Dialectical Approaches to Studying Personal

Relationships Barbara M. Montgomery,Leslie A. Baxter,2013-09-13 This book describes many different and useful ways of understanding personal relationships from a dialectical perspective It is written for scholars in higher education both faculty and students across many fields within the social sciences and the humanities who seek answers to questions about how people relate to one another The book is valuable for all scholars who pursue new ideas because it models a form of scholarly communication in which multiple voices can be acknowledged as valid the worth of one perspective is not measured by the denigration of another and difference is celebrated as conducive to learning rather than threatening to it The contributors emphasize the characteristics of their dialectical view that set them apart from other dialectical authors and describe their methods of studying relationships from a dialectical perspective Following the Bakhtinian perspective they honor the values of dialogism by respecting different and sometimes contradictory views assuming that these views can be valid and joining in a discussion with the editors and other contributors about their emerging work They also acknowledge that the chapters in this text are part of an ongoing process to frame and reframe emerging ideas and allow the dialogue that occurs within this frame the freedom to express creative unique ideas

IDENTITY CONSTRUCTION IN CHINESE POLICE-SUSPECT INVESTIGATIVE INTERVIEWS YUN YAO,2024-03-11 This study mainly focuses on the reciprocal relationship between language and identity in Chinese police suspect investigative interviews Based on the theory of interpersonal pragmatics it makes a general micro analysis of discursive practices of both police officers and suspects and explores the multiple identities constructed in the interaction Identities constructed by police officers and suspects are not necessarily consistent with their predetermined institutional roles Police officers not only project and construct powerful identities but also intentionally construct their less powerful interactional identities such as helpers interlocutors and listeners Suspects in the investigative interviews also build multifaceted identities such as confessors storytellers or justifiers Various factors such as institutional settings communicative objectives interlocutors epistemics and interpersonal relationships may exert influence on participants identity construction Police officers and suspects may choose or adjust their expressions according to local interactional contexts Their linguistic choice in the interaction will affect the establishment of interpersonal relationship between them and ultimately achieve construction of multiple identities

A Research Agenda for Construction Management Roine

Leiringer, Andy Dainty, 2023-07-01 This impressive book challenges the orthodoxies that have dominated the construction management research CMR field for the past 50 years Providing a comprehensive framework for understanding the complex and multi faceted domain of construction A Research Agenda for Construction Management sets out a range of alternative perspectives which problematise the axioms upon which much CMR knowledge is based and offers new directions for the research community to consider Public Assistance Report United States.
