Studies In Armenian Literature And Christianity Variorum Collected Studies:

Studies on the Formation of Christian Armenia Nina G. Garsoïan, 2023-05-31 This is the third collection of articles by Nina Garsoïan on Early Armenian history and civilization. A number of articles included here continue earlier investigations of Iranian and Byzantine political and especially doctrinal and social influences on Medieval Armenia precariously wedged between the two super powers of the period Byzantium and Sasanian Persia. A second theme is the development of the autocephalous Armenian Church as it freed itself from foreign pressures and achieved its own dogmatic position. Last several studies consider some inadequacies in some recent historiography and suggest a more promising redirection in our approach to Armenian history and the formation of its national identity.

Patriotism and Piety in Armenian Christianity Abraham Terian, 2005 Armenian Christianity manifests a unique blend of patriotism and piety given its ethnic character from the outset and the fact of its having survived the unfavorable currents of history. Beginning from the inception of Armenian letters at the turn of the fifth century, the author surveys that blend in ancient Armenian sources spanning a thousand years. He shows how the theme finds its fullest manifestation as a literary motif in the medieval panegyrics dedicated to St Gregory the Illuminator, founder of the Armenian Church at the dawn of the fourth century. Of these, the panegyric by Hovhannes of Erzenka, a prolific author of the thirteenth century, exhibits all the characteristics of the motif in ancient Armenian literature. Consequently, his work receives ample coverage in this unique study, including a translation of the entire text with commentary. Annotated selections from the other panegyrics on St Gregory complete the book, the second volume in the AVANT series devoted to the study of the Armenian Christian heritage.

BOOK JACKET Studies on the Cult of Relics in Byzantium up to 1204 John Wortley, 2024-12-11 Constantinople was well known in its heyday for the enormous collection of relics housed in its churches: bones, even whole bodies, and intimate possessions of holy men and women. Almost all these objects had been imported from various parts of the Roman Empire between the late 4th to the 10th centuries. They had been acquired because they were believed to have miraculous powers to ward off enemies, to heal sicknesses, and to ensure that the capital was indeed the God-guarded Theophylaktos city it believed itself to be. These studies examine the means by which relics were acquired, the ways in which they were used, and some of the reasons why for so long they were believed to be effective. The role of relics in the development of the cult of the Mother of God, Theotokos, is discussed, as well as the curious relationship between relics and icons. The so-called deviation of the Fourth Crusade and the subsequent sacking of Constantinople in 1204 may also in part be explained by an unbridled yearning to possess her relics; they were certainly pillaged and disseminated to the west, thus concluding an era of relic history at Byzantium and initiating a different one in the west.

Church and Culture in Early Medieval Armenia Nina G. Garsoïan, 2024-12-11 The articles here aim to develop and expand Professor Garsoïan's earlier research on the bilateral influences on Early Christian Armenia between Byzantium and the Sasanians. On the one hand, they continue her examination of Armenia's essentially Iranian society and institutions in the 4th-7th centuries; on the other, they are directed to an investigation of its autocephalous Church This maintained relations with the Antiochene Christological school it shared with the Church of Persia longer than has been generally admitted but simultaneously brought about an ideological transformation through which Christianity came to define the Armenian identity in the national tradition The Life of Mashtots' by his Disciple Koriwn Abraham Terian, 2022-10-31 The Life of Mashtots is mostly praise for the inventor of the Armenian alphabet the only inventor of an ancient alphabet known by name and progenitor of Armenian literacy that began with the translation of the Bible Written three years after his death by an early disciple named Koriwn it narrates the master's endeavors in search for letters the establishment of schools and the ensuing literary activity that yielded countless translations of religious texts known in the Early Church of the East As an encomium from Late Antiquity The Life of Mashtots exhibits all the literary features of the genre to which it belongs delineated through rhetorical analysis by Abraham Terian who comments on the entire document almost phrase by phrase Translated from the latest Armenian edition of the text 2003 this edition of The Life of Mashtots includes a facing English translation and commentary The extraordinary narrative parades historical characters including the Patriarch of the Armenian Church Catholicos Sahak d 439 the Arsacid King of Armenia Vramshapuh r 401 417 and the Roman Emperor of the East Theodosius II r 408 450 Koriwn is an eminently inspiring rhetorical writer and one of the first four authors known to write in the newly invented script The marked influence of The Life of Mashtots is discernible in subsequent Armenian writings of the fifth century dubbed The Golden Era

Studies in Armenian Literature and Christianity Robert W. Thomson, 1994 Professor Thomson deals here with the origins of Armenian Christian literature and its development as an individual literary culture At the same time these studies make available to students of Patristics and Byzantine history some of the wealth of information preserved in the Armenian sources One set of articles focusing on the question of origins looks at the influence and use made of Christian Syriac and Greek writings both theological and historical as well as those of late classical antiquity Others examine how the Armenians viewed themselves in their ambiguous position between Byzantium and Iran and how those views were expressed in their historical writing A key theme as the author would see it is the formulation of a received tradition and the ways in which later writers interacted with it and used it removed from its original context to create their own images of Armenian individuality
