The Arts of Persia from the Ninth to the Nineteenth Centuries Pasadena Art Museum, 1949 The Arts of Persia & Other Countries of Islam Hagop K. Kevorkian, 2017-06-12 THIS exhibition has been arranged with a desire to meet the convenience of those who are interested in manifestations of the arts of different countries over which Islam held sway at one time or other in the past An effort has been made to show under one roof representative examples of works produced at different epochs and stages of the civilizations referred to so that they may be seen and perhaps studied with the minimum expenditure of time Fine examples of many branches of the arts of these peoples are in permanent exhibitions at the Metropolitan Museum New York and the museums of great cities throughout the country It is difficult to find adequate words to describe the enchanting atmosphere of the halls at the Metropolitan Museum where Near Eastern art is installed and the same can truly be said of the Museum of Fine Arts Boston and the University of Pennsylvania Museum Philadelphia These exhibitions must inevitably contribute to the enjoyment and education of countless visitors to these institutions and will continue to do so in increasing degree to the enjoyment of generations to come The present exhibition does not comprise a vast number of objects Its claim to attention lies in the fact that it includes an important series of really first class works which are also of great historical importance There will be on view as well some comparatively new types of objects of sthetic and archaeological interest obtained as the result of recent excavations The briefness of time available precluded the possibility of compiling a catalogue as was at first intended The present booklet is issued to explain the scope of the exhibition and extend a cordial invitation to visit it H K Enlarge MUHAMMAD THE PROPHET WITNESSES ALI HIS SON IN LAW AND SUCCESSOR DEFEAT AMR BEN ABDWAD One of the eight illustrations for a XIIIth Century Persian Manuscript entitled History of Tabari compiled A H 310 A D 922 The present copy is a subsequent one of the Persian version translated by al Bala mi A H 352 It is interesting to note that Tabari records in the book here referred to that three messages were sent by Muhammad to Khusraw Parniz imparting the divine warnings One of the messages as recorded in an old Manuscript entitled Nihayat ul Irab reads In the name of God the merciful the compassionate From Muhammad the Apostle of God to Khusraw son of Hurmazd But to proceed Verily I extol unto thee God beside whom there is no other God He it is who guarded me when I was an orphan and made me rich when I was destitute and guided me when I was straying in error Only he who is bereft of understanding and over whom calamity triumphs rejects the message which I am sent to announce O Khusraw submit and thou shalt be safe or else prepare to wage with God and with his Apostle a war which shall not find them helpless Farewell The rise of Islam and its rapid advent to power is perhaps the most surprising chapter of the history of mankind The great empires Persian and Byzantine which were subjected to the urgent onslaught of this rising power may have been in an enfeebled condition as a result of excess of despotism and internal dissensions as historians affirm but that the element of the power must have been in the rationality of the principles contained in the teaching there can be no doubt It was undoubtedly to Islam that simple yet majestic creed of which no unprejudiced student can ignore the grandeur that Arabs owed the splendid part which they were destined to play in the history of civilization The Arts of Persia & Other Countries of Islam

The history of the area now known as Iran but often still referred to as Persia spans millennia boasting a rich and complex artistic and cultural legacy Populated since prehistoric times thus making it one of the most animated and lively areas of Islamic civilization this region was home to the first powerful empire lead by Cyrus the Great during the Achaemenid dynasty and influenced the aesthetic grammar of a large portion of central Asia including Armenia Georgia and India Beginning with ancient Iranian civilizations in 500 BC through the Islamic period and on to modern day Iran The Art and Architecture of Persia explores the common characteristics and thematic threads running through Persian art The book presents its readers with archaeological landscapes monuments sculptures carpets and dazzling ornaments and art objects from this stunning artistic milieu The text takes as its subject the most fascinating and unusual facets of the Persian artistic experience in all its phases with a particular focus on post Hellenic culture namely late antiquity and the Middle Ages The Art and Architecture of Persia investigates how the examined regions were incubators of specific artistic developments and identifies how the Iranian passage along the Silk Route acted as a bridge between distant lands for trade and also facilitated the dissemination of religious and material culture The two authors Giovanni Curatola and Gianroberto Scarcia write in an engaging refreshingly accessible manner catering to both the specialist and the novice wishing to immerse themselves in this captivating region and its art Author Scarcia helms the first part of the book covering the era from the Achaemenids to the Sassanids examining the great architecture from Persepolis onward while also addressing the powerful metalwork produced by these cultures The second part by Curatola explores the Islamic period when architectural decoration moved into the forefront with brilliant chromatic effects etched onto massive built works The same colors bloom throughout the other arts including carpets and miniature paintings Dynamic and absorbing the text and its more than 200 color photos will take readers on a virtual tour of this region and the art it has produced over the millennia The Art of Persia Jennifer A.
