States

We the People
insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common Defence and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution

Article I

Section 1. All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States, and in each State shall have Electors in Proportion to the most numerous Number of free Persons in each State.

No Person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the Age of twenty five Years, and seven Years a Citizen of the United States, and who, when elected, shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, including those bound to Service for a Term of Years, and including all taxed Persons three fifths of all other Persons. The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of the Congress of the United States, and there after within each Term, as the Congress shall direct. The Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand Persons; but each State shall have at least one Representative; and the Electors in each State shall have the Qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.
