The Open Man And Animal:

The Open Giorgio Agamben, 2003-10-23 The end of human history is an event that has been foreseen or announced by both messianics and dialecticians But who is the protagonist of that history that is coming or has come to a close What is man How did he come on the scene And how has he maintained his privileged place as the master of or first among the animals In The Open contemporary Italian philosopher Giorgio Agamben considers the ways in which the human has been thought of as either a distinct and superior type of animal or a kind of being that is essentially different from animal altogether In an argument that ranges from ancient Greek Christian and Jewish texts to twentieth century thinkers such as Heidegger Benjamin and Kojve Agamben examines the ways in which the distinction between man and animal has been manufactured by the logical presuppositions of Western thought and he investigates the profound implications that the man animal distinction has had for disciplines as seemingly disparate as philosophy law anthropology medicine and politics

L'Humain et l'Animal dans la France médiévale (XIIe-XVe s.) Irène Fabry-Tehranchi, Anna Russakoff, 2014-08-01 Ce recueil explore les relations mouvantes entre hommes et animaux aussi bien réels que fantastiques dans la France médiévale dans une perspective interdisciplinaire Les auteurs examinent la façon dont le rapport humain animal a été imaginé fini et remodelé dans la pensée la culture et la production artistique du Moyen Âge La distinction entre l'humain et l'animal fondamentale dans le texte biblique et la philosophie antique a été remise en question au cours du XIIe siècle Ce phénomène ne transparaît dans la terminologie utilisée pour désigner les animaux dans leur représentation dans les arts et la littérature et dans l'évolution de textes fondamentaux comme le Physiologus ou les bestiaires Les frontières entre le monde humain et animal fondées sur des critères comme la maîtrise du langage la capacité de rire ou la responsabilité légale ont profondément évolué et ont été remises en cause entre le XIIe et le XVe siècle This is the first volume that explores the changing relationships between humans and animals both real and fantastic in medieval France from a completely interdisciplinary perspective The authors examine the way the human animal rapport was imagined defined and remodeled in thought culture and artistic production The distinction between human and animal fundamental in the Bible and in Ancient philosophy was challenged throughout the course of the 12th century This phenomenon can be traced in changes in the terminology used to designate animals in their representations in the arts and literature and in the reworking of fundamental texts such as the Physiologus and the bestiaries The borders between the human and the animal world based on criteria such as linguistic ability the capacity to laugh and even legal responsibility evolved and were fundamentally reconsidered between the 12th and the 15th century Irène Fabry-Tehranchi est enseignante en langue et littérature française et médiévale à l'université de Reading Elle est l'auteur de Texte et images des manuscrits du Merlin et de la Suite Vulgate XIIIe-XVe s Brepols 2014 Anna Russakoff est enseignante et codirectrice du département d'Histoire de l'Art The American University Paris Elle est codirectrice et contributrice de l'ouvrage Jean Pucelle Innovation and Collaboration in Manuscript Painting Brepols 2013 The Human-Animal Boundary Nandita

Batra, Mario Wenning, 2018-11-27 Throughout the centuries philosophers and poets alike have defended an essential difference rather than a porous transition between the human and animal Attempts to assign essential properties to humans e g language reason or morality often reflected ulterior aims to defend a privileged position for humans This book shifts the traditional anthropocentric focus of philosophy and literature by combining the questions What is human and What is animal What makes this collection unique is that it fills a lacuna in critical animal studies and the growing field of ecocriticism It is the first collection that establishes a productive encounter between philosophical perspectives on the human animal boundary and those that draw on fictional literature The objective is to establish a dialogue between those disciplines with the goal of expanding the imaginative scope of human animal relationships The contributions thus do not only trace and deconstruct the boundaries dividing humans and nonhuman animals they also present the reader with alternative perspectives on the porous continuum and surprising reversal of what appears as human and what as nonhuman

Immanence and the Animal Krzysztof Skonieczny, 2020-03-03 This book reexamines the concept of the animal on the plane of immanence as opposed to the traditional viewpoint founded on the plane of transcendence Following Deleuze and Guattari's notion that philosophy is a discipline of creating concepts this book traces how the concept of the animal was created in the history of philosophy through re-reading the works of Descartes Kant Heidegger Derrida and Levinas Their theories show that the concept of the animal was constructed on the plane of transcendence as subservient to the self-serving human who represents the animal as a negative entity devoid of reason ethics the ability to enter into political alliances or even die With this perspective and a range of theories from thinkers such as Spinoza Nancy Haraway and Braidotti as the groundwork a new positive concept of the animal operating on the plane of immanence is sketched out compelling a reappraisal of the relationships between body and thought ethics and politics or life and death With comprehensive interpretations of the views of several key philosophers from Kant and Heidegger to Deleuze Derrida and Agamben this book will be valuable for scholars of theoretical animal studies and continental philosophy interested in the philosophical significance of the animal question

Animal Soundscapes in Anglo-Norman Texts Liam Lewis, 2022 A redefinition of the animal's relationship to sound and language in French texts from medieval England The barks hoots and howls of animals and birds pierce through the experience of medieval texts In captivating episodes of communication between species a mandrake shrieks when uprooted from the ground a saint preaches to the animals and a cuckoo causes turmoil at the parliament of birds with his familiar call This book considers a range of such episodes in Old French verse texts including bestiaries treatises on language the Life of Saint Francis of Assisi and the Fables by Marie de France aiming to reconceptualize and reinterpret animal soundscapes It argues that they draw on sound to produce competing perspectives forms of life and linguistic subjectivities suggesting that humans owe more to animal sounds than we are disposed to believe Texts inviting readers to listen and learn animal noises to seek spiritual consolation in the jargon of birds or to identify with the speaking wolf create the conditions for an assertion of human exceptionalism even as they simultaneously invite readers to question such forms of control By asking what it means for an animal to cry make noise or speak in French this book provides an important resource for theorizing sound and animality in multilingual medieval contexts and for understanding the animal's role in the interpretation of the natural world The Limits of Fabrication Nathan Brown, 2017-01-02 Poetry or poesis has long been understood as a practice of making But how are experiments in the making of poetic forms related to formal making in science and engineering The Limits of Fabrication takes up this question in the context of recent developments in nanoscale materials science investigating concepts and ideologies of form at stake in new approaches to material construction Tracing the direct pertinence of fields crucial to the new materials science nanotechnology biotechnology crystallography and geodesic design in the work of Shanxing Wang Caroline Bergvall Christian Bök and Ronald Johnson back to the midcentury development of Charles Olson's objectist poetics Nathan Brown carves out a tradition of constructivist nonorganic poetics that has developed in conversation with science and engineering While proposing a new approach to the relation of techn craft skill and poesis making forming this book also intervenes in philosophical debates concerning the concept of the object the distinction between organic and inorganic matter theories of self organization and the relation between design and nature Engaging with Heidegger Agamben Whitehead Stiegler and Nancy Brown shows that materials science and materialist poetics offer crucial resources for thinking through the direction of contemporary materialist philosophy The Dark Interval Padraic Killeen, 2022-05-05 Invoking key concepts from the philosophical writings of Gilles Deleuze and Giorgio Agamben The Dark Interval examines a subtle but distinct iconography of passivity stillness and profound self affection that recurs across noir films of every era In doing so it identifies the emergence of a specific cinematic figure the intervallic noir protagonist exposed to the redemptive force of his or her own passion Significantly the book contextualises the iconography of film noir in relation to prior art historical visual traditions in particular earlier representations of melancholia and the saturnine locating noir against a much broader canvas than has been the norm Examining central noir films of the classic and modern era The Killers The Man Who Wasn't There as well as films at the peripheries of noir from Jacques Tourneur's Cat People to Wong Kar Wai's 2046 the book locates a series of iconographic gestures performance traditions and affective tonalities at once specific to noir and yet resonant with a deeper cultural and philosophical heritage It is a meditation that uniquely grapples with the look and the feel of noir and which dares to detect a unique quality of beatitude that runs through a certain strain of noir films In doing so it illuminates why film noir remains one of the most provocative and affecting visual milieus of our time Animal Lessons Kelly Oliver, 2009-10-08 Philosophy reads humanity against animality arguing that man is man because he is separate from beast Deftly challenging this position Kelly Oliver proves that in fact it is the animal that teaches us to be human Through their sex their habits and our perception of their purpose animals show us how not to be them This kinship plays out in a number of ways We sacrifice animals to establish human kinship but without the animal the bonds of brotherhood fall apart Either kinship with animals is possible or kinship with humans is impossible Philosophy holds that humans and animals are distinct but in defending this position the discipline depends on a discourse that relies on the animal for its very definition of the human Through these and other examples Oliver does more than just establish an animal ethics She transforms ethics by showing how its very origin is dependent upon the animal Examining for the first time the treatment of the animal in the work of Heidegger Merleau Ponty Derrida Agamben Freud Lacan and Kristeva among others Animal Lessons argues that the animal bites back thereby reopening the question of the animal for philosophy

Animal Skins and the Reading Self in Medieval Latin and French Bestiaries Sarah Kay, 2017-02-24 Just like we do today people in medieval times struggled with the concept of human exceptionalism and the significance of other creatures Nowhere is this more apparent than in the medieval bestiary Sarah Kay's exploration of French and Latin bestiaries offers fresh insight into how this prominent genre challenged the boundary between its human readers and other animals Bestiaries present accounts of animals whose fantastic behaviors should be imitated or avoided depending on the given trait In a highly original argument Kay suggests that the association of beasts with books is here both literal and material as nearly all surviving bestiaries are copied on parchment made of animal skin which also resembles human skin Using a rich array of examples she shows how the content and materiality of bestiaries are linked due to the continual references in the texts to the skins of other animals as well as the ways in which the pages themselves repeatedly and at times it would seem deliberately intervene in the reading process A vital contribution to animal studies and medieval manuscript studies this book sheds new light on the European bestiary and its profound power to shape readers own identities

The Political Ontology of Giorgio Agamben German Eduardo Primera, 2019-04-18 With the publication of The Use of Bodies 2016 Agamben's multi volume Homo Sacer project has come to an end or to paraphrase Agamben has been abandoned We now have a new vantage point from which to reread Agamben's corpus not only his method but his political and philosophical thought can be seen in a clearer light This timely book both assesses and contributes to the debates on the Homo Sacer project in its entirety Rethinking the notions of life and power two of the central themes in Agamben's work through a reconstruction of his philosophical method and an examination of his critique of Western metaphysics this book argues that Agamben's thought cannot be fully grasped if we do not account for the intertwining of politics and ontology This book argues that it is only by revisiting Agamben's critique of signification and metaphysics and examining his reconstruction of the archaeological method that we can understand his notions of life and power By bringing together the two parts of the Homo Sacer project the archaeology of the signature of Sovereignty and the archaeology of governmentality this book provides an analysis of the production of Agambenian bare life In this sense this project re articulates Agamben's works on signification language and ontology with his archaeology of power Offering an original examination of Agamben's notion of resistance this is essential reading for any thoughtful consideration of his
