The Condition of Teaching C. Emily Feistritzer, The Condition of Teaching C. Emily Feistritzer, 1985 This book reports on the current condition of teaching in the United States and presents an analysis of variables for each state and the District of Columbia that affect teaching now and in the future These variables include population changes enrollment patterns numbers of teachers projected teacher shortages salaries school spending and the economy in general who is going into teaching and the education and certification of teachers Statistical data are presented on tables with narrative analysis and commentary In the foreword Ernest L Boyer makes recommendations on how to strengthen the teaching profession JD

The Condition of Teaching. A State-by-State Analysis, 1990. A Technical Report Resources in Education ,1997 Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, Princeton, NJ., 1990 Section 1 of this report presents the results of a national survey of public school teachers in 1990 which solicited their views and opinions on the current condition of teaching Over 20 000 teachers responded to the survey which contained questions ranging from their assessment of overall morale to the availability of instructional materials from their assessment of a decade of school reform to parents support of teachers The questionnaire covered the following topics 1 attitudes and values of teachers today 2 characteristics of today s students 3 learning and instruction 4 working conditions school climate 5 working conditions buildings and materials 6 teacher involvement in decision making 7 the status of the profession and 8 school improvement Section 2 of the report presents state by state comparisons of the survey results Comparisons are based on responses to the topics covered by the questionnaire Results are displayed on tables JD Report of the National Science Board, Higher Education in the United States James J. F. Forest, Kevin Kinser, 2002-06-21 Surveys the changing landscape of American higher education from academic freedom to virtual universities from campus crime to Pell Grants from the Student Privacy Act to student diversity In the years following World War II college and university enrollment doubled students revolted faculty unionized and community colleges evolved Tuition and technology soared as did the number of first generation minority and women students These changes radically transformed the American system of postsecondary education Today that system is in trouble Its aging professoriate prepares for retirement but low academic salaries can no longer attract the best minds to replace them A flood of corporate dollars funds commercial research but money for basic research the seedbed of American scientific preeminence has dried up Colleges and universities also face heated competition with for profit education providers for students faculty and external financial support along with the costs of providing remedial education to growing numbers of students who are unprepared for postsecondary education Higher Education in the United States provides a comprehensive analysis of these issues and others that scholars and practitioners of higher education study discuss and grapple with on a daily basis The Condition of Teaching, 1988 This report is based on a national survey of 22 000 public school teachers The report reveals a growing gap between the school and the home and the majority of teachers report that the willingness of parents to be involved in their children's education falls below their expectations. In addition to the reporting of national trends the report allows an opportunity for state by state comparison of teacher attitudes on a broad range of topics current teaching assignments public school enrollment trends student achievement and growth expenditures for education teacher evaluation perspectives on methods and curriculum standards for students teacher preparation assessment of education officials and job satisfaction and morale It is noted in the foreword to the report that perhaps most significant in this survey is the frustration teachers feel about their powerlessness in teaching the majority of teachers are not asked to particiate in such crucial matters as teacher evaluation staff development school budget and student promotion and retention policies Technical notes and 83 tables are provided JD Teacher Preparation Initiatives United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and the Workforce. Subcommittee on Early Childhood, Youth, and Families, 1998 This hearing focused on the subject of teacher recruitment and preparation The hearing began with opening statements by several Congressmen the Honorable Frank Riggs Matthew Martinez William Gooding George Miller and Robert Scott Following the opening statements were statements by the Honorable Eugene Hickock Secretary of Education Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Mr E D Hirsh Jr President Core Knowledge Foundation Charlottesville VA Dr Eric Hanushek Director W Allen Wallis Institute of Political Economy University of Rochester NY Dr Richard Ingersoll Professor of Sociology University of Georgia Athens Ms C Emily Feistritzer President National Center for Educational Information Washington DC Dr Dale Ballou Professor of Economics University of Massachusetts MA Ms Kati Haycock President the Education Trust Inc Washington DC Mr Paul F Steidler Director Alexis de Toqueville Institution Arlington VA and Mr Barnett Berry Associate Director for Policy and State Relations National Commission on Teaching and America's Future Columbia SC Statements and written testimony are appended The appendixes also include two reports by the National Commission on Teaching and America's Future 1 What Matters Most Teaching for America's Future and 2 Doing What Matters Most Investing in Quality Teaching SM

Teachers Managing Stress & Preventing Burnout Yvonne Gold, Robert A. Roth, 2013-03-01 First published in 1993 The purpose of this book is to help those who help others Research has consistently demonstrated that those in the professions particularly helping professions have significantly higher levels of stress and burnout Studies have shown that the profession with the greatest vulnerability to these illnesses is teaching Statistical Reference Index, 1986 development Our Forgotten Children Julia M. Davis, 1990 Enduring Schools Rita S Brause, 2002-11-01 First Published in 2004 Enduring Schools Problems and Possibilities provides a compelling argument for school reform of greater magnitude than the classroom itself Based on twenty years of research and personal experiences this macro ethnography identifies the many influences on school practices which endure despite their detrimental effects on students and ultimately on society at large In our highly bureaucratized schools there is little time for significant learning or thinking Visionary teachers become discouraged and leave Students are mainly humiliated or ignored Only a few are intellectually challenged or respected Alienation boredom control and dependency are the real basics in most educational settings Learning which is implicitly at the heart of schooling is explicitly discussed as a highly complex phenomenon This perspective highlights how the enduring emphasis on control dependency and expedience denies students the challenging experiences essential to nurture their critical thinking But there are alternatives some of which are explicitly described Enduring Schools considers the perspectives of parents students teachers administrators architects school board members and school district officers This provocative report from an insider demands our immediate attention Final Report University of Wisconsin System.
