The Only War They Had:

The Only War We Had Michael Lee Lanning, 2007 Originally published New York Ballantine Books 1987 The Only War We've Got Daniel Ford, 2017-07-31 World War I and Southern Modernism David A. Davis, 2017-11-27 Winner of the 2018 Eudora Welty Prize When the United States entered World War I parts of the country had developed industries urban cultures and democratic political systems but the South lagged behind remaining an impoverished agriculture region Despite New South boosterism the culture of the early twentieth century South was comparatively artistically arid Yet southern writers dominated the literary marketplace by the 1920s and 1930s World War I brought southerners into contact with modernity before the South fully modernized This shortfall created an inherent tension between the region's existing agricultural social structure and the processes of modernization leading to distal modernism a form of writing that combines elements of modernism to depict non modern social structures Critics have struggled to formulate explanations for the eruption of modern southern literature sometimes called the Southern Renaissance Pinpointing World War I as the catalyst David A Davis argues southern modernism was not a self generating outburst of writing but a response to the disruptions modernity generated in the region In World War I and Southern Modernism Davis examines dozens of works of literature by writers including William Faulkner Ellen Glasgow and Claude McKay that depict the South during the war Topics explored in the book include contact between the North and the South southerners who served in combat and the developing southern economy Davis also provides a new lens for this argument taking a closer look at African Americans in the military and changing gender roles Parliamentary Debates New Zealand. Parliament, 1926 Cobbett's Political Register William Cobbett, 1802 The history of the consulate and empire of Napoleon, tr. from the Paris ed Marie Joseph L. Adolphe Thiers, 1846 The History of the Consulate and the Empire of Napoleon Adolphe Thiers, 1850 Don't You Know There's a War On? Jonathan Croall, 2015-09-25 Was the country really united in the face of the common enemy Did people actually put the community's needs before their own Or were such ideas simply a series of myths created at the time and nurtured ever since The recollections of this book first published in 1989 attempt to answer such questions by evoking the reality of life on the home front during the war years Here is a uniquely personal portrait of a nation at war extensively illustrated with photographs diaries letters poems and other memorabilia belonging to the men and women whose wartime lives fill this absorbing book This title will be of interest to students of history Cobbett's Annual Register, 1802 War Isn't the Only Hell Keith Gandal, 2018-04-16 A vigorous reappraisal of American literature inspired by the First World War American World War I literature has long been interpreted as an alienated outcry against modern warfare and government propaganda This prevailing reading ignores the US army's unprecedented attempt during World War I to assign men except notoriously African Americans to positions and ranks based on merit And it misses the fact that the culture granted masculinity only to combatants while the noncombatant majority of doughboys experienced a different alienation that of shame Drawing on military archives current research by social military historians and his own readings of thirteen major writers Keith Gandal seeks to put American literature written after the Great War in its proper context as a response to the shocks of war and meritocracy The supposedly antiwar texts of noncombatant Lost Generation authors Dos Passos Hemingway Fitzgerald Cummings and Faulkner addressed often in coded ways the noncombatant failure to measure up Gandal also examines combat soldier writers William March Thomas Boyd Laurence Stallings and Hervey Allen Their works are considered straight forward antiwar narratives but they are in addition shaped by experiences of meritocratic recognition especially meaningful for socially disadvantaged men Gandal furthermore contextualizes the sole World War I novel by an African American veteran Victor Daly revealing a complex experience of both army discrimination and empowerment among the French Finally Gandal explores three women writers Katherine Anne Porter Willa Cather and Ellen La Motte who saw the war create frontline opportunities for women while allowing them to be arbiters of masculinity at home Ultimately War Isn't the Only Hell shows how American World War I literature registered the profound ways in which new military practices and a foreign war unsettled traditional American hierarchies of class ethnicity gender and even race Congressional Record United States. Congress,1932 Authenticity and Victimhood after the Second World War Randall Hansen,Achim Saupe,Andreas Wirsching,Daqing Yang,2021-09-23 This edited collection explores memories and experiences of genocide civilian casualties and other atrocities that occurred after the Second World War Free Press and Diplomatic Review ,1856 The War to End Only when the Rebellion Ceases Henry Whitney Bellows,1863 American Voices of World War I Martin Marix Evans,2014-01-27 Using original documents from the U S Army Military History Institute including extracts from letters and diaries of serving soldiers as well as from official reports and papers this book recalls the experiences of Americans who fought in the First World War Individual chapters cover different periods from Enlistment to Victory in a chronological fashion The book also features topics such as weaponry medical services and entertainment Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art ,1917 A Vigorous Prosecution of the War, the Only Guaranty for an Honorable Peace! ,1864 War Referendum United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary,1939 War Department Appropriation Bill for 1933 ... United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations,1932 Good Housekeeping ... ,1919
