

disgruntled ethnic group in Africa today, caught up in nations which are products of European territorial definition.

The book evidences a few production problems based on a failure to proof the final computer printout thoroughly. And much more serious in my mind is the authors' reluctance to consult original sources. Much of the book is based on secondary material (although from respected and recognized scholars), and the authors disturbingly quote primary material from secondary sources without bothering to check its reliability or its context. The book is overly long. The basic thesis could easily have been explored in 150 pages. While I have major reservations about this particular work, on a more positive note, one hopes that it may presage the arrival of more worthy books by scholars from Ethiopia's ethnic periphery who will more convincingly challenge stale conceptions of the region.

Janet Stanley. The Arts of Africa: An Annotated Bibliography. Volume I: 1986 and 1987. Atlanta, Georgia: African Studies Association, 1990. 268 pp. Index. $35.00. Paper.

Over the last 25 years a number of bibliographies dealing with African art have been published—this volume sets a new standard. The Arts of Africa: An Annotated Bibliography is the first in a new series of biennial bibliographies devoted to African art that represents a distillation of the monthly acquisitions lists issued by the National Museum of African Art Branch Library (Smithsonian Institution Libraries).

Stanley's coverage of the literature appearing in 1986 and 1987 is extremely thorough. The bibliography includes 977 entries, divided into two main sections. The first deals with general studies of African art; its subdivisions are based on media. The second is focused on regional- and country-specific studies. Most of the entries are annotated and references to reviews are included with each monograph citation. Online Computer Library Catalog (OCLC) numbers are provided for all books cited in the bibliography and the OCLC numbers for serials are presented in a separate list found at the end of the volume. The contents of the cited sources are indexed by author and subject. The subject index is superb, providing comprehensive "access to objects, concepts, ethnic groups, museums, and individuals (artists, collectors and others)." In addition to serving as standard bibliography, The Arts of Africa offers a splendid resource for librarians interested in maintaining basic collec-

Territoriality and Hospitality John Azumah, Cheikh Anta Babou, 2024-10-16 In a world where religion is frequently viewed as a source of conflict and division what can we learn from the harmonious coexistence of Christian and Muslim communities flourishing in Africa and elsewhere This collaborative work inspired by the life and legacy of Lamin Sanneh seeks to highlight valuable lessons from the rich Christian and Muslim traditions of hospitality through bringing together voices and perspectives from diverse backgrounds and contexts developing a vision for the common good of society Amplifying a contextual understanding of Christian Muslim relations the authors from Africa and across the world reflect on and respond to the cultural themes of territoriality and hospitality resulting in a comprehensive resource for constructive engagement of the faiths in shared public spaces Readers invested in the future of Christianity and Islam will learn how these cultural and theological resources are vital for both faiths to live and flourish together in Africa and beyond The Palgrave Handbook of Christianity in Africa from Apostolic Times to the Present Andrew Eugene Barnes, Toyin Falola, 2024-03-07 This comprehensive Handbook provides chapter length surveys of the history of Christian missions and Christian churches on the African continent since the time of Christ Africa is rapidly becoming the most Christianized region of the world While common narratives about Christianity tend to present Christianity as a set of ideas and beliefs imposed on Africa from the outside such narratives hold little meaning for African Christians or for those seeking to understand Christianity in Africa as an indigenous faith The aim of the Handbook is to propose a set of scholarly starting points for a new set of narratives The chapters collected here communicate an idea of Christianity as it has been embraced among African peoples at particular historical moments It therefore grants voice to the various strands of African Christianity on their own terms and offers scholarly study of what these voices teach us about how the world's most adhered to religion is practiced and understood on the continent of Africa Indiana University Studies Indiana University, 1926 Research Report, 1961 Research Report U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 1961 SAE Transactions Society of Automotive Engineers, 1913 Beginning in 1985 one section is devoted to a special topic Transactions Society of Automotive Engineers, 1913 Transactions Society of Automobile Engineers, 1913 Writing Research Papers James D.
