Studies In Industrial Organization:

Empirical Studies in Industrial Organization David B. Audretsch, John J. Siegfried, 1992 Empirical Studies in Industrial Organization brings together leading scholars who present state of the art research in the spirit of the structure conduct performance paradigm embodied in the work of Leonard W Weiss The individual chapters are generally empirically or public policy oriented A number of them introduce new sources of data that combined with the application of appropriate econometric techniques enable new breakthroughs and insights on issues hotly debated in the industrial organization literature For example five of the chapters are devoted towards uncovering the link between market concentration and pricing behavior Industrial Organization and Public Policy Douglas F. Greer, 1992 Industrial Dynamics Case Western Reserve University. Research Program in Industrial Economics, 1989-10-31 This book is based on the papers presented at a conference on New Issues in Industrial Economics held at Case Western Reserve University Cleveland Ohio June 8 10 1987 The conference was organized by the Research Program in Industrial Economics RPIE in the Department of Economics at CWRU and was sponsored by The Cleveland Foundation the Eaton Corporation and The Standard Oil Company later renamed BP America Inc Their generous support is gratefully acknowledged All of the papers have been revised in several cases extensively since their presentation at the conference One of the primary reasons for organizing the conference was the concern that Industrial Economics has become too narrowly focused in most academic programs largely being confined to Industrial Organization i e issues of public policy towards enterprise with emphasis on antitrust and regulatory policy This subject definition leaves out a number of interesting and important questions about how industries evolve over time what the role of technological change and organizational change is in that process and the associated structural changes within industries and firms The object of this book is to derme these issues and suggest a framework within which they can be analyzed I would like to thank all the conference participants for their contributions particularly my colleagues at CWRU Asim Erdilek and William S Peirce without whose encouragement and support the conference would not have taken place Perspectives in Industrial Organization B. Dankbaar, John Groenewegen, H. Schenk, 2012-12-06 This book contains the key note lectures and a selection of papers that were presented at the 15th Conference of the European Association for Research in Industrial Economics EARIE held under the auspices of GRASP at Erasmus University Rotterdam in 1988 plus an introductory chapter by the Editors Upon suggestions by the Editors all papers have been revised for this book some more extensively than others Robin Marris has added to his lecture a synopsis of the contributions to the Round Table on the Micro Macro Interface which he chaired during the Conference The papers cover issues that seem to be both interesting and relevant for the 1990s While some of the papers are cast in a rather established research frame enabling the use of regular academic routines others are first attempts at delineating the contours of areas that are peripheral to what is often considered as the core of Industrial Organization In their introductory chapter the Editors set forth that a neglect of those areas may well relegate Industrial Organization to social irrelevancy Therefore it is hoped that the book will also contribute to a reflection on the main lines of Industrial Organization research for the 1990s thus helping to create a healthy perspective for this part of economics at a time when macroeconomics is undergoing a severe crisis

Studies in Industrial Organization, 1981 Mainstreams in Industrial Organization H. W. de Jong, William G. Shepherd, 1986

The present two volumes contain the essays and part of the discussions as presented at the conference on Mainstreams in Industrial Organization held at the University of Amsterdam 21-23 August 1985 The theme was chosen because the field of studies commonly designated industrial organization in the Anglo Saxon countries or market theory in Continental Europe has experienced important alterations during the past decade Partly this reflects changing theoretical views inside the field in which shifts in the core concepts have occurred and different emphasis is laid on time honoured views and results Partly critical views have been voiced from outside the field As in all open scientific debate they have to be weighed and if necessary taken into account Partly also divergent developments in thinking between the Anglo Saxon European and Japanese areas need to be considered because both the problems and the ways of approaching them still differ The variety of views theories and results is testimony to the vitality of this field of economics variety is generated by the creative endeavours from which the chaff is being beaten out by critical discussions That is especially true for the concept of competition itself which industrial organization economists are debating intensively

Issues, Theory, and Research in Industrial/Organizational Psychology Louise Kelley, 1992-03-13 Industrial Organizational psychologists are a rather diverse group of people with a common interest in applying psychology to work settings This is the conclusion reached by George Alliger in the opening chapter of this volume setting the tone for the rest of the book which attempts to expand our view of what can be considered as I/O psychology The authors of the individual chapters are from a variety of backgrounds not all of them directly associated with I/O psychology and they discuss topics such as managerial success and training as well as topics much more on the edge of I/O such as team building and organizational theory Thus this volume makes an important statement about the potential diversity of our field At the same time it will help move us towards that diversity by providing insights and information in areas that should be and are becoming part of the realm of I/O psychology These insights into non traditional topics as well as particularly interesting approaches to more traditional areas make this volume worthwhile and useful to almost anyone concerned with I/O psychology

Quantitative Studies of Industrial Organization Leonard Weiss, 1971 Industrial Organization Kenneth George, Caroline Joll, E. L. Lynk, 2005-08-11 As most economies remain caught in a global recession that shows little sign of abatement the importance of maintaining a flourishing industrial sector for the economic wellbeing of a country has rarely been so relevant Industrial Organisation has long served as a basic introduction to this subject The book is concerned with economic problems and policy issues that arise from the activities of firms The authors reject the traditional micro economic analysis of market structure in favour of studying conduct and performance in the context of macro economic policy and the environment which this provides for firms Substantially revised and updated to take account of developments in the subject since the publication of the last edition Industrial Organization includes four new chapters which reflect the major new areas of interest in industrial economics over the last decade These include the increasing importance of the service sector and problems of relatively low productivity growth within this and questions relating to increased levels of international competition in a more open world economy This is a comparative study drawing on empirical evidence from the UK USA and the EC Mathematical and econometric requirements are kept to a minimum and the text has long been regarded as the most accessible introduction to the subject Studies in Industrial Organization H. A. Silverman, 2013-10-08 The studies in this volume are a result of the Social Reconstruction Survey carried out by Nuffield College Oxford between 1941 and 1944 The Survey studied the position and prospects of towns or areas in Britain in order to find out what was likely to happen to their industrial development with a view to planning for the post war location of industry and distribution of population The result is an invaluable source of empirical material for the study of British industry in the mid twentieth century Industries covered include Natural Textiles Artificial Textiles Carpets Footwear Extensive use of statistical information for imports and exports production costs employment figures etc
