The Flying Prostitute Lawrence J. Hunter, 2000-03 The Flying Prostitute was one of many pseudonyms given the B 26 Martin Marauder bomber in WWII by those who flew them This plane cremated so many crewmen that newscasters were afraid to write or talk about it for fear this might cause a morale problem with our men who were told to fly them The author recites his cadet life at Randolph Field San Antonio Texas THE WEST POINT OF THE AIR where he became the top ranking cadet officer He then earned his wings at Ellington Field Texas and along with others of his class was assigned to be an Instructor Pilot of this aircraft for seventeen months So many men were being killed in horrible crashes that each wore their Air Force Wings as bracelets on their wrists so their bodies could be identified just in case Combat in the skies over Europe followed and so did the crashes Pilots did not know the mammoth tail could and had separated from this airplane while in flight Pilots knew the propellers could runaway and cremate their entire crew in disastrous fiery crashes Pilots did not know the manufacturers of parts of this airplane were falsifying reports and Congress knew it They did know that they could be killed every time they took one up This dramatic true story is shocking in its detail and documentation The refusal to write about this airplane remains an enigma for writers even to this day

Horrigan,2010 They have been referred to as the Greatest Generation They are the men and women of World War II Their stories need to be told Writer and daughter of a WWII veteran Cherie Horrigan Happy honors her father with this powerful and amazing account Written in first person narration the reader is drawn into the world of Kenneth Horrigan a man who was captured by the enemy when he was 19 years old Horrigan recounts his experiences of being interrogated relentlessly by the Germans suffering unimaginable emotional and physical distress solitary confinement and the sights sounds and smells of war that no soldier will ever forget Upon his return home Horrigan was rejected by the Veterans Administration and was denied benefits This powerful book chronicles the life of a young soldier and his experience as a POW not only the suffering he endured but the ways in which he knew it affected his loved ones It contains never before published historical documents that give proof honor and respect to this American soldier and how he served his country      Farm Boy's Dream John O. Jacobs,2012 My vision of flying started with C Lindberg flying solo across the Atlantic and the pictures of him landing in France at night I believe I believe there was also a fellow by the name of Chamberln not sure of the spelling on his name who had planned the same trip but Lindberg beat him to it I believe he was from Iowa And then there was Col Roscoe Turner who held world s speed record at I believe it was 300 mph sometime in the early thirties And then there was Wily Post one eyed pilot who with Will Rogers a humorist from Oklahoma attempted a round the world flight and crashed and both were killed in Alaska And then the China Clipper on its maiden flight John Music I used to believe me And then there was Amelia Earhart Flying was in my blood until I did not get to attend high school so my flying dreams went out the window knowing that I would need all the education to get there So WW II came along and as you see my dream did come true to come out of service and to be qualified to fly any aircraft that was being flown in the world And now you would wonder why would anyone pass up an opportunity such as that Good question you were allowed only twenty hours a week flying time free time that bothered me being a farmer we had no free time to speak of There was nothing more boring than flying hours on end with nothing to look at It was not boring on the way to a target but on the way back to base five hours of blue sky and water We did not fly every day maybe three missions a week There was no recreation down there believe me Since I was the youngest it was expected of me to take care of my parents on the farm      Ready Or Not! J. Cécile Fabre, 2006-04-06 In the prevailing liberal ethos if there is one thing that is beyond the reach of others it is our body in particular and our person in general our legal and political tradition is such that we have the right to deny others access to our person and body even though doing so would harm those who need personal services from us or body parts However we lack the right to use ourselves as we wish in order to raise income even though we do not necessarily harm others by doing so even though we might in fact benefit them by doing so Cécile Fabre's aim in this book is to show that according to the principles of distributive justice which inform most liberal democracies both in practice and in theory it should be exactly the other way around that is if it is true that we lack the right to withhold access to material resources from those who need them we also lack the right to withhold access to our body from those who need it but we do under some circumstances have the right to decide how to use it in order to raise income More specifically she argues in favour of the confiscation of body parts and personal services as well as of the commercialization of organs sex and reproductive capacities      Aviation's Most Wanted™ Steven A. Gould, 1999 Commissioned in the US Infantry after two years Royal Canadian Army and a year training in the US Army Air Force ending in Czechoslovakia facing Rusksies and Dudley's rifle platoon is overrun on an outpost and he plays dead while the screaming Chinese Fourth Field Army trots by On the 23rd of the May Massacre clipped by a sniper much more misery and home to brood over bloody scenes Locating a few fellow survivors inspired to put it all down YOU TREMBLE BODY      Earning Their Wings Sarah Parry Myers, 2023-09-14 Established by the Army Air Force in 1943 the Women's Airforce Service Pilots WASP program opened to civilian women with a pilot's license who could afford to pay for their own transportation training and uniforms. Despite their highly developed skill set, rigorous training and often dangerous work, the women of WASP were not granted military status until 1977, denied over three decades of Army Air Force benefits as well as the honor and respect given to male and female World War II veterans of other branches. Sarah Parry Myers not only offers a history of this short-lived program but considers its long-term consequences for the women who participated and subsequent generations of servicewomen and activists. Myers shows us how those in the WASP program bonded through their training, living together in barracks, sharing the dangers of risky flights and struggling to be recognized as military personnel and the friendships they forged lasted well after the Army Air Force dissolved the program. Despite the WASP program's short duration, its fliers formed activist networks and spent the next thirty years lobbying for recognition as veterans. Their efforts were finally recognized when President Jimmy Carter signed a bill into law granting WASP participants retroactive veteran status, entitling them to military benefits and burials.

Approach, 1984 The naval aviation safety review A Higher Call Adam Makos, Larry Alexander, 2014-05-06 THE INTERNATIONAL BESTSELLER Beautifully told. CNN: A remarkable story worth retelling and celebrating. USA Today: Oh, it's a good one. Fox News: A beautiful story of a brotherhood between enemies emerges from the horrors of World War II in this New York Times bestseller by the author of Devotion, now a Major Motion Picture. December 1943: A badly damaged American bomber struggles to fly over wartime Germany. At the controls is twenty-one-year-old Second Lieutenant Charlie Brown. Half his crew lay wounded or dead on this their first mission. Suddenly, a Messerschmitt fighter pulls up on the bomber's tail. The pilot is German ace Franz Stigler, and he can destroy the young American crew with the squeeze of a trigger. What happened next?

would defy imagination and later be called the most incredible encounter between enemies in World War II The U S 8th Air Force would later classify what happened between them as top secret It was an act that Franz could never mention for fear of facing a firing squad It was the encounter that would haunt both Charlie and Franz for forty years until as old men they would search the world for each other a last mission that could change their lives forever An Emotional Gauntlet
