from him and built a dream home overlooking Old Town and the Pacific Ocean There was also Kate Sessions the mother of Balboa Park whose nursery growing grounds just outside the original Mission Hills subdivision proved difficult for her clientele to traverse leading her to convince transportation mogul John D Spreckles to expand the streetcar route to accommodate her business In 1905 George Marston a San Diego civic leader commissioned landscape architect and urban planner John Nolan to implement a development plan for the city Nolan s plan however was never adopted In 1908 as if to prove what was possible Marston s syndicate formed the restricted subdivision of Mission Hills Then in 1909 the city announced plans to celebrate the opening of the Panama Canal The fuse was lit and the boom that followed brought builders and skilled artisans to San Diego As a result Mission Hills became architecturally magnificent Silver Fox of the Rockies Daniel Tyler, Delph Carpenter, 2003 Delphus E Carpenter 1877 1951 was Colorado s commissioner of interstate streams during a time when water rights were a legal battleground for western states A complex unassuming man as rare and cunning in politics and law as the elusive silver fox of the Rocky Mountain West Carpenter boldly relied on negotiation instead of endless litigation to forge agreements among states first before federal intervention In Silver Fox of the Rockies Daniel Tyler tells Carpenter s story and that of the great interstate water compacts he helped create Those compacts produced in the early twentieth century have guided not only agricultural use but urban growth and development throughout much of the American West to this day In Carpenter s time most western states relied on the doctrine of prior appropriation first in time first in right which granted exclusive use of resources to those who claimed them first regardless of common needs Carpenter feared that population growth and rapid agricultural development in states sharing the same river basins would rob Colorado of its right to a fair share of water To avoid that eventuality Carpenter invoked the compact clause of the U S Constitution a clause previously used to settle boundary disputes and applied it to interstate water rights The result was a mechanism by which complex issues involving interstate water rights could be settled through negotiation without litigating them before the U S Supreme Court Carpenter believed in the preservation of states rights in order to preserve the constitutionally mandated balance between state and federal authority Today water remains critically important to the American West and the great interstate water compacts Carpenter helped engineer constitute his most enduring legacy Of particular significance is the Colorado River Compact of 1922 without which Hoover Dam could never have been built

Empire on Display Sarah J. Moore, 2013-05-31 The world s fair of 1915 celebrated both the completion of the Panama Canal and the rebuilding of San Francisco following the devastating 1906 earthquake and fire The exposition spotlighted the canal and the city as gateways to the Pacific where the American empire could now expand after its victory in the Spanish American War Empire on Display is the first book to examine the Panama Pacific International Exposition through the lenses of art history and cultural studies focusing on the event s expansionist and masculinist symbolism The exposition displayed evidence visual spatial geographic cartographic and ideological of America s imperial ambitions and accomplishments Representations of the Panama Canal play a central role in Moore's argument much as they did at the fair itself. Embodying a manly empire of global dimensions, the canal was depicted in statues and a gigantic working replica as well as on commemorative stamps, maps, murals, postcards, medals, and advertisements. Just as San Francisco's rebuilding symbolized America's will to overcome the forces of nature, the Panama Canal represented the triumph of U.S. technology and sheer determination to realize the centuries-old dream of opening a passage between the seas. Extensively illustrated, Moore's book vividly recalls many other features of the fair, including a seventy-five-foot-tall Uncle Sam, American railroads in their heyday in 1915, a five-acre scale model of Yellowstone complete with miniature geysers that erupted at regular intervals. A mini Grand Canyon featured a village where some twenty Pueblo Indians lived throughout the fair. Moore interprets these visual and cultural artifacts as layered narratives of progress, civilization, social Darwinism, and manliness. Much as the globe had ostensibly shrunk with the completion of the Panama Canal, the Panama-Pacific International Exposition compressed the world and represented it in miniature to celebrate a reinvigorated imperial masculine and technologically advanced nation. As San Francisco bids to host another world's fair in 2020, Moore's rich analytic approach gives readers much to ponder about symbolism, American identity, and contemporary parallels to the past.

Conserving Words Daniel J. Philippon, 2004. Conserving Words looks at five authors of seminal works of nature writing who also founded or revitalized important environmental organizations: Theodore Roosevelt and the Boone and Crockett Club, Mabel Osgood Wright and the National Audubon Society, John Muir and the Sierra Club, Aldo Leopold and the Wilderness Society, and Edward Abbey and Earth First. These writers used powerfully evocative and galvanizing metaphors for nature metaphors that Daniel J. Philippon calls "conserving words": frontier, Roosevelt garden, Wright park, Muir wilderness, Leopold and utopia, Abbey. Integrating literature, history, biography, and philosophy, this ambitious study explores how "conserving words" enabled narratives to convey environmental values as they explained how human beings should interact with the nonhuman world.
