

A black and white photograph of a statue in a ruined city. The statue, which appears to be of a religious figure, is draped in a white cloth and stands on a pedestal in the foreground. In the background, a large, multi-story building with many windows is visible, but it is in a state of significant disrepair, with many windows missing and the structure appearing skeletal. The ground in the foreground is covered in rubble and debris, suggesting a scene of destruction or ruin. The overall tone is somber and historical.

The Force Of Culture Unionist Identities In Contemporary Ireland Irish Cultural Studies:

Masculinities and the Contemporary Irish Theatre B. Singleton, 2010-11-24 Irish theatre and its histories appear to be dominated by men and their actions This book s socially and culturally contextualized analysis of performance over the last two decades however reveals masculinities that are anything but hegemonic played out in theatres and other arenas of performance all over Ireland

The Cambridge History of Ireland: Volume 4, 1880 to the Present Thomas Bartlett, 2018-02-28 This final volume in the Cambridge History of Ireland covers the period from the 1880s to the present Based on the most recent and innovative scholarship and research the many contributions from experts in their field offer detailed and fresh perspectives on key areas of Irish social economic religious political demographic institutional and cultural history By situating the Irish story or stories as for much of these decades two Irelands are in play in a variety of contexts Irish and Anglo Irish but also European Atlantic and latterly global The result is an insightful interpretation on the emergence and development of Ireland during these often turbulent decades Copiously illustrated with special features on images of the Troubles and on Irish art and sculpture in the twentieth century this volume will undoubtedly be hailed as a landmark publication by the most recent generation of historians of Ireland

A Farewell to Arms? Michael Cox, Adrian Guelke, Fiona Stephen, 2006-04-18 This comprehensive and original study is the first to explain in detail how the Good Friday Agreement ran into trouble why we are still some way from a final settlement but why a return to war is most unlikely even in an age where global terror now threatens world order more seriously than at any time in the past This new edition of an established authoritative text will be essential reading for students researchers and academics of Irish politics conflict and peace studies and international relations

Irish Literature Since 1800 Norman Vance, 2014-06-11 This book surveys Irish writing in English over the last two centuries from Maria Edgeworth to Seamus Heaney to give the literary student and the general reader an up to date sense of its variety and vitality and to indicate some of the ways in which it has been described and discussed It begins with a brief outline of Irish history of Irish writing in Irish and Latin and of writing in English before 1800 Later chapters consider Irish romanticism Victorian Ireland W B Yeats and the Irish Literary Revival new directions in Irish writing after Joyce and the literature of contemporary Ireland north and south from 1960 to the present

Music and Identity in Ireland and Beyond Mark Fitzgerald, John O'Flynn, 2016-04-29 Music and Identity in Ireland and Beyond represents the first interdisciplinary volume of chapters on an intricate cultural field that can be experienced and interpreted in manifold ways whether in Ireland The Republic of Ireland and or Northern Ireland among its diaspora s or further afield While each contributor addresses particular themes viewed from discrete perspectives collectively the book contemplates whether music in Ireland can be regarded as one interrelated plane of cultural and or national identity given the various conceptions and contexts of both Ireland geographical political diasporic mythical and Music including a proliferation of practices and genres that give rise to multiple sites of identification Arranged in the relatively distinct yet interweaving parts of Historical Perspectives Recent and Contemporary Production and Cultural Explorations its various chapters act to juxtapose the socio historical distinctions between the major style categories most typically associated with music in Ireland traditional classical and popular and to explore a range of dialectical relationships between these musical styles in matters pertaining to national and cultural identity The book includes a number of chapters that examine various movements and moments of traditional music revival from the late eighteenth century to the present day as well as chapters that tease out various issues of national identity pertaining to individual composers performers art music popular music and their audiences Many chapters in the volume consider mediating influences infrastructural technological political and or social categories class gender religion ethnicity race age in the interpretation of music production and consumption Performers and composers discussed include U2 Raymond Deane Afro Celt Sound System E J Moeran S amus Ennis Kevin O Connell Stiff Little Fingers Frederick May Arnold
