SEA ICE The latest edition of the gold standard in sea ice references In the newly revised second edition of Sea Ice Physics and Remote Sensing a team of distinguished researchers delivers an in depth review of the features and structural properties of ice as well as the latest advances in geophysical sensors ice parameter retrieval techniques and remote sensing data The book has been updated to reflect the latest scientific developments in macro and micro scale sea ice research For this edition the authors have included high quality photographs of thin sections from cores of various ice types as well as a comprehensive account of all major field expeditions that have systematically surveyed sea ice and its properties Readers will also find A thorough introduction to ice physics and physical processes including ice morphology and age based structural features Practical discussions of radiometric and radar scattering observations from sea ice including radar backscatter and microwave emission The latest techniques for the retrieval of sea ice parameters from space borne and airborne sensor data New chapters on sea ice thermal microwave emissions and on the impact of climate change on polar sea ice Perfect for academic researchers working on sea ice the cryosphere and climatology Sea Ice Physics and Remote Sensing will also benefit meteorologists marine operators and high latitude construction engineers

POLAR NIGHT Marine Ecology Jørgen Berge, Geir Johnsen, Jonathan H. Cohen, 2020-04-08

Until recently the prevailing view of marine life at high latitudes has been that organisms enter a general resting state during the dark Polar Night and that the system only awakens with the return of the sun Recent research however with coordinated multidisciplinary field campaigns based on the high Arctic Archipelago of Svalbard have provided a radical new perspective Instead of a system in dormancy a new perspective of a system in full operation and with high levels of activity across all major phyla is emerging Examples of such activities and processes include Active marine organisms at sea surface water column and the sea floor At surface we find active foraging in seabirds and fish in the water column we find a high biodiversity and activity of zooplankton and larvae such as active light induced synchronized diurnal vertical migration and at seafloor there is a high biodiversity in benthic animals and macroalgae The Polar Night is a period for reproduction in many benthic and pelagic taxa mass occurrence of ghost shrimps Caprellides high abundance of Ctenophores physiological evidence of micro and macroalgal cells that are ready to utilize the first rays of light when they appear deep water fishes found at water surface in the Polar night and continuous growth of bivalves throughout the winter These findings not only begin to shape a new paradigm for marine winter ecology in the high Arctic but also provide conclusive evidence for a top down controlled system in which primary production levels are close to zero In an era of environmental change that is accelerated at high latitudes we believe that this new insight is likely to strongly impact how the scientific community views the high latitude marine ecosystem Despite the overwhelming darkness the main environmental variable affecting marine organisms in the Polar Night is in fact light The light regime during the Polar Night is unique with respect to light intensity spectral composition of light and photoperiod Climate Change 2007 - The Physical Science Basis Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change. Dictionary of Nature Myths Tamra Andrews, 2000 Comprehensive and cross referenced this informative volume is a rich introduction to the world of nature as experienced by ancient peoples around the globe 51 halftones Ice Age Earth Alastair G. Dawson, 2013-06-17 Ice Age Earth provides the first detailed review of global environmental change in the Late Quaternary Significant geological and climatic events are analysed within a review of glacial and periglacial history The melting history of the last ice sheets reveals that complex dynamic and catastrophic change occurred change which affected the circulation of the atmosphere and oceans and the stability of the Earth's crust Handbook of Sea-Level Research Ian Shennan, Antony J. Long, Benjamin P. Horton, 2014-12-17 Measuring sea level change be that rise or fall is one of the most pressing scientific goals of our time and requires robust scientific approaches and techniques This Handbook aims to provide a practical guide to readers interested in this challenge from the initial design of research approaches through to the practical issues of data collection and interpretation from a diverse range of coastal environments Building on thirty years of international research the Handbook comprises 38 chapters that are authored by leading experts from around the world The Handbook will be an important resource to scientists interested and involved in understanding sea level changes across a broadrange of disciplines policy makers wanting to appreciate ourcurrent state of knowledge of sea level change over differenttimescales and many teachers at the university level as well asadvanced level undergraduates and postgraduate research students wanting to learn more about sea level change Additional resources for this book can be found at ahref <http://www.wiley.com/go/shennan/sealevel>

Experimenting on a Small Planet William W. Hay,2016-06-01 This book is a thorough introduction to climate science and global change The author is a geologist who has spent much of his life investigating the climate of Earth from a time when it was warm and dinosaurs roamed the land to today s changing climate Bill Hay takes you on a journey to understand how the climate system works He explores how humans are unintentionally conducting a grand uncontrolled experiment which is leading to unanticipated changes We follow the twisting path of seemingly unrelated discoveries in physics chemistry biology geology and even mathematics to learn how they led to our present knowledge of how our planet works He explains why the weather is becoming increasingly chaotic as our planet warms at a rate far faster than at any time in its geologic past He speculates on possible future outcomes and suggests that nature itself may make some unexpected course corrections Although the book is written for the layman with little knowledge of science or mathematics it includes information from many diverse fields to provide even those actively working in the field of climatology with a broader view of this developing drama Experimenting on a Small Planet is a must read for anyone having more than a casual interest in global warming and climate change one of the most important and challenging issues of our time This new edition includes actual data from climate science into 2014 Numerous powerpoint slides allow lecturers and teachers to more effectively use the book as a basis for climate change education

Sailing Across a Wounded Sea Giuseppe Notarbartolo di Sciara,2024-06-17 The capacity of humans to destroy their environment is playing out like a Greek tragedy in the Mediterranean Sea After having coexisted with a diversity of marine animals throughout their history humans have broken the balance in recent decades and the survival of countless marine creatures is now increasingly uncertain However unlike in classical tragedies real life entities are not necessarily doomed by their fate and there must be hope to turn the tide in nature s favour Lack of concrete conservation action might be simply due to a lack of awareness how can we feel sad about a loss if we don t know what we are losing Sailing Across a Wounded Sea is the story of an ideal journey around the Mediterranean to meet its non human inhabitants consisting of real episodes collected over half a century as the author observed real animals exchanged views with a variety of contacts and argued for such views in the policy arena Encountering whales dolphins seals and rays in their habitat and on their terms will hopefully contribute to building up in readers a collective commitment to help secure a future for these species A future where they are allowed to flourish as they were meant to had humans never trod so heavily on the sea s delicate ecological balance and the interwoven natural processes Giuseppe Notarbartolo di Sciara has been involved for a lifetime in protecting marine biodiversity in various capacities as a scientist civil servant advocate and sailor Having studied in California and worked with whales dolphins and sharks worldwide he returned to the Mediterranean in 1985 keen on using his acquired tools to discover more about the ancient sea's natural history Here he described small but vibrant populations of fin and sperm whales along with various species of dolphins manta rays and the monk seal At the same time seeing the Mediterranean's progressive degradation at the hands of humans he felt a surge of rebellion against this squandering of natural values and wished to raise awareness of the existence of these marine natural treasures and the risk of losing them Drawing from decades of first hand experiences in Sailing Across a Wounded Sea Giuseppe Notarbartolo di Sciara offers a compelling narrative that interweaves the beauty of the Mediterranean Sea's non human inhabitants with the challenges they face due to human activity As he reflects on his journey the author underscores the imperative for collective action and the need for heightened awareness and proactive conservation measures to protect our oceans Sailing Across a Wounded Sea serves not only as a captivating voyage but also as a sobering call to responsibility Join Giuseppe Notarbartolo di Sciara on this insightful expedition and discover the profound significance of preserving our marine ecosystems for future generations Peter Thomson United Nations Secretary General's Special Envoy for the Ocean The Mediterranean the cradle of civilisation is a sea steeped in history From Apollon and Artemis to Pythagoras and Hercules names in this book summon up images of civilisations past and lost The greatest Greek philosopher of them all Aristotle is also regarded as the father of marine biodiversity stemming from his research conducted on Lesbos Island And yet this ancient world familiar to so many is under threat In this book Notarbartolo di Sciara takes us on a modern day odyssey through these waters based on over 50 years of personal observations He reminds us of the impact of the progressive footprint of human action and endeavour which has spread out across the whole sea changing and depleting its beauty and splendour His voyage paints a picture not just of what is at stake but also of the potential the future can hold if we all work together to give nature a breathing space to allow it to restore and recover In our modern world where we have become more disconnected than ever from our surroundings this book is a rallying call to remind us that all our futures are intricately interwoven with nature and that we damage that at our peril Professor Dan Laffoley Emeritus marine Vice Chair IUCN World Commission on Protected Areas Who doesn't love a travelogue The serendipitous nature of a journey places and characters along the way shared insights and a joyous homecoming A key difference with Sailing Across a Wounded Sea is that encounters are all with marine creatures and their places in the natural world Set in the Mediterranean Notarbartolo di Sciara draws upon experiences from a life long love of the sea to take us with him cataloguing pressures and stresses on different communities of animals he knows well Explaining all is not as it should be Revealing that we have been unaware of impacts or in denial or asleep at the wheel Personal yet profound his consistent message is that we have taken too much and respected too little Too much food too much space and too many liberties Underpinning this journey is a heartfelt call to wake up and put things right which makes for a compelling read and a new and novel insight David Johnson Honorary Professor University of Edinburgh Coordinator Global Ocean

Biodiversity Initiative Mission Blue Hope Spot Champion Everyone who cares about the Mediterranean Sea should read this impassioned and insightful book Few people know the whales dolphins seals and other marine wildlife struggling to survive in the Cradle of Civilisation and what needs to be done to help secure their future better than Giuseppe Notarbartolo di Sciara Mark Carwardine Bestselling author and environmentalist Jump aboard the Pontoporia with Giuseppe Notarbartolo di Sciara This book is a grand tour of the Mediterranean Sea made luminous through the eyes passions and concerns of a dedicated scientist and conservationist who has spent his life living and working in these waters Discover the history culture politics and most of all the diverse nature of the Mediterranean This well written memoir offers a wonderful ride though at times bumpy as a scientist who has done so much to help the Mediterranean come to terms with the future of this ancient storied sea Erich Hoyt Author Planktonia Creatures of the Deep Marine Protected Areas for Whales Dolphins and Porpoises and other books Warm and inviting as a Mediterranean breeze renowned marine biologist Giuseppe Notarbartolo di Sciara s beautiful book takes us on a modern day Odyssey around the sea of his birth It is a journey of entrancing encounters with the natural world tempered by a sobering warning that the Cradle of Civilisation cannot call itself civilised if it continues to destroy the sea that gave it life Isabella Tree Author of Wilding Over-sea Henry Morford,1867
