The Flowing Tide More Irish Set Dancing:

The Flowing Tide Pat Murphy, 2000 A second collection from Pat Murphy the author of Toss the Feathers Which also features popular set dances

Dancing at the Crossroads Helena Wulff, 2008-10 Dancing at the crossroads used to be an opportunity for young people to meet and enjoy themselves on mild summer evenings in the Irish countryside until this practice was banned by the Public Dance Halls Act of 1935 Now a key metaphor in Irish cultural and political life dancing at the crossroads also crystallizes the argument of this book Irish dance from Riverdance the commercial show to competitive dancing and dance theatre conveys that Ireland is in a crossroads situation Irish dance with a firm base in a distinctly Irish tradition is becoming a permanent part of European modernity While this book highlights the captivating tensions and ties surrounding debates on Irish dance it also aims to extend broader understandings of place mobility and rooted cosmopolitanism

Dance in Ireland Sharon A. Phelan, 2014-08-11 In Dance in Ireland Steps Stages and Stories Sharon Phelan provides an in depth view of dance in Ireland during the colonial and post colonial eras She presents dance as an integral part of Irish life and as a signifier of cultural change Central themes are documented and analysed They include cross cultural influences the dance master and pantomimic dance traditions dance during the Gaelic Revival dichotomies in dance and the theatricalisation of Irish dance The book is illustrated with photographs and it is an indispensable resource for academics and artists alike as they continue to foster dance on the page and on the stage

The Artist and Academia Helen Phelan, Graham F. Welch, 2021-03-29 The Artist and Academia explores the relationship between artistic and academic ways of knowing Historically these have often been presented as opposites the former characterized as passionate and intuitive and the latter portrayed as systematic and rigorous Recent scholarship presents a more complex picture Artistic knowledge demands high levels of skill and rigor while academic research requires creativity and innovative thinking This edited collection brings together leading artists and scholars as well as artist scholars to offer a variety of philosophical educational experiential reflexive and imaginative perspectives on the artist and academia The contributions include in depth scholarly discussions on the nature of knowledge and creativity as well as personal artistic statements from musicians dancers actors and writers Additionally it explores both the mediational and subversive spaces created by the meeting of artistic and academic traditions While the book addresses global themes by global writers its core case study is an educational experiment called the Irish World Academy of Music and Dance at the University of Limerick in Ireland Established in 1994 it set out to reconfigure the place of the artist in the context of contemporary higher education The material is clustered into three parts Part One and Part Two explore the artist as mediator educator and subversive in academia Grounded in close to practice research Part Three concludes the volume with a set of case studies from the Irish World Academy Artistic and academic knowledge come together in this unique set of pieces to explore the development of more inclusive and imaginative pedagogical values
