The Gaillard De Laubenque Family Of France And St Lucia:

The Gaillard de Laubenque Family of France and St. Lucia Céline Foster Walker, 2005 In 1775 a young French nobleman Honor Marie Gaillard de Laubenque arrived on the island of St Lucia in the Caribbean He was part of a French military contingent sent to help the Americans in their fight for independence How this family became racially integrated and how a present day descendant a woman of colour found the family's roots in Fougères France is just a part of what one will find in this publication

Creole Clay Patricia J. Fay, 2017-11-28 In this book Patricia Fay tells the history of the Anglophone Caribbean by documenting the material culture in the form of locally made earthenware pots everyday objects that have been central to domestic life dating from precolonial to postcolonial times Over the course of twenty years and multiple visits to the region Fay has documented via text and image the living heritage of traditional ceramics in the contemporary Caribbean introducing the reader to the generations of potters pots and production techniques In the process she charts the history of the region and its people reminding the reader of the extraordinary historical insights to be gained by examining seemingly quotidian objects
