The Opposing Self:

The Opposing Self Lionel Trilling, 1955 "The" Opposing Self Lionel Trilling, 1955 The New York Intellectuals

Reader Neil Jumonville, 2013-10-31 In the early 1930s in a small alcove at City College in New York a group of young passionate and politically radical students argued for hours about the finer points of Marxist doctrine the true nature of socialism and whether or not Stalin or Trotsky was the true heir to Lenin These young intellectuals went on to write for and found some of the most well known political and literary journals of the 20th century such as The Masses Politics Partisan Review Encounter Commentary Dissent and The Public Interest Figures such as Daniel Bell Nathan Glazer Sidney Hook Susan Sontag Dwight MacDonald and Seymour Lipset penned some of the most important books of social science in the mid twentieth century They believed above all else in the importance of argument and the power of the pen They were a vibrant group of engaged political thinkers and writers but most importantly they were public intellectuals committed to addressing the most important political social and cultural questions of the day Here with helpful head notes and a comprehensive introduction by Neil Jumonville The New York Intellectuals Reader brings the work of these thinkers back into conversation

Reading America Denis Donoghue, 1988-01-01 Here is a selection by the distinguished critic of his essays and commentaries on American writing and writers from Emerson and Whitman through Auden and Ashbery Denis Donoghue examines the canon in the light of what he takes to be the central dynamic of the American enterprise the imperatives of a powerful national past versus the subversions of an irrevocably anarchic spirit The Conservative Turn Michael Kimmage, 2009-03-31 Kimmage focuses on the relationship between Lionel Trilling and Whittaker Chambers to explore the birth of neoconservatism The Web of Violence Jennifer E. Turpin, Lester R. Kurtz, 1997 An excellent representation of the interdisciplinary thrust of peace studies Paul Joseph Tufts University Violence is a topic of concern everywhere in the media in churches in the halls of governments In every land and in every culture violence is considered by most to be taboo a last resort Yet under certain conditions from the level of the family to the level of nations violence is used as a mechanism of social control Various rationalizations thus emerge to distinguish between legitimate and illegitimate violence The Web of Violence explores the interrelationship among personal collective national and global levels of violence This unique collection brings together a number of internationally known contributors to address the genesis and manifestations of violence in the search for a remedy for this confounding social problem As the global community becomes more intimate we must better understand the nature of violence The Web of Violence supports this aim by examining the dangerous human phenomenon from many perspectives at different levels and using multiple methodologies CONTRIBUTORS Robert Jay Lifton Christopher G. Grounds of Pragmatic Realism Kenneth Westphal, 2018-01-09 Grounds of Pragmatic Realism argues that Hegel's philosophy from the 1807 Phenomenology of Spirit through his last Berlin lectures on philosophical psychology demonstrates how Kant's critique of rational judgment across his Critical corpus can be disentangled from Kant's failed Transcendental Idealism and developed into a cogent pragmatic realism within which the social and historical aspects of rational inquiry and justification are shown to justify realism about the objects of empirical knowledge Hegel's demonstration reveals how deeply contemporary epistemology remains beholden to pre-Critical options none of which are adequate to the natural sciences nor to commonsense Hegel recognised and justified independently Kant's semantics of singular cognitive reference to particulars within space and time Hegel's analysis of mutual recognition develops Kant's insights into the self-critical and inter-subjective aspects of rational judgment and justification to show that none of us can be properly rational judges nor can we properly justify our judgments rationally without constructive self criticism and without acknowledging and benefitting from constructive critical assessment by others
