual disciplines as well as the passions driving the mystical heretical and Gnostic intimations riddling contemporary relations with the absolute Long Night's Journey into Day Alice L. Eckardt, A. Roy Eckardt, Irving Greenberg, Franklin H. Littell, 2016-11-08

Long Night's Journey into Day is a stimulating and provocative attempt to deal with the impact and meaning of the Holocaust within contemporary Christian and Jewish thought. To Jews the Holocaust is the most terrible happening in their history but it must also be seen as a Christian event. The Eckardts call for a radical rethinking of the Christian faith in the light of the Holocaust, examining such issues as the relation between human and demonic culpability, the charge of God's guilt and the reality of forgiveness. They clarify the theological meaning of the Holocaust and the responsibility that must be borne for it by the Christian Church and discuss possible responses to it as exemplified in the writings of selected modern theologians and church councils. This enlarged and revised edition takes into account new topics and developments including the issue of Austrian responsibility for the Holocaust, the significance and aftermath of Bitburg and antisemitism in German feminism. More detailed attention is also given to other modern genocides and occasions of humanly caused mass death. Additional literary, historical and religious works are considered and appropriate quotations incorporated. The new edition also includes a revised preface, an updated bibliography and two new appendices.

Baudrillard and Theology James Walters, 2012-06-21

Jean Baudrillard was one of the foremost intellectual figures of the late twentieth century and his work is currently reaching a new prominence in the English speaking world. Known as the high priest of postmodernity, Baudrillard never directly addressed theological concerns. However, his provocative analysis of the changing nature of reality, subjectivity and agency is of increasing importance to contemporary theology. Furthermore, his mode of cultural analysis, which he himself describes as mystical, provides fruitful possibilities for theological reasoning in the post idealist world he describes. James Walters provides the context of Baudrillard's writing and identifies key influences. He then sets out his core ideas, drawing in theological responses and relating them to theological concerns. Finally, he highlights some areas of his work.

Americas Michelle A. Gonzalez, 2014-07-18 A Critical Introduction to Religion in the Americas argues that we cannot understand religion in the Americas without understanding its marginalized communities Despite frequently voiced doubts among religious studies scholars it makes the case that theology and particularly liberation theology is still useful but it must be reframed to attend to the ways in which religion is actually experienced on the ground That is a liberation theology that assumes a need to work on behalf of the poor can seem out of touch with a population experiencing huge Pentecostal and Charismatic growth where the focus is not on inequality or social action but on individual relationships with the divine By drawing on a combination of historical and ethnographic sources this volume provides a basic introduction to the study of religion and theology in the Latino a Black and Latin American contexts and then shows how theology can be reframed to better speak to the concerns of both religious studies and the real people the theologians work is meant to represent Informed by the dialogue partners explored throughout the text this volume presents a hemispheric approach to discussing lived religious movements While not dismissive of liberation theologies this approach is critical of their past and offers challenges to their future as well as suggestions for preventing their untimely demise It is clear that the liberation theologies of tomorrow cannot look like the liberation theologies of today Controversies in Contemporary Religion Paul
