Epic Fail Mark Leigh, 2013-06-06 Herewith a handful of sample entries to tickle your funny bones In the 1824 war between Britain and Ashanti now part of Ghana the British Redcoats found themselves surrounded by 10 000 fierce Ashanti warriors and running very low on ammunition Their commander ordered Charles Brandon the army's stores manager to break open the reserve ammunition he'd ordered As the Ashanti advanced Brandon began to open the ammunition boxes only to find he had brought the wrong supplies They were all full of biscuits The grandfather of film star Lana Turner owned a half share in a brand new company that had started bottling a fizzy drink He thought the drink's name would affect its saleability and wanted to change it without success In frustration and as a protest he sold his 50% It's a pity really because Coca Cola became quite popular Italian Vittoria Luise was out driving during a fierce storm in Naples A huge gust of wind blew his car into the River Sele The car began to sink but the calm motorist managed to break a window and swim to safety He dragged himself onto the riverbank and it was here that he was hit by a falling tree and killed The Times of 19 October 1986 carried the story of Emilio Tarra a crewmember of the 1986 America's Cup race who was driving from Perth towards Adelaide during the Australian leg of the race En route his car sideswiped a kangaroo leaving it sprawled across the road Tarra got out of his car and assuming the kangaroo was dead decided to take a novelty photograph to show his colleagues Dressing the kangaroo up in his smart team blazer he propped it against his car to take its photograph As he was focusing his camera the kangaroo which had only been stunned woke up and bounded back off into the bush taking with it the jacket which contained Tarra's passport 2 000 worth of cash and his credit cards

Mass Observers Making Meaning James Hinton, 2022-02-24 What do people believe about death and the afterlife How do they negotiate the relationship between science and religion How do they understand apparently paranormal events What do they make of sensations of awe wonder or exceptional moments of sudden enlightenment The volunteer mass observers responded to such questions with a freshness openness and honesty which compels attention Using this rich material Mass Observers Making Meaning captures the extraordinarily diverse landscape of belief and disbelief to be found in Britain in the late 20th century at a time when Christianity was in steep decline alternative spiritualities were flourishing and atheism was growing Divided as they were about the ultimate nature of reality the mass observers were united in their readiness to puzzle about life's larger questions Listening empathetically to their accounts James Hinton himself a convinced atheist seeks to bring divergent ways of finding meaning in human life into dialogue with one another and argues that we can move beyond the cacophony of conflicting beliefs to an understanding of our common need and ability to seek meaning in our lives

Re-crafting Rationalization Simon Locke,2016-03-23 Re-crafting Rationalization contributes to debates relating to the public understanding of science regarding the conceptualization of the relationship between science and the public It challenges the prevailing science centred or top down framework that currently informs notions of public engagement and knowledge transfer offering an alternative that remains firmly grounded in the discourse of classical social theory By proposing an alternative version of rationalization to the standard interpretation of Weber s disenchantment thesis this book establishes the public understanding of science as a matter of fundamental sociological concern As such it redefines this field to emphasize public meanings of science engaging with a range of topics of major interest to the public and popular meaning of science including science and religion science fiction and fantasy fringe science and media representations of science Combining rhetorical analysis with ethnomethodology and membership categorization analysis the book outlines the basis of a new approach to the sociology of knowledge in the light of which Weber's rationalization thesis is radically re-crafted in relation to studies of scientists' discourse, the rhetoric of science, popularization and public usages of science. This re-crafted rationalization is applied in a series of detailed empirical studies of enchanted science, creationism and intelligent design, Scientology and reflexive spirituality, superhero comics and mundane mysteries, Fortean discourse, conspiracy theory and media representations of the scientist in the case of Jack the Ripper. Re-crafting Rationalization therefore redresses a significant shortcoming in contemporary social theory which currently overlooks or misrepresents important public meanings of science whilst excluding popular culture from attention. With profound implications for the ways in which we make sense of developments involving science, this book will be of interest not only to sociologists and social theorists but also to those interested in popular culture and subcultures and the history, philosophy and sociology of science.
