Journalism and Social Media in Africa Chris Paterson,2019-07-09 Through innovative research studies and expert commentaries this book documents the fast evolving invention of the relationship between the millions of social media and mobile phone users around Africa and traditional purveyors of news Whilst social media demonstrates an unprecedented ability for the politically engaged to both bypass and influence traditional information flows it also faces unique circumstances through much of Africa Signs of social change brought by mobile technology are evident around the continent raising questions about the nature of information exchange and citizenship Working from a wide variety of perspectives and methodologies the contributors to this collection address key questions emerging from rapid communication change in Africa This book reveals how new participatory interactive communications technologies are enabling new tellings of Africa s stories This book was originally published as a special issue of Ecquid Novi African Journalism Studies Customary Nationalism in Crisis Vito Laterza,Casey Golomski,2025-11-03 This book examines the aftermath of eSwatini s fiftieth anniversary of independence and the COVID 19 pandemic when many citizens of this last absolute monarchy in Africa took to their communities in unprecedented protests for democratic reform For raising their voices they were met with brutal police violence Customary Nationalism in Crisis offers snapshots of life in the Kingdom leading up to and in the aftermath of this epic moment providing lessons to the world on the power of the government to shape our lives through the guise of custom and tradition and the power of ordinary people to resist this Through a range of research written primarily by scholar nationals of eSwatini the book shows how ordinary women men and young people redefine language and their identities ethnic racial and gender and question what it means to be a citizen from their classrooms to clinics and from their workplaces to the halls of Parliament Customary Nationalism in Crisis shows that despite the persistence of authoritarianism citizens also adapt over the long term to survive and thrive This volume will appeal to scholars and students in African studies political science anthropology sociology and gender studies as well as policymakers human rights advocates and development practitioners interested in southern Africa The chapters in this volume were originally published as a special issue of Journal of Contemporary African Studies Local Environmental Change and Society in Africa Mohamed Salih,2000-06-30 Social and natural scientists are currently obsessed with globalization but this has not been matched by an equal interest in the societal consequences of local environmental change Attention has thus been withdrawn from community and locality and transferred to global processes with an indifference to the reality of those at the receiving end of the social economic and political problems that globalization create Local reality is obscured and conditions are imposed that are often insensitive to or even distort local needs resource management and production systems The case studies presented here illustrate how environmental degradation has contributed to the distortion of local institutions and economies thus denying local communities the right to live in a productive and healthy environment The contributors highlight the seriousness of the difficulties involved in conflating national policies and local reality and imposing global policy instruments on local communities Understandably the case studies demonstrate that local communities resist putting their faith in environmental policies and plans imposed on them by global or national institutions that often deprive them of access to and control over their local environment Urbanization and Development in Swaziland V.
