Man Robert William Chambers,2020-09-28 He fell to stroking the cat's fur gazing the while into space with an absent eye that piqued her curiosity For a year now he had acquired that trick of suddenly detaching himself from earth and gazing speculatively toward heaven lost in a revery far from flattering to the ignored onlooker And now he was doing it again under her very nose What was he thinking about He seemed all at once a thousand miles removed from her Where were his thoughts Touched in her amour propre she quietly resumed the map of southern Florida but even the rustle of the paper did not disturb his self-centred and provoking meditation She looked at him looked at the map considered him again and finally watched him Suddenly for the first time in her life she thought him dangerously attractive Surprised and interested she regarded him in this new light impersonally for the moment So far away had he apparently drifted in his meditation that it seemed to her as though she were observing a stranger a most interesting and most unusual young man He turned and looked her straight in the eyes Twenty-two and her first season half over and to be caught blushing like a school girl There was no constraint her self-possession cooled her cheeks and he was not looking at her after all he was looking through her at something his fancy focused far far beyond her Never had she thought any man half as attractive as this old friend in a new light this handsome well-built careless young fellow absorbed in thoughts which excluded her No doubt he was so habituated to herself in all her moods that nothing except the friendliest indifference could ever To her consternation another tint of warm color slowly spread over neck and cheek He rose at the same moment dropped the cat back among the cushions and smiling down at her held out his hand She took it met his eyes with an effort but what message she divined in them Heaven alone knows for all at once her heart stood still and a strange thrill left her fingers nerveless in his hand VISTA

Palmer,1908 Beyond Desert Walls Ken Lamberton,2015-11-01 From the upper bunk where I write a narrow window allows me a southern exposure of the desert beyond this prison Saguaro cacti residents here long before this rude concrete pueblo fill the upper part of my frame If I could open the window and reach out across the razed ground sand traps and shining perimeter fence I might touch their fluted sides their glaucous and waxen skins For some people even prison cannot shut out the natural world A teacher and family man incarcerated in Arizona State Prison the result of a transgression that would cost him a dozen years of his life Ken Lamberton can see beyond his desert walls In essays that focus on the natural history of the region and on his own personal experiences with desert places the author of the Burroughs Medal winning book Wilderness and Razor Wire takes readers along as he revisits the Southwest he knew when he was free and as he makes an inner journey toward self awareness Whether considering the seemingly eternal cacti or the desolate beauty of the Pinacate he draws on sharp powers of observation to re create what lies beyond his six by eight cell and to contemplate the thoughts that haunt his mind as tenaciously as the kissing bugs that haunt his sleep Ranging from prehistoric ruins on the Colorado Plateau to the shores of the Sea of Cortez these writings were begun before Wilderness and Razor Wire and serve as a prequel to it They seamlessly interweave natural and personal history as Lamberton explores caves canyons and dry ponds evoking the mysteries and rhythms of desert life that elude even the most careful observers He offers new ways of thinking about how we relate to the natural world and about the links between those relationships and the ones we forge with other people With the assurance of a gifted writer he seeks to make sense of his own place in life crafting words to come to terms with an insanity of his own making to look inside himself and understand his passions and flaws Whether considering rattlesnakes of the hellish summer desert or the fellow inmates of his own personal hell Lamberton finds meaningful connections to his crime and his place to the people who remained in his life and those who didn't But what he reveals in Beyond Desert Walls ultimately arises from language itself a deep and perhaps even frightening understanding of a singular human nature

Stray Shots ,1919 The Amulet A.R. Morlan,2021-10-27 In the small town of Ewerton Wisconsin the murders just keep piling up and Anna suspects that her warped grandmother is somehow to blame Only she can find a solution if the horror doesn't get her first In the tradition of Stephen King's Castle Rock Ewerton has become another classic locus of evil a place that you never want to visit First rate characterization drives the stake of horror right through the center of your quivering heart Robert Reginald The Poor Man Stella Benson,1922 The post-captain; or, The wooden walls well manned [by J. Davis]. New and enlarged (10th) ed John Davis,1841 Words without Walls Sheryl St. Germain,Sarah Shotland,2015-03-10 Writing programs in prisons and rehabilitation centers have proven time and again to be transformative and empowering for people in need Halfway houses hospitals and shelters are all fertile ground for healing through the imagination and can often mean the difference for inmates and patients between just simply surviving and truly thriving It is in these settings that teachers and their students need reading that nourishes the soul and challenges the spirit Words without Walls is a collection of more than seventy five poems essays stories and scripts by contemporary writers that provide models for successful writing offering voices and styles that will inspire students in alternative spaces on their own creative exploration Created by the founders of the award winning program of the same name based at Chatham University the anthology strives to challenge readers to reach beyond their own circumstances and begin to write from the heart Each selection expresses immediacy writing that captures the imagination and conveys intimacy on the page revealing the power of words to cut to the quick and unfold the truth Many of the pieces are brief allowing for reading and discussion in the classroom and provide a wide range of content and genre touching on themes common to communities in need addiction and alcoholism family love and sex pain and hope prison recovery and violence Included is work by writers dealing with shared issues such as Dorothy Alison and Jesmyn Ward who write about families for whom struggle is a way of life or Natalie Kenvin and Toi Derricotte whose pieces reveal violence against women Also included are writings by those who have spent time in prison themselves such as Jimmy Santiago Baca Dwayne Betts Ken Lamberton and Etheridge Knight Eric Boyd ennobles the day he was released from jail Stephon Hayes reflects on what he sees from his prison window Terra Lynn evokes the experience of being put in solitary confinement Because in 2011 almost half of all prisoners in federal facilities were in for drug related offenses there are pieces by James Brown Nick Flynn and Ann Marlowe who explore their own addiction and alcoholism and by Natalie Diaz Scott Russell Sanders and Christine Stroud who write of crippling drug abuse by family and friends These powerful excerpts act as models for beginning writers and offer a vehicle to examine their own painful experiences Words without Walls demonstrates the power of language to connect people to reflect on the past and reimagine the future to confront complicated truths and to gain solace from pain and regret For students in alternative spaces these writings together with their own expressions reveal the same intense desire to write and share one s writing found in the Russian poet Irina Ratushinskaya who scratched her poems on bars of soap in a Gulag shower or the Turkish poet Nazim Hikmet who smuggled bits of poetry out of jail in the clothing of visiting friends Wole Soyinka in solitary confinement forty years ago wrote that creation is admission of great loneliness In these communal spaces our loneliness is lessened our vulnerability exposed and our honesty tested and through these revelatory writings students receive the necessary encouragement to share the whispering corners of their minds
